Theatre Party Promised Top Ticket Salesmen

A formal theatre party awaits the living organization that succeeds in selling the highest percentage of their members season tickets to the University theatre for the 1955-56 season. The contest will end November 5.

Sales in the houses and dorms are unusually high for this time of year, according to Helen Howard, ticket manager for U. T. Those organizations who have not yet appointed a representative to handle sales in their houses should call the box office at the theatre for information.

The winning group will choose from the year's schedule of plays the one which they wish to see, and arrangements will be made for them to attend in a group with their guests. In past years this theatre party has been preceded by a formal dinner given by the organization for their guests.

All season tickets held by members of an organization count towards the contest whether they were purchased from the official representative or at the box office.

Emerald 'House' Open Tonight to All Students

Open house for the Oregon Daily Emerald will be held today at 7:30 p.m. in the Emerald offices, Allen 301.

Free cokes will be served to potential staff members, who will be introduced to upper staff members and given an orientation on staff organization.

Freshman students may be excused from dormitory study hours to attend the open house, as has been the policy with other open houses.

Kiddie Karnival Positions Open

Petitions for the annual Kiddie Karnival, sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., are now available in the "Y" office in Gerlinger. Petitions must be in Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Positions open are general chairman, promotion, publicity, decorations, scrip, prizes, entertainment, and booths and games. Those petitioning for general chairman should list a second choice, and women petitioning for prizes should be from the Eugene area.

ASUO Insurance Sold Now in Student Union

ASUO insurance will be on sale from 12 to 1 and 4 to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow in the Student Union checkroom.

Costs of the policies are $4.50 a year or $1.50 a term. Approximately 1000 year policies have been sold so far.

Air ROTC to Occupy Separate Staff Offices

A recently named Air Force ROTC wing staff of senior cadets, headed by Cadet Colonel Richard Van Allen, will occupy its own office in the ROTC building this year.

The staff will have greater responsibilities as a result of a change in the leadership training program. They will handle the majority of the administrative detail concerning the cadet wing, as well as leading the basic cadets on the drill field.

To give more cadet officers the opportunity to exercise "on the job" leadership, the drill laboratory will operate directly from wing level to the squadron, with the intervening group level cut out.

Openings in advertising include layout, selling and office. For news there are beat coverage opportunities as well as rewrite spots and general feature and news writing positions.

There are also jobs open for copydesk and proofreading workers, and for sports writers.

Previous experience is not required for any of the above positions, and all students on campus are invited to attend.

Enrollment Total Passes Estimate

University registration will probably pass the 4,800 estimate made by the State Board of Higher Education, W. C. Jones, dean of administration, announced Wednesday.

As of Tuesday 4,660 students had completed their registration, an increase of 11 per cent over the same time in last year's registration. Last year the figure was 4,198.

Oct. 10 is the deadline for changing classes and getting book refunds at the Co-op. Registration deadline was Monday, and students registering since then have paid $1 late fee per day.

Faculty Members Elected to Office

Karl W. Onthank, associate director of Student Affairs, and Mrs. Frances S. Newsome, librarian of the art and architecture school, were elected president and secretary, respectively of the Federation of Western Outdoor clubs at their recent meeting at Idlewild resort, California.

The federation is made up of some 25 member outdoor clubs in the western states. Mrs. Newsome is also a member of the Eugene Obsidian club and is president of the National History society.

Other cadet officer appointees for fall term are Donald Mead, wing executive, Timothy James, wing operations, Everett Stiles, wing personnel, Otto Nelson, wing public information officer and Kenneth Moore, wing adjutant.

Mead and James have the rank of Cadet Lt. Colonel and Stiles, Nelson and Moore are cadet majors.

In command of squadrons are Justin Smith, George Waller, Robert Ransom, Duane Reeves, Art Weber, Kent Dorwin and George Johnston. James Mizner is in charge of drilling the AFROTC band. All are cadet majors.

Major Lewis Tiffany is the detachment officer in charge of the leadership training laboratory.

