

Six Webfoots Named On ND All-Star Team Cindermen Set For AAU Meet

Oregon's three-time Northern Division champion baseball team dominated the annual league all-star team announced Tuesday with nine men on the top two teams.

The Ducks, who last year put five men on the first all-star team, even more completely monopolized the first team spots for 1955 with six men. George Shaw made the team for the third straight year; Pete Williams, Neil Marlett and Johnny

Keller repeated from last year's team and Jimmy Johnson and Terry Maddox made it for the first time.

Dean Leads Hitters

Jay Dean, Oregon State's All-American firstbaseman and the league's top hitter this year with a record .545, was the top vote-getter in the poll for the all-star team. The giant Beaver two-sport man was put at the initial sack for the third straight season with a perfect 20 points.

The addition of Oregon's Jerry Ross, Norm Forbes and Dick Schlosstein to the ND's second team completed the sweep for the champion Ducks. It gave the Oregon team a solid lineup of all-stars with Pitcher Bill Garner getting honorable mention.

The rest of the second team was composed of WSC's Gordy Hersey at second base, Idaho's Flip Kleffner at third, OSC's Phil Jantze in the outfield, WSC's Ron Foisy at shortstop, and, as pitchers, OSC's Al Guidotti and Joe Epperle and WSC's Ron Webb.

The first team included six repeaters from the 1954 team, which had only two seniors. OSC Outfielder Jack Pinion and WSC Pitcher Lee Dolquist, Dean, Williams, Keller, Sparks, Shaw and Marlett all were on last year's team. Forbes, a pitching all-star last season, didn't play too regularly as an outfielder and was put on the second team. Chuck Fisk, OSC returnee at second base, got hurt late in the season after hitting poorly all year and got only honorable mention.

All-star choices for 1955 include:

FIRST TEAM

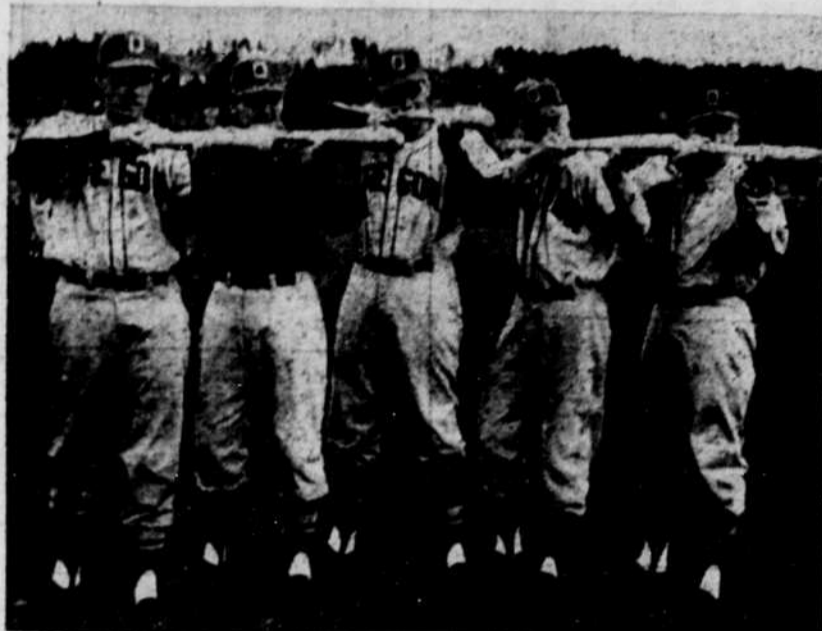

First base—Jay Dean, OSC
Second base—Jim Johnson, Oregon
Third base—Pete Williams, Oregon
Shortstop—Johnny Keller, Oregon
Outfielder—George Shaw, Oregon
Outfielder—Jerry Exley, OSC

Catcher—Dan Lovejoy, OSC.
Pitchers—Jerry Bartow and Wes Stock, WSC, and Bill Garner, Oregon.

Trojan Nine Tops Oregon

Oregon's baseball team closed out the season last Friday and Saturday, dropping two one-sided tilts at Los Angeles to the University of Southern California. Scores were 7-1 and 10-1.

It was the third straight year the Ducks made it to the PCC playoffs. Last year they triumphed at Eugene but in 1953 they lost to Stanford at Palo Alto.

It was a simple story of too much Trojan pitching and hitting. In Friday's game USC hurler Vic Lapiner dazzled the Ducks with a four-hitter while his teammates bashed out four homers off the Oregon pitching.

Saturday Oregon star Terry Maddox was battered for seven runs in seven innings as Ralph Pausig of USC throttled the Duck hitters with one run.

