

Eisenhower Outlines US Policy on China

By ED CREAUGH
of The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower outlined Wednesday a "wait and see" policy for dealing with Communist China on a possible cease-fire in the Formosa Strait region.

The President also told a news conference this country has no present intention of stationing big or permanent land forces on Formosa to help Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek defend that Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Reds to Give Clue

And he said he expected the Chinese Reds to provide ample clues as to their intentions if they strike at the offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy. This country has indicated its readiness to defend those islands if the Reds attack them as a prelude to moving against Formosa.

Eisenhower was brief and almost casual in his discussion of the Far Pacific situation. His manner as much as his words suggested he may regard the tension there as having relaxed somewhat in recent days.

Vaccine Distribution

Plainly, the big thing on his mind Wednesday was the smallpox vaccine—its proper distribution and safe use. He volunteered the comment that he's strongly for the present voluntary distribution system. But the White House announced later authority will be asked for the government to buy up vaccine, if necessary, to put it where it's needed. The President pledged that no child will ever go without the vaccine because of lack of money.

Eisenhower was asked by Marvin Arrowsmith of The Associated Press if there has been any progress in the past week toward arranging any cease-fire negotiations with the Chinese Reds, and he replied:

"No. As a matter of fact, as far as this country is concerned,

ROTC Inspection Planned for Today

Five officers from the Oregon Military district, Vancouver Barracks, Wash., will be on campus today and Friday to conduct a special federal inspection of the Army ROTC department.

Col. Martin Moshberger, deputy chief of the district, is in charge of the inspection. Four members of his staff will assist him. They are Lt. Col. Frederick C. Roecker, Maj. Donald W. Curley and Capt. Laverne H. Walker.

The officers will inspect during the drill period this afternoon and will attend many classes both days they are here.

In addition to their inspection activities the officers will also visit Dean P. B. Jacobson of the school of education and President O. Meredith Wilson during their stay.

Army advanced students will honor the officers at a reception in the Student Union today at 4:15 p.m.

we are sort of in a wait and see attitude. There are, as you know, a number of countries that are interested themselves in this, and are conducting explorations. But there is really nothing new to report."

The President's answer tended to bear out a belief in Washington that the government is holding up any action of its own pending mediation efforts by Britain, Pakistan and India.

No Major Base

As for stronger efforts to bolster Formosa's defenses, Eisenhower said the United States has "small elements" there now and "there has been no suggestion made that we would put in a big major base."

On another matter relating to foreign policy, the President said he is delighted that West Germany is about to line up as a sovereign member of the Western community. This may ease the "tragic" hostility that has existed between France and Germany, he said, and may start Europe on a new era of prosperity and security.

Postal Pay Raise

On domestic affairs, the President declined to say whether he would veto the 8.8 per cent postal pay raise agreed upon by Senate-House conferees Tuesday. He said he's study the bill and make his decision promptly. Previously he has refused to sanction an increase of more than 7.6 per cent.

Asked if he cared to comment on farm problems, Eisenhower said with a grin that he'd be delighted to.

Hinkson Wins

Ritchey of AGS made the grade on the distribution of a losing candidate's votes.

None of the rest of the winning senators reached the necessary quota but won their positions after all but nine people were eliminated from the race. The last four to make it and their totals after 11 transfers were Ann Erickson of AGS—150, Mary Claire Allen of UIS—147, Richard McDaniel of UIS—136 and Rob Roy of AGS—128.

A total of 1939 students voted in the election this year as compared to 1841 last year.

Economics Professor Will Attend Meeting

Paul Kleinsorge, professor of economics, will attend a meeting on statistics of labor-management relations in Asilomar, California May 11-13.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Pacific Coast committee on social statistics, a division of the Social Science Research council and the Institute of Industrial Relations of the University of California. About 35 people from the Pacific Coast will be in attendance.

OSC Fraternities Conduct Help Day

CORVALLIS (AP)—The third annual Help Day will be conducted by Oregon State college fraternities Saturday.

More than 300 fraternity men are expected to begin work at 6:30 a.m. at Avery park, the Children's Farm Home and local churches. Sorority members plan to bring lunches to the students at work.

As in past years they will plant lawns, wash windows, paint and do general clean-up work.

Morse Introduces Tariff Proposal

PORTLAND (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) has acted to give Congress the final word on proposals by the Tariff Commission.

Legislation introduced Tuesday by Morse would require that recommendations of the Tariff Commission rejected by the President be referred to Congress with his reason for the rejection. A resolution by either branch of Congress within 90 days could require that a proposal be followed.

Lumber Workers Strike in Coos Bay

COOS BAY (AP)—Some 1250 plywood and lumber mill workers were off the job in the Coos Bay area Wednesday following a strike at the Coos Bay Lumber company's plywood plant.

Picketing at two nearby mills run by the company resulted in a shut-down when employees refused to cross the picket lines.

Max Swerking, business agent for AFL local 2691, Lumber and Sawmill Workers union, said the strike was called because the company had not recognized seniority and ability in filling a dryer-operator job. Workers at the other two plants are represented by CIO unions.

In the absence of J. W. Forrester, head of the lumber company, a personnel official said the company would have no comment.
