AGS swept to an overwhelming victory in Wednesday's all-campus elections with presidential candidate Bud Hinkson leading the way with a decisive win over UIS aspirant, Sam Vahey.

Hinkson picked up a total of 1047 votes to triumph over Vahey by 280 votes. The UIS candidate had a total of 767 tallies.

AGS won all the class presidencies and collected six of the nine senator-at-large spots.

Brandenfels Wins

Martin Brandenfels won over Kip Wharton of UIS in the senior class president race by a 265-100 margin. Representative candidates Patty Fagan of AGS and Sam Frear of UIS picked up 20 and five number one votes respectively in the race even though they qualified for office automatically.

Doug Basham was an easy winner over UIS's Carl Groth for junior class president by a span of 348-90. Sally Jo Greig of AGS had 26 number one votes and Charlie Parker of UIS five more as candidates for representative.

The most decisive win of the day was scored by AGS's Jim Lynch in the sophomore class president contest. Lynch snared a total of 486 votes to Dale Babama's 71.

Representative Contest

In the only representative race with any contest involved Jim Hilands of AGS and a non-partisan Betty Herrman came out with the two spots over Sam Whitney of UIS. In number one votes Hilands had 36, Miss Herrman 20 and Whitney 14. Hilands got a necessary quota of 126 easily on the transfer of Lynch's votes and Miss Herrman did the same when Hilands extra votes were distributed.

AGS's "three Bs," Darrel Brittsan, Brian Booth and Louie Blue did as expected as they were the first three to qualify for senator-at-large posts. Brittsan, after collecting nine number one votes in the presidential election, reached a required quota of

Co-op Elects

Chuck Cowen won out in a close race for the sophomore membership on the Co-op board of directors and Keith Barker and Shirley McLean won the junior board spots in Wednesday's elections.

In by far the closest contest of the whole election, Cowen defeated Lee Blaesing by only five votes, 287-282. The other candidate, Joyce Jacobson, had 226 votes.

In the race for the two junior memberships Barker was the top vote-getter with 378 and Miss McLean was second with 312. Nancy Adams with 285, Linda Lundy with 271 and Lynn Adelsperger with 205 were the other candidates.

Booth, who had 20 number one votes, also went out on Hinkson's transfer.

Mitchelmore Makes It

Solicitation, Publicity Policies in SU Changed

The Student Union Board approved an addition to its policy on solicitations and publicity campaigns at a meeting Wednesday.

The addition reads as follows: All solicitations must be on a voluntary basis, with no personal pressure on the users of the Student Union.

Ten directorate committee chairmen were temporarily nominated pending approval by O. Meredith Wilson, University president.

Coffee Hour Forum

Ann Petterson was nominated for Coffee Hour forum chairman. Miss Petterson, a freshman, stated that attendance is the biggest problem at the coffee hours.

Nominated for Browsing room chairman was Mollie Monroe, a freshman. She felt that the whole Student Union and especially the Browsing room heads, need more publicity.

Personnel

Marlis Claussen, a sophomore, was nominated for personnel committee chairman. She suggested that for better co-ordination, a designated member from the personnel committee should attend all major meetings of other directorate committees.

Darlene Leland, a freshman, was nominated for Movie committee chairman. Freshmen should have better orientation about the Student Union, she said, and suggested that personally contacting them might create more enthusiasm.

Publicity

Marcia Mauney was nominated for Publicity committee chairman. Miss Mauney, a sophomore, said that there could be better co-ordination on the publicity committee to eliminate overlapping of jobs.

Nominated for chairman of the Music committee was Jeanne Scales, a sophomore. She suggested that the chimes selections be turned in at the beginning of the semester next year, and that the Barbershop Quartet be started earlier to avoid a last-minute rush.

Craig Clark, a junior, was nominated for Recorded Music committee chairman. He said that the directorate committees should work together more.

Public Relations

Karen Johnson, a freshman, was nominated for Public Relations Committee chairman. The hospitality section of that committee should participate in every Student Union function when needed, and the women on hospitality should wear uniform apparel, she said.

Art Gallery committee chairman nominated was Paula Smith, a freshman. A more diversified program with exhibits up for shorter periods of time should make the committee members and chairmen more enthusiastic, she said.

Barbara Berwick, a freshman, was nominated for Dance committee chairman.
