At Alpha Delta Pi

Alpha Delta Pi's honored their housemother, Mrs. Florence Tuft with a tea at the chapter house Sunday afternoon. She is retiring at the end of spring term after serving as housemother for seven years.

A pinning and an engagement have also taken place recently. Alice Kihn became pinned to Jim England at the Kappa Sigma house dance Saturday evening. Freshman Anne Baakkonen revealed her engagement at the house last Monday, to Bob West of the United States Navy.

At Alpha Omicron Pi

Janet Filbeit announced her engagement to her sorority sisters last Thursday evening. Using candy kisses and miniature felt cats, she revealed her engagement to SAE Denny Rapp. The couple plans to be married November 26 in Portland. They will reside in Eugene while the Mr. Rapp finishes school.

At Carson Hall

Joan Dennis is pinned to Jim Peak of Lambda Chi Alpha, and Betty Weed is wearing the Sigma Nu pin of Tom Warnock.

At Delta Gamma

Pat Deeney is in the romantic spotlight at the DG house with her recent pinning to Tom Moreland of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

At Kappa Alpha Theta

Freshman Fay Campbell is wearing the Alpha Tau Omega pin of Gordon Bradley.

At Chi Omega

Gail Johnson, a Chi Omega on campus last year, returned to reveal her engagement. She announced her engagement to Roger Clapp of Santa Barbara, California, with the traditional candle lighting ceremony Saturday night after closing hours. Miss Johnson is now living in Salem.

At Alpha Phi

Alpha Phi's were told of Camille Wold's engagement to Gordon Marker, Kappa Sig, after closing hours Sunday. Miss Wold used a marine motif with miniature fish poles and fish to announce the date of her coming marriage which is July 31.

At Kappa Kappa Gamma

Carol Huggins, a Kappa here last year, now attending the University of California, returned to this campus last week to visit her former sorority sisters and to reveal her recent pinning. She is pinned to George Trabert, Delta Sigma, also of the University of California. Two other pinnings took place recently at the Kappa house. Pat Lewis announced her pinning to Jack Jennings, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Thursday at dinner, and Em Overhulse announced her pinning to Ralph Vranizan, Phi Delta Theta, Sunday at dinner.

At Pi Beta Phi

The past weekend was crowded with excitement for Freshman Kathy Dotterer, as she was initiated and announced her engagement to Jay Vahl, a former Alpha Tau Omega on campus and now stationed at Fort Devens in Massachusetts. No date has been set. Others initiated were Jody Klahre and Sue Chaffee.

Kwama Scholarship Petitions Due Today

Today at 5 p.m. is the deadline for turning in applications for Kwama scholarships according to Helen Ruth Johnson, president.

Petitions may be obtained from the office of Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, associate Director of Student Affairs. They should also be returned to this office.

The awards will be made on the basis of need, scholarship, activities, and character. Last year Kwama gave 10 scholarships amounting to one hundred dollars apiece.

Recipients of the scholarships will be announced later this term at the AWS honors assembly.

Scholarships Open For Sophomore Women

Deadline for Phi Theta Upsilon scholarship applications is Thursday at 5 p.m. Applications may be picked up at Mrs. Wickham's office and should be returned there.

Any sophomore woman is eligible to apply for a scholarship.

Junior Women Eligible To Enter Vogue Contest

Junior college women have a chance to win $1000 cash, or two weeks in Paris, plus top consideration for a job on the world's leading fashion magazine.

Entrants are now being accepted for Vogue's famous Prix de Paris Contest. If you're going to be a senior next year, and you're dreaming of a career in writing, publishing, advertising, merchandising, or decorating, you have until October 15 to enter this contest.

The first prize is $1000 cash, or two weeks in Paris, flying both ways, all expenses paid. The second prize is $500 cash. Each of ten honorable mentions winners will receive $25 cash. These first twelve will receive top consideration for jobs on Vogue, Glamour, House & Garden, Vogue Pattern Book, and Vogue Knitting Book. The next fifty top ranking contestants will be recommended to stores, advertising agencies, and other magazines.

Using Vogue as a textbook, Prix de Paris competitors complete two quizzes of four questions each, based on actual editorial problems. Writing ability, grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality and demonstrations of special talents are the points on which contestants are judged.

Enrollment blanks are available upon request from the Prix de Paris Director, Vogue, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Delta Zeta Holds State Convention

Oregon chapters of Delta Zeta sorority held their State Convention here at Omega chapter April 30. One hundred members and alumnae attended.

Registration and coffee hour preceded an 11 a.m. panel discussion moderated by Mrs. Charles Derthick of Salem. Panel members were Dorothy Allen, Eugene; Ann Roderick, Corvallis; Mrs. Elaine Wensley, Salem, and Mrs. Helen Bolts, Portland. Panel topics included the new administrative system of National Delta Zeta and sorority relationships with the community.

Feature of the luncheon held in the Erb Memorial Student Union was the announcement of the Outstanding Delta Zeta Alumnae in Oregon. The award was presented to Mrs. Kenneth S. Wood of Eugene by the last recipient, Mrs. Joseph Leveton of Portland. Mrs. Wood has served as Omega chapter adviser for the past nine years.

Guest speaker for the luncheon was Mrs. Frederic Young of Portland. She spoke on "Effective Use of Womanpower," emphasizing the growing importance of women's activities in contemporary society. She asked that women not refer to themselves as "just housewives," but as "homemakers," thereby pointing out the true value of this challenging role. A homemaker, Mrs. Young stressed, did more than household chores. A homemaker serves her family by meeting her civic responsibilities, joining women's organizations and participating in local affairs.
