

Honor Assembly To Be Held Today

The women's honors assembly to be held today at 1 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom will honor outstanding University of Oregon women with recognition and scholarships.

Entertainment at the assembly will be provided by the winners of the All-Campus Sing, Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Bud Hinkson will act as master of ceremonies for the AWS-sponsored assembly. Jane Bergstrom, AWS president, will make the introduction for the assembly.

A large group of scholarships offered by both campus and off-campus organizations will be presented. Leading off the awards of scholarships will be the presentation of the Phi Theta Upsilon scholarships. Kwama scholarships will be presented following the Phi Theta presentations.

Straub Fire Squelched

An early morning fire Monday in Straub hall was squelched by the city fire department before any extensive damage was done.

The blaze, which apparently originated in a basement trash can, broke out at 8:03 a.m. The fire department reported Monday afternoon that it is believed that a burning cigarette, thrown in the can, was probably the cause of the fire.

Smoke caused the only damage to the building and this was only slight, according to the department.

Mysterious Caller Returns Lost Cup

Burt Brown Barker's plea at the All-Campus Sing for the return of the women's scholarship cup produced almost immediate results.

A mysterious phone call after closing hours Saturday night told girls at University house that the trophies which had been missing for six months had been returned.

Five trophies, including the scholarship cup, had been taken from the house one Saturday evening in November. Contacts were made with past cup lifters, but all denied any part of the affair. The cups were eventually given up for lost.

Third Win

Barker, vice-president emeritus, announced at the sing that the scholarship cup had been won by Uni house for the third straight year and was now theirs to keep—if they could find it. Those few words were enough.

A few hours later an unidentified male caller suggested the girls check their doorstep. There were the cups, unharmed and carefully packed in Easter basket grass in a cardboard box.

The next day Uni house mothers presented the girls funds for a door and a lock to a trophy case.

Bob Maier will present the scholarship which was raised from the funds from student fines collected by the traffic court.

The Co-op book scholarships will be presented by Annell Anderson.

Awarded to an upper-division member of a University sorority will be the Margerry Thompson Reynolds scholarship of $165. The scholarship is awarded by Panhellenic.

Gail West, president of heads of houses, will award the Hazel Schewing, scholarship which is awarded in honor of this past dean of women. The money for this scholarship is raised by the women of the University through exchange dinners each term.

The scholarships offered by Delta Delta Delta will be awarded by Alyce Atherton.

Each year Quota and Zonta, business women's honorary, offer scholarships to University of Oregon women. This year the scholarships will be presented to the winners at the honors assembly by Mrs. Edward Ruby, representing Quota, and Mrs. Delcina Elliot, representing Zonta.

Also to be presented at the assembly will be the Peter Pauper Press award. This award goes to the winner of the essay contest sponsored by the Browsing room.

Jean McPherson, president of Junior Panhellenic, will present the women's pledge class with the highest grades for fall and winter term with the Junior Panhellenic plaque.

The Carston Cup, which goes to the outstanding girl of Carson hall will be presented by Ruth Lear, Carson president.

Mary Cary, Hendricks counselor, will present the Hendricks plaque to the girl selected as most outstanding from that organization.

Bud Hinkson will introduce the group he has selected for next year to act in the ASUO cabinet.

Both old and new members of Kwama, Phi Theta Upsilon and Mortar Board will be introduced at the assembly. All members of these organizations are to wear their uniforms and sit in the sections of the ballroom designated for them.

The assembly will close with the singing of the Oregon pledge song led by Audrey Mistretta.

Violinist, Pianist To Present Recital

Robert Groth, violinist, and Varda Ullman, pianist, will present a sonata recital this evening in the school of music auditorium, at 8 p.m. Groth is a graduate assistant on the violin, working towards his master's degree, and Varda is a senior in music at the University.

They will perform in their concert "Fugue in G minor," by Bach; several movements from Egge's 1932 "Sonata," and Claude Debussy's "Sonata." Their closing number will be "Sonata, Opus 12, No. 1," by Beethoven.

Tickets Go on Sale For 'Kiss Me Kate'

Tickets for the University Theater spring musical, "Kiss Me Kate," are on sale now at the theater box office from 1 through 5 p.m. each day. There are still a few tickets available for every night including the opening performance.

Tickets are selling for $2. Season ticket holders may purchase ducats for $1 plus a stub from their season ticket. Reservations may be made by calling ext. 401 or 5-1511.

'Fete' Cleanup Job To Begin Tuesday

Even though the Canoe Fete is now in the past, there is still work to be done. The amphitheater built for the site of the Fete must be torn down and the bleachers must be returned.

Work begins at 8 a.m. Tuesday. Assistant chairmen, Al Morris and Jack Marsh will supervise loading and unloading of material. Jerry Maxwell, property set-up chairman, will supervise the tearing down of the bleachers.

Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Alpha Mu begin work Tuesday morning under supervision of Jerry Urness and Irwin Kaplin respectively.

The remaining schedule is as follows:

Tuesday afternoon: Pi Kappa Alpha, Dick Bock, chairman, and Tau Kappa Epsilon, Pat Eaton, chairman.

Thursday morning: Beta Theta Pi, Bob Morrell.

Thursday afternoon: Phi Gamma Delta, Dan Lees; Pi Kappa Phi, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Jerry Farrow.

