

State-Aided Colleges Receive Tuition Boost

New tuition fees will go into effect next fall for all Oregon state supported colleges and universities. Resident tuition will be raised $10; non-resident, $20.

The action was recently taken by the state board of higher education because of budget reductions made by the legislature and increasing costs.

The raise in fees will bring resident student tuition at the University to $65 a term. Non-resident students will pay $135 a term.

Same at OSC and PSC

Resident rates will be $65 at Oregon State college and Portland State. The colleges of education at Monmouth, La Grande and Ashland will have a tuition of $50.

At the University Medical school the rates are as follows: Undergraduate medical students, $178; graduates, $51; nursing undergraduates, $50; medical technology students, $57; dental school undergraduates, $173, and graduates, $49.

Lindstrom Comments

Orville Lindstrom, business manager, commented that the tuition boost would undoubtedly affect some less wealthy students. He added that more boosts will be necessary in the future to combat rising costs and that finally a point will be reached when the enrollment will definitely be affected.

"What that point is no one knows," Lindstrom said. "But if tuition costs keep rising, it is bound to hurt the poorer students. The way to help them is by scholarships."

Taking part in the meeting, his first, was Bernard Mainwaring, editor of the Salem Capital Journal, who was appointed to membership on the board Monday. He replaced G. F. Chambers, who resigned.

Listening In ... On KWAX

- 6:00 Sign On
- 6:03 Dinner Hour Serenade
- 6:45 News Till Now
- 7:00 U of O Workshop Players
- 7:30 Sports Shots
- 7:45 Radio Nederland
- 8:00 Tour de France
- 8:15 U.N. Story
- 8:30 Navy Bandstand
- 8:45 Guest Star
- 9:00 Kwaxworks
- 10:55 Final Edition
- 11:00 Sign Off

Travel and Study Announces Tours

Travel and Study, Inc., of New York City has announced six student tours which are scheduled for this summer.

All five of the excursions are to Europe or the Near East and the cost of each will be about $760 per person.

One of the most popular tours is an art, music and theater trip which will be led by William Vorenberg, a professor at New York university. The other five are:

1. A foreign assignment tour for journalism, current affairs and industrial and business management students.
2. A fashion tour for students interested in studying sources of fashion creation.
3. A Scandinavian tour will be mainly for students interested in observing the social development

Emerald to Publish 'Weekend' Edition

A special Junior Weekend edition of the Emerald will be published Saturday featuring weekend events. The 12-page issue will be delivered to living organizations early Saturday morning.

The Emerald's publication schedule calls for five issues a week. This is the reason why there was no Monday Emerald.

in the Northern countries.

4. A tour giving those taking it a comprehensive view of Spain.
5. A Holy Land tour which will provide an opportunity for visits and study of Western Civilization.

People desiring information on any of the tours should write to Travel and Study, Inc., 110 E. 57th St., New York City 22, New York.

Down Migs

LT. BERT PHYTHON, left, of Wadsworth, Ohio, and Lt. J. E. McInerney, right, of Garden City, New York, are two of the three US Air Force pilots who shot down two Communist Migs and probably a third of North Korea, the Air Force announced recently. The announcement said eight Sabres were jumped by a larger number of Migs—12 to 16—over international waters of the Yellow Sea. (AP Wirephoto)

Private Libraries Due Friday Noon

Friday noon is the deadline for entries in the annual student private library contest to be held Saturday.

A total of $200 in prizes will be given to winners in the four categories. First place winner in each group will receive $25. Second and third prizes are $15 and $10, respectively.

The categories are undergraduate student's general library, undergraduate's specialized library, graduate student's general library and graduate's specialized library.

The library, which may consist of any amount of titles, does not have to include only comparatively new issues. Worn and old books will be considered carefully.

Students interested in entering the contest should contact Bernice Rise, browsing room librarian.

A panel of seven judges will judge each category.

Today's Staff

Makeup Editor: Valerie Hersh.
 News Desk: Bob Robinson.
 Copy Desk: Dotty Griffith,
 Marna Gehrman.
 Night Staff: Janet Kneeland.

Frosh Victors In Tug of War

(Continued from page one)

McKenney, Dan Lees, Jim Green, Jack Jennings, Tom Montgomery, Fred Wilcox, George Gildersleeve, Bob Anderson, Jack Hendrickson, John Ramos, Paul Johnson, Jim Laughton, Ken Kesey, Cliff Halverson, Jack Radich, Emerson Hamilton, Dick Carothers, Jim Sopp, Quincy Powers, Jack Courtemanche, Bill Moore and Don McLain.

Many wet, but happy freshmen men experienced their first event of Junior Weekend in a grand flourish of style for all onlookers. There was a small percentage of women spectators who seemed to disappear as soon as things started getting damp.

Reid also announced that violators of traditions must report to Fenton pool at 12:30 today to be dunked. They are, Fritze Woolen, Ben Beadle, Sue Cosgrave, Carol Mattson, Mary Leash, Joan Palmer, Frances Heitkemper and Judy Louchs.

READ EMERALD WANT ADS

Russell's
 "EUGENE'S OWN STORE"
 Always the place
 to find your Favorite Shoes

By
JOYCE
SPALDING
Sbicca
 CALIFORNIA

S. & H. Green Stamps with Purchases

A Real Treat for MOM or DATE . . .

A DELICIOUS
Barbecued Dinner
 Grilled to Perfection

PIT BARBECUE GRILL
 IN SPRINGFIELD

416 MAIN ST. PHONE 6-9176

NOW UNDER THE SINGLE OWNERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT OF C. R. "STEVE" STEVENS

JUNIOR WEEKEND SPECIAL

Corsage - 3 Orchids
 (Cymbediums)

$ 2.50 And Up

The Smart Birds Are Getting Their Flowers NOW!

For the Prom from Flowers Unlimited For Your Mom

193 East Broadway Or Phone 4-6244

Our Representative in the Co-op