Special Rush Period Planned for Fall Term

By Anne Ritchey

A special rush period, for women above second-term freshman standing, will be held next fall before New Student Week.

It will begin Saturday, Sept. 17, and end Monday, Sept. 19. Open house will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the beginning day.

Signup for the special rushing will begin immediately, and should be done in Mrs. Wickham's office before students leave for the summer, according to Olivia Tharaldson, Panhellenic president.

The women who participate in this rushing period will stay in Carson hall starting Sept. 17, and will be able to move out Sept. 19 or 20.

They will live on the second floor, so will not interfere with freshmen women, who will move in Sept. 18. Upperclasswomen who will live on the second floor will not be able to register until Sept. 21, Wednesday, so will probably not fill the second floor from the beginning of the week.

"This rush period should operate to the mutual benefit of transfer students and old students here, and the sororities," according to Mrs. Wickham.

Regular rushing for freshman women, will begin Friday of New Student week and end the following Tuesday, which is preference night.

Conservatives Win

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Anthony Eden and the Conservative party scored a smashing victory in Thursday's election.

They won a new five-year term with an indicated house of commons majority of 50 or more seats, against the scant 17-seat margin they had in the last parliament.

Students, Faculty Affected by Bills

By Don Osborne
Emerald Reporters

Six bills were passed during the last meeting of the Oregon legislature which will directly and indirectly affect students and faculty members of the University.

The faculty benefited by the passing of Senate Bill 47 which grants retirement privileges to University employees. J. O. Lindstrom, business manager, said that the bill "is a great advantage to employees and a very fine arrangement for securing faculty personnel." The benefits start after 35 years of service and amount to about one half of the employee's average wage during the time employed by the University.

Architecture to Gain

The Legislature, under House Bill 731, granted the University $550,000 which will provide for a new extension to the architecture building. Plans are now underway and construction will begin next spring. The new addition will be north of the science building and will adjoin the old heating plant with the architecture building.

House Bill 398 enabled the University to increase the amount of bonded indebtedness that the state board of higher education can incur for self liquidating projects such as dormitories and married students' housing. Plans for a new dormitory, to be built east of the Virgil D. Earl dormitory on the tennis court block, are now under consideration.

A study of married student housing facilities showed recently that despite the fact that there now is housing for 375 families, by 1963 250 to 350 more units will be needed.

Need May Decline

Senate Bill 302, abolishing the state law of compulsory physical education will have little immediate effect on the University. The state board has established almost identical laws as the state maintained on compulsory education. If, however, the board is unable to enforce these laws then the need for PE instructors may decline.

The reduction of the budget request, House Bill 70, by the state board of higher education resulted in a raise in tuition fees for students attending state institutions. A ten dollars per quarter increase was incurred on resident students and $20 on non-residents.

The sixth bill, House Bill 12, passed by the Legislature affects University personnel. It provides for the deduction of two cents per day from employees to provide for better insurance coverage for employees and their families. The deduction formerly amounted to one cent per day.
