

Request for Rifle Club Funds Sent to Senate

A request for student funds for a proposed University rifle team was returned to the ASUO senate and a subcommittee report on student salaries was adopted Saturday by the Student Union and Educational Activities Budget committee.

The budget board, deferred consideration of a request for student funds for the proposed rifle team pending further consideration by the ASUO senate for two reasons: 1) It was the board's feeling that an allocation of funds from the Student Union and Educational Activities budget would constitute support of a minor sport; and 2) the board failed to discern and consensus of student body opinion concerning the rifle team.

Request for Money

The request for funds was made by Carl Groth, Jr., UIS candidate for junior class president and a member of the ROTC rifle team, and Capt. H. D. Wol-aver, representing the military department and non-ROTC students who had expressed a desire to form a rifle team open to all University students.

In a second action the budget board added the Student Union board chairman to the list of those students who receive full salaries. Others are the editors and business managers of the Emerald and the Oregonian, and the ASUO president.

Joint Committee Action

The action was recommended by a joint budget board-ASUO senate subcommittee composed of Sylvia Wingard Bemis, Bob Funk and Pete Williams, representing the budget board, and ASUO President Bob Summers, Germaine LaMarche, Jim Light and Don Rotenberg, representing the senate.

The budget board adopted the principle recommended by the subcommittee that the student body and the University should not be deprived of the services of a qualified student who might be unable to accept an activity position because of the necessity of outside work.

This principle is the basis on which student salaries will be paid in the future.

Room, Board Are Basis

The manner in which salaries are to be computed will be a full year's room and board at Carson hall plus 50 dollars, an approximate average between fraternity-sorority and dormitory living costs.

Under this principle, the present yearly salaries of $636 will be cut to approximately $624.25, according to Bob Summers, ASUO president and spokesman for the budget board.

It was also agreed that all salaries other than the aforementioned full salaries shall be held to a minimum. Such salaries will be computed as a percentage of the full salaries in the cases where they are authorized.

Students Have Voice

The SU and Educational Activities budget committee (Budget Board) was set up last fall in order to give students a voice in the control of student funds.

The committee has three voting faculty members, William Jones, dean of administration; J. O. Lindstrom, University business manager, and Donald DuShane, director of student affairs. A. L. Ellingson, secretary of the committee, is a non-voting member.

Student members are Funk, Mrs. Bemis, Summers and Williams.

WANTED

Prom Loses Band

A broken contract which left the Junior Prom bandless was the cause of a flurry of hurried action this weekend. The junior class had contracted for the 10-piece band of Al Donahue for the Junior Weekend dance.

Late last week they were notified that Donahue would be unable to keep the engagement.

Meanwhile, dance co-chairmen Patty Fagan and Jack Socolofsky, have been working with Sandra Price Rennie, Student Union program director, to obtain another band.

Two Portland bands have been located and the committee is investigating the possibility of getting a better-known California band from one of two agencies. Definite word on the band is expected sometime today.

The agency with which Donahue was contracted is the same one which arranged for Charlie Spivak to play for last year's Prom. The contract fell through in a similar manner and Ernie Field's band was obtained.

The contract with Donahue was signed here April 18 and sent to the agency to be forwarded to Donahue. A telephone call to Mrs. Rennie verified the contract, and Mrs. Rennie was told that if she was not notified by April 22, that the contract would be alright. When she was not notified, it was assumed the contract was in effect, and publicity was released accordingly.

A possibility of legal action against the agency was squelched Sunday night by Bud Hinkson, junior class president. Hinkson reported that while such legal action had been considered, it would not be carried out.

Second Child Dies After Polio Shot

BOISE, Ida. (AP)—The death Sunday of a second Idaho school girl of polio after being inoculated with Salk vaccine from the Cutter laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., was announced by L. J. Peterson, director of the Idaho State Health department.

The child, Janet Lee Kincaid, 7, of Moscow, Ida., died in a Spokane, Wash., hospital.

Susan Pierce, 7, of Pocatello, died of polio last Wednesday.

Peterson said both girls as well as eight other children whose cases have been diagnosed as polio all were inoculated from the same lot of Cutter vaccine.

"This means," he said in discussing the cases, "that the vaccine conceivably could have been a contributing cause. We will not know for sure until exhaustive tests are completed."

Peterson said the Kincaid child was inoculated April 19, came under observation on the 27th and the case pronounced polio on the 29th.

The two fatalities and the eight other cases developed among 33,000 first and second grade children inoculated before the state program was halted last Wednesday.

Idaho now is waiting for a fresh shipment of serum ordered from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis before resuming the inoculations.

Peterson said Idaho got two lots of Cutter serum and that all 10 polio cases were inoculated from the same lot.

Two U.S. Public Health specialists Sunday completed investigations in Lewiston and Moscow and will come to Boise Monday. They are Dr. Gerald Laveck, from Greeley, Colo., and Dr. Karl Ecklund, from Hamilton, Mont.