Maxwell stated Monday night that co-operation so far has been good and he is "quite sure co-operation and spirit for cleaning up the job will continue."

UO Concert Band Plans Outdoor Pops Concert

A twilight outdoor pops concert Thursday evening at 7 p.m. will mark the University concert band's final appearance of the year. The concert will be held in the garden theater on the east side of the school of music, where seating is available.

Several new works will be featured, including "Celebration Overture," by Paul Creston. Two movements of a Mexican folk song symphony, "La Fiesta Mexicana," by H. Owen Reed, will receive their first northwest performance.

Also planned are a number of lighter works, including selections of Jerome Kern melodies, "Bugler's Holiday," by Leroy Anderson features cornet solos by Marshall Pallett, James Albert and Vondis Miller and trumpet solos by Larry Meyers, Jack Sluss and Jack Murphy.

"Two Etudes" will feature the clarinet and cornet sections. Also planned are "Italian Polka," by Rachmaninoff and the love scene from the opera "Boris Godounov," by Moussorskysky.

Three marches will conclude the

Renewed Fete Called Success

By Sue Lamb
Emerald Reporter

The 1955 Canoe Fete is over. Only the cleaning up and reports are left to be done.

Behind the scenes of this year's revival of the famous Oregon tradition are the University students who spent months organizing and directing the Fete plans.

Bob Schooling, graduate student in business, and Jim Light, senior in pre-law, received many a handshake and congratulations on a job well done after the Fete Sunday night. As general co-chairmen of the steering committee, Schooling and Light organized, supervised, and even pounded nails into the floats just before the show started.

In an interview with Schooling Monday night, he stated the "performance of the students in staging the Canoe Fete, despite razing and change of schedule, demonstrated among other things, their enthusiasm for mill-race restoration.

Fete Influence

Asked what he thought the influence of the Fete would have on future junior weekends, Schooling said:

"I don't think we'll ever go back to a float parade down town. We've struck a definite blow toward restoration of the race and it's now a question of 'when' it will be restored—not 'if' it will be restored."

The Fete proved an excellent example of what the University students can do.

Men and women from all the houses building floats worked diligently Sunday afternoon re-fitting parts of their floats that had been damaged by Saturday's rain. In evidence of the whole University's co-operation in the Fete was Bob Smith, dietician of the Student Union, who brought hot coffee down to the

Tickets Refunded

All Campus Sing and Canoe Fete tickets will be refunded to those who were unable to attend due to change in schedule at the Student Union Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

construction area for the hard working students.

"The one student who contributed most to the success of the Canoe Fete was Jerry Maxwell," stated Schooling.

Maxwell as property setup chairman arranged for and constructed the bleachers, the stage, the ropes and aisle ways. His work did not finish when the Fete ended; he is responsible for taking down the stage and the bleachers, and making sure the entire area is cleaned up. The unsung heroes working with Maxwell on his many jobs were Al Morris and Jack Marsh, property set-up assistants.

To the faculty advisors Howard Ramey, Robert Horn and Si Ellingson, the committee extends its sincere thanks. Guiding the student effort, they furnished know-how and mature advice.

The outstanding music of the University orchestra under the direction of E. A. Cykler, and the University Singers directed by M. D. Risinger created the perfect setting for the Fete.

Thanks to Chairmen

The committee also thanks Bob Chambers, who did such an excellent job of narrating the Fete program. Credit for the program goes to Jackie Densmore Jackson and Janet Wick. Gordon French was responsible for the technicalities of producing the Fete. Along with Ramey he worked out the lighting system and the sound problems.

Sally Jo Greig and Darrell Brittsan were responsible for the beautiful floats that made up the extravaganza on the race. Their work began in December with problems of how to build the floats so they could be kept from year to year, how to propel them down the race, and making the rules and specifications for actual construction of the floats.

The difficult job of judging the 13 floats was left up to Cliff Neilson, president of the Eugene Active club; Mrs. O. Meredith Wilson, wife of the University president; Robert Wilmsen, Eugene architect; Henry Feyher, Eugene photographer, and Mayor Ed Johnson.

Author Attends

Thanks also go to Robin H. Nelson, author of the Fete theme, "As I Sit and Dream at Evening," for attending this first revival of the Canoe Fete and for presenting the winning trophies.

Heleen Ruth Johnson was responsible for the tickets—printing, selling and accounting for them. Kip Wharton and Ward Cook,

Business Students Given Scholarships

Kenneth Bosanko, junior, and Robert Parker, senior, both majors in business administration, have been awarded scholarships of $700 each.

Known as Republic Carloading and Distributing company scholarships, they were awarded at the Thursday night banquet of Delta Nu Alpha, national transportation honorary. The awards are presented annually to outstanding juniors and seniors in the field of traffic management and transportation in the school of business administration.

Speakers at the banquet, held in the Student Union, were K. C. Batchelder, traffic manager of the West Coast Lumbermen's association; Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, and University President O. Meredith Wilson.

Lecturer Will Talk About 'Boccaccio'

"Boccaccio" will be the topic of the browsing room lecture to be held Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Student Union.

The lecturer for this week's program will be Chandler Beall, professor of the romance languages. This will be the next to last lecture which will be given this school year.

Discussion leader for the lecture will be R. C. Gordon, assistant professor of English.
