

IFC Postpones Action

 chairman of the investigating committee. The suggestions to be considered by the Senate are the support a large portion of the activities for which the pre-freshman week account is now used by the Student Union and Educational Activities fund. This would include the publication of the OreNter by the student publications board.

To Continue Contributions
 IFC would continue to contribute to the account, but in a reduced amount, probably within the range of $400 to $600.

The recommendations were a result of the IFC committee's conference with Donald DuShane, director of student affairs, and Ray Hawk, associate director of student affairs and IFC adviser. Jim Martin, Delta Upsilon; Leighton Wilbur, Phi Sigma Kappa; Jack Socolofsky, Beta Theta Pi, and Kent Dorwin, Sigma Chi and IFC president, served on the committee.

Account Is Worthwhile
 The committee agreed that the pre-freshman week account was useful and worthwhile to the University, but objected to the fraternity system bearing the costs of such activities when the whole student body benefits from them.

They agreed that fraternity contribution to help defray the expenses of student affairs personnel who are engaged in IFC business was desirable and justifiable.

Currently some money is expended from the fund for this purpose.

Boarders Assessed
 In other business, IFC passed a constitutional amendment on boarders and set up a program for an IFC communal contributions fund.

It took two regular meetings to approve the constitutional revision, which established a policy for boarders. No policy has been set up previously.

The new policy, as approved by IFC, requires all boarders to register with the office of student affairs by the start of rush week. All boarders who wish to pledge are expected to go through rush week. Who boards, and the length of time they board, will be at the discretion of the fraternity. Foreign students will not be considered as boarders.

Groups to Petition
 The program for the contributions fund calls for each fraternity to contribute $2 per capita, based on the house roster and including freshmen, to an IFC fund.

Charitable groups desiring contributions from the fraternities would be required to petition to a permanent committee. The committee would recommend to the IFC which petitions should be considered, and if granted, all would be for the same amount.

Final vote on acceptance of the program was postponed until the first IFC meeting next fall. It was proposed by a committee headed by Irwin Caplan, Sigma Alpha Mu and IFC secretary-treasurer.

Caplan, and his committee of Gordon Nobriga, Phi Kappa Sigma; Bob Lawson, Chi Psi, and Len Overholser, Delta Tau Delta, suggested the program to eliminate solicitations in the fraternities and to standardize contributions.

Bowling Trophies
 In final actions, the IFC voted to convert the present intramural bowling trophy into an official all-intramural trophy to replace the one lost by Phi Delta Theta. The Phi Deltas agreed to pay for the cost of the new figurines. Presentation of the trophy will be made at the IFC retreat fall term.

A request for men to complete the removal of the barrels used in the canoe fete floats was made by Darrel Brittsan, Sigma Phi Epsilon president. Sigma Chi volunteered men to work this afternoon on the project.

A suggestion that IFC limit pre-rush week meal invitations resulted in no decision.

Plans Announced For '56 RE Week

A Parliament of World Religions, the first to be held since 1951, will be held in conjunction with next year's Religious Evaluation Week, Jan. 22 through 29.

Religions represented in the last such program, which was for the University's 75th year, included Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Islam, Judaism, Protestant, Catholic and Eastern Orthodox Christianity.

This original 'Parliament' was sponsored by the faculty Religious and Spiritual Activities committee. At that time the committee suggested that it be held every four years.

Decision to include it in this year's RE week, which will have the general theme of "Man and God in World Religions," was made by the executive committee and program committee for the event.

Program committee-members are Craig Phillips, assembly; Jean Miller, book display and sales; Anne Hill, classroom; Kathy Holloway, hospitality; Chuck Mitchelmore, publicity; Bill Mainwaring, promotion; Jon Mellish, personal conferences, and Carole Beech, worship.