Shortstop John Stevenson did the most damage for the Los Angeles school. Stevenson slashed out three-for-four each game and handled 13 chances cleanly afield. Included in his hits were two homers and a double.

Outfielder Gerry Mason also lived up to advance billing as an All-American candidate with two homers in the second game and one in the first. He batted in seven runs in the two contests.

John Keller collected three hits in the two-game series to lead Oregon batters but committed two errors.

The pair of losses left Coach Don Kirsch's team with an 18-10 mark for the season. The Webfoots won the Northern Division championship with a 10-3 won-loss record.

Line scores:
Oregon000 010 000—1 4 1
USC010 013 20x—7 10 1
Garner, Blodgett (8) and Marlett; Lapiner and Garten.

Oregon001 000 000—1 7 2
USC210 102 13x—10 11 2
Maddox, Blodgett (8) and Marlett; Pausig and Garten.

The other three spots on the first team were divided between OSC, WSC and Washington. Beaver outfielder Jerry Exley and Cougar flychaser Terry Sparks were named to outfield positions along with Shaw, while Bill Reams, the Huskies' top hurler with a 4-2 mark, was put on the pitching staff with Maddox.

Shaw was the second-high vote getter for the team behind Dean with 17 points. Sparks got 16, Keller, Marlett and Maddox each got 15, Reams had 14, Williams got 13 and Exley and Johnson each received 11.

Duck Records

Swatting a healthy .370, rightfielder Norm Forbes ended the season as the Webfoots' top hitter. Forbes, a one-time pitcher who switched to the outfield when he developed shoulder trouble, rapped out 20 hits for 54 at bats and batted in 10 runs.

Centerfielder George Shaw followed Forbes in the averages with .324. Shortstop John Keller hit .318 and pitcher Terry Maddox batted .306.

Shaw led in runs 28, hits 33, homers 4, stolen bases 10, and tied for the lead in triples with three. Pete Williams hit eight doubles to lead in that department. Dick Schlosstein knocked in 24 runs, and Jim Johnson totaled the most sacrifices—five.

Sophomore Terry Maddox was the top pitcher with seven wins against a single loss and an earned run average of 2.80. Williams, who spent most of the season holding down third base, didn't allow an earned run in 16 innings pitched.

The cream of Oregon's track continued workouts this week as Coach Bill Bowerman's top cindermen eyed season closing competition.

Most of the Webfoot thinclads are to wind up the year in the Oregon AAU meet at Portland Saturday, but the Ducks will send their strong distance crew and possibly two field standouts to the NCAA meet in Los Angeles June 17 and 18 and to the Big Ten-PCC competition June 21.

Minor injuries hit several Webfoot performers following the Pacific Coast conference meet here Saturday, but all but half miler Jim Bailey are expected to be in shape for the Portland trek.

Bailey Won't Run

Bailey hurt a knee muscle and will not run in the AAU but will concentrate on the later meets. Broad jumper Martin Pedigo injured a thigh muscle, but probably will be ready to compete. Doug Clement, senior middle distance ace, re-injured the leg muscle that sidelined him early this spring, but he will run the 440 and possibly the 880.

Ken Reiser, the slender senior who shattered a host of two mile records with his PCC performance, will switch to the 880 Saturday for variety, but his distance mate Bill Dellinger is scheduled to stick to the mile.

Dellinger will be aiming to run his first half mile in the pace he has figured for his NCAA test. He is defending champion in both the NCAA and PCC-Big Ten miles, but did not compete in the AAU last year. Bowerman held him out of the running with Reiser and Clement due to poor weather and the NCAA meet.

Also planning to enter Saturday's AAU competition are middle distance runner Gordon Dahlquist, hurdlers Doug Basham and Bill Sorsby, javelin ace Ed Bingham, jumpers Donn and Terry Sullivan, weight men Ben Lloyd and Walt Badorek, and pole vaulters Bob Reid, Ken Hickenbottom, Russ Mannex and Dave Newland.

Ducks Bow Out

The Portland meet will be the final appearance in Oregon jerseys for Hickenbottom, Sorsby, Lloyd, Badorek and possibly Bruce Springbett, the Canadian sprint star.

Pete Mundle, a Northern Division champ for Oregon in the 1950 two mile and now a graduate student, will enter his specialty. Freshman Bob Thornton and Jack Morris are also slated to make the trek, Thornton in the middle distances and Morris in the low hurdles and 100-yard dash.

Dellinger, Clement, Reiser and Pedigo are to enter the NCAA and Big Ten contests, and Bingham may enter both, depending upon his performance this Saturday, according to Bowerman.