Tickets Available For Sullivan Show

Tickets are still available in the athletic ticket office for the Ed Sullivan show, Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in McArthur court.

Student prices are $1.50 for third-balcony seats, $2 for north bleachers and $2.50 for the main floor.

All performers have been featured at least twice on Sullivan's Sunday night Toast of the Town television program.

Election Violation May Bring Contest

Any violation of election rules may be grounds for a contested election, ASUO vice-president Hollis Ransom announced Sunday. The election rules have been distributed to each candidate in Wednesday's general elections.

Any election protests will be considered by the constitutional committee.

Polling booths for the elections will be at the Student Union, Co-op, Commonwealth, Friendly, Library, Men's pool (science building in case of rain), square south of the Student Union (Straub, if it rains) and Fenton (steps of Johnson if it rains).

Poll Captains

Poll captains responsible for the general election include Mary Alice Allen, Connie Drury, Janet Ferris, Galen Mills, Sally Ryan, Marcia Webb, Ray Westenhouse and Leighton Wilbur. Two poll clerks will be at each polling booth during each hour the polls are open from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Allen Tate Reads Poetry

Allen Tate, distinguished poet-critic, will read his own poetry for this week's University Radio Forum on KOAC tonight at 8:30 p.m.

In March Tate spoke on the campus as a guest in the University lecture series. Tonight's broadcast will be a recording of one of his appearances then.

E. A. Kretsinger, assistant professor of speech, will be moderator. There will be no panel members, as is usual in this series.

Robert Quentin to Speak Tuesday at 1

Assembly speaker Tuesday will be Robert Quentin, English play director and lecturer. Quentin will speak at 1 p.m. in the SU ballroom.

Recently appointed director of the Shakespearean Festival Theater School at Statford-on-Avon, Quentin has directed plays in many cities across Europe. He has also directed productions in South Africa and Australia.

Educated at Lacing and Oxford, Quentin returned to Oxford as director of its University Experimental Theater club.

Quentin has lectured at the Universities of Wisconsin, Utah, and Colorado, and at the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York City.

Lehi II Now 'Doing Fine'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The five men aboard the drifting raft Lehi II who radioed earlier Sunday night the vessel was "breaking up" some 25 miles off the Monterey Peninsula, coast were reported "doing fine" as they awaited rescue by Coast Guard ships.

Coast Guardsmen in a four-engined P4Y plane circling above the raft while directing the rescue ships asked the Lehi II crewmen at 8:38 p.m. PST, how they were doing. "Doing fine," was the response from the raft.

At 7:09 p.m., 2½ hours earlier, the Coast Guard had received a distress call that the Lehi II was breaking up. The Coast Guard immediately sent the plane out from its San Bruno Air Station and dispatched the cutter Active and another boat from Monterey.

The Coast Guard said the first ship should reach the raft in another hour.

Canoe Fete Tickets Go on Sale Tuesday

A total of 7160 tickets for the Canoe Fete will go on sale Tuesday morning. Bleacher seats will sell for $1.25 and ground seats for $0.50. Helen Ruth Johnson, ticket chairman, announced today that tickets will be sold at the Student Union, the Co-op, Eugene Lions club, Active club, Kiwanis club, and through Old Oregon, the alumni magazine.

No complimentary tickets will be issued. Participants in the show and riders on the floats must all purchase tickets.

Construction work on the bleacher seating continued Friday afternoon. The Delta Upsilon fraternity finished the first bank of bleachers and Lambda Chi Alpha men worked on the next bank. The 4160 bleachers to be erected should be up Tuesday. The Sigma Chi pledges will begin the last work that morning. Saturday the Phi Sigma Kappa men worked most of the day getting much of the scheduled work done earlier than had been expected. Jerry Maxwell, property set-up chairman, and Jack Marsh, assistant, plan to bring the 1200 portable type bleachers from Springfield high school to the millrace early in the week.

Barges for the floats which will flow down the millrace Saturday, April 14, were distributed to the houses Saturday morning and the houses will start basic construction work this week. The floats will be built around themes of Canoe Fetes and Junior Weekends of the past. Fifteen floats will appear in the show, which is centered around the

Search Continues For 'Fete' Tickets

If you have recently received 7160 tickets to the 1955 Canoe Fete please call Helen Ruth Johnson at the Chi Omega house.

This is no joke. "The mail must go through," but this time it went too far. Somehow the tickets for the Canoe Fete did not arrive at their assigned designation after leaving the University Press via interdepartmental mail.

The tickets were to be delivered to the Student Union and were to go on sale today. A search party is now covering the campus for 7160 tickets to the 1955 Canoe Fete on the Millrace.

history of the millrace. A Queen's float and the comic float will not be in the competition. Musical background for each of the floats will be provided by the University Singers and the University orchestra.