Sculpture Adorns SU Stairway

The seemingly new statue on the Student Union stairway is not new at all. It was sculptured by the head of the sculpture department, Mark Sponenburgh, nearly four years ago.

The statue was first done in white plaster and then set aside for posterity. Last year a new coat of aluminum paint was applied and during final week of spring term it was placed in its present resting place.

New Lounge, Meeting Room For SU Nears Completion

The addition of a new lounge and meeting room located adjacent to the University Post Office will soon be completed.

Total cost of the construction will be approximately $20,000, according to Student Union Director A. L. Ellingson.

The main purpose of the project is to provide space for student and faculty meetings. Also a special portable bar is being constructed and will be in use whenever the fishbowl is closed. With a small lounge such as this it will be possible to keep it open during vacation periods such as Thanksgiving, Christmas holidays, etc.

UO Cosmo Club Schedules Meeting

The Cosmopolitan club, designed for the interexchange of campus relations between international and stateside students, will hold its first meeting, Friday, Sept. 30, 8 p.m., at Plymouth house, 13th and Ferry.

A short program will be featured concerning the recent U. N. convention held in San Francisco. Games, dancing, refreshments, and general mixing will form the remainder of the evening.

Everyone is invited.

Over 1300 Men Registered in RO

More than 1300 students are registered in the campus ROTC and Air Force ROTC programs this fall. The breakdown shows 732 in Army ROTC and 605 in AFROTC.

The large freshman class is responsible for raising the numbers in both units. There are 434 men in military science 1 and 360 in air science 1.

A further breakdown shows 186 registered in MS II, 50 in MS III and 62 in MS IV. There are 165 men in AS II, 38 in AS III and 42 in AS IV.

KWAX Staff Chosen In Tonight's Meeting

KWAX, the campus F.M. radio station, will hold its first fall organizational meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Studio A, Villard hall, according to Gordon Howard, graduate assistant in speech and KWAX station manager.

The meeting will acquaint those interested in working on the KWAX staff with the positions open and allow them to apply for these positions. Howard stressed the importance of this meeting because the fall term staff will be chosen from applications made tonight.

All interested students will be given a chance to participate in the F. M. station schedule, which is entirely student operated.

Positions to be filled are program director, chief announcer,

Some added features of the new construction include concealed overhead lighting covered with translucent plastic.

Sliding doors designed to partition the room into 3 smaller rooms cannot be installed until late December due to late delivery. The east wall of the room will sport a large blackboard and walnut paneling.

The fishbowl annex is due for completion about Oct. 17. An outside door and a window are being added to the room.

Museum Displays Cambodian Work

A feature exhibit of Cambodian sculptures will appear at Saturday, Oct. 1. Part of the sculptures are fragments from original works created for Buddhist and Brahman worship.

The remaining exhibits are reliefs in form of plaster casts from the greatest masterpieces of Cambodian art, from the temple of Angkor-Vat. This temple was built in the jungle of Cambodia, now known as Siam, in the 13th century.

The reliefs have been installed in a small gallery on the first floor to resemble as nearly as possible the originals appearing in the cloisters in the temple. Controlled lighting and stained plaster will be used to simulate the original color and textures. The exhibit will remain open for an indefinite period.

Dress-up Clothes In Order for Game

Dressy clothes will be in order for the Oregon-Washington game in Portland Saturday night, according to Carol Devillbiss, campus social chairman.

Men are asked to wear slacks to the game, and women students are to wear wool dresses or sweaters and skirts with heels.

chief engineer, continuity director, office manager, head music librarian, traffic director, sports director, promotion director, staff artist, receptionist, and special events personnel.

Students are also needed to work in all of the various fields. Personnel will be given a period of training prior to the time that the station will go on the air for the term.

Howard pointed out that experience is not necessary although experienced people are needed. "Our purpose is to supply the student with an opportunity for actual on-the-air training, and at the same time, to serve the campus area with as complete a radio coverage of campus events and news as is possible," Howard said.
