Washington's alert Huskies took advantage of every break presented to them, and gradually wore down a lighter Oregon eleven to rack up a 19-7 Pacific Coast conference victory Saturday night in Portland before 29,111 spectators.

Coach Johnny Cherberg's heavyweight backs and linemen were slow in starting, but cracked the scoring column early in the

Buckeye Upset Makes Stanford Team to Watch

Stanford, hitherto unnoticed, emerged Sunday as the new powerhouse to watch in the Pacific Coast conference.

The Indians, by virtue of a 6-0 win over Ohio State, also wore the national upset crown in a weekend that saw the rest of the PCC clubs come through as predicted.

Cougars Clobbered

USC bested a rugged Texas, 19-7, Friday night while UCLA, its running attack finally in overdrive, smashed Washington State 55-0. It was the worst whipping UCLA has ever dealt the Cougars.

In other games, the California Bears, in a comedy of miscues, pounded Pennsylvania 27-7 and Arizona pulverized Idaho 47-14. Oregon State, which had stunned Stanford the week before, 10-0, had an open date.

Indian Defense Pays

Stanford accomplished their nationally televised upheaval by completely bottling All America 'Hopalong' Cassidy. Coach Chuck Taylor gambled on a tricky defense to stop Cassidy. The gamble paid off as the Buckeyes' star ball totter only clicked off 37 yards all afternoon.

Jess Hill called his boys out for Saturday practice in preparation for powerful Washington in Seattle on Saturday. The Trojans came out of the Texas game without injuries.

Penn Errors Tell

California converted Penn's errors into a rout before a slim 21,000 fans at Berkeley. Three of the four Cal touchdowns came from Quaker fumbles. Penn also had 161 yards in penalties to bear.

UCLA's track meet at Pullman could best be summed by the after game statement of the coaches. Coach Al Kircher, whose Cougars have lost three straight, said: "They played too much football for us." The Bruins' Red Sanders conceded his club played "real good football."

Idaho had the misfortune to be on hand in Tucson when Arizona quarterback Vaughn Corley broke into the starting lineup for the first time. He passed for three touchdowns and masterminded the Arizona smash. Both Idaho scores came in the final quarter after a non-threatening three stanzas.

second period and followed with a six-pointer in each of the last two quarters.

The speedy Ducks were able to gain around midfield, but the massive Husky line repeatedly stopped Webfoot scoring thrusts. End George Slender snared a 13-yard pass from Jack Crabtree for the only Oregon tally, the play coming late in the third period.

Dick James and Jim Shanley of the Ducks chalked up some fine runs for the losers' cause, but the line-smashing of Bob McNamee, Mike Monroe, Jim Jones and Credell Green, along with the short passing of Sandy Lederman, more than made up for them.

The loss gave the Ducks a conference record of 0-2, and an overall mark of 1-2. For the Huskies, it was their third straight win, and tied them with Southern California for the PCC lead at 2-0. USC travels to Seattle next week to meet the Washington club, while Oregon entertains Big Seven opponent Colorado at Eugene.

Neither team scored in the first period, but the Huskies threatened seriously as a sensational catch by end Jim Houston gained 22 yards to the Washington 38. Monroe shredded the middle for 21, then gained two more, and McNamee went over left tackle for 16. After a short gainer, Monroe fumbled on the Duck 19 and guard Spike Hilstrom pounced on it.

Washington started with a vengeance in the third stanza, and marched 77 yards in 19 plays to score again. Lederman, mixing up his plays, alternated short passes with line thrusts. Monroe almost went the distance, but James tripped him up after a 23-yard advance. After a brief halt, Green dove over. Again, Derby's PAT was off center.

Shanley Grabs Pass

Oregon returned quickly to score in just six plays. James returned the kickoff to the Duck 47. After a run picked up three, Tom Crabtree passed to Shanley on the right sideline, where Phil McHugh threw a key block, and the play went to the Washington 12 for a 38-yard gain. Morris rammed for three and Shanley lost two.

James was nailed for a two-yard loss and then Jack Crabtree came off the bench to connect with Slender on the goal line for the touchdown. The rangy end stepped into the end zone, untouched. Morris thumped the extra point and it was 12-7.

Two losses set the Ducks back to their seven-yard line, from where Jack Morris got off a short punt out-of-bounds on the Oregon 28. From there the eager Huskies moved across in six plays. Quarterback Steve Roake tossed a key pass to Houston for a first down on the three and Jones rammed across two plays later. Dean Derby's extra point try went wide left.

Len Casanova's club then launched a drive from its own six to the Husky 37, only to lose possession. James rambled 41 yards on a weak side reverse to start things. But a fake punt run by Shanley resulted in a four-yard loss and Washington took over on their own 37.

Clock Runs Out

After a Washington punt, the Webfoot started again from their own 10-yard-marker. James and Shanley combined in six plays to move the ball to the Washington 30. Jack Crabtree then tried a long pass to James which just fell incomplete. Two more plays gained to the 14 before Crabtree fumbled on an option play as the clock ran out to halftime.

Washington recovered a James fumble on the Oregon 40. The Huskies racked up two quick first downs and then exchanged holding penalties with the Ducks. Finally McNamee punted, with the ball almost rolling dead just short of the goal line, but going on in for a touchback.

Green Gets TD

Morris was stopped for no gain for the Ducks. Then sub fullback Fred Miklonic picked up four yards, but fumbled and Washington recovered. Green went for eight, then two, Lederman misfired on a pass, Lederman gained six, Green gained five and then Green went across from the two. This time Derby's conversion try was successful, with 4:31 remaining in the game.

Wally Russell guided the Duck attack for the rest of the contest, having one pass intercepted, but completing 3 for 6. Oregon had the ball on the Husky 17 as the final gun sounded.

Outstanding on defense for the Huskies were 230-pound tackle Fred Robinson, Houston and center Bert Watson. For the Ducks, guard Spike Hilstrom recovered two fumbles and turned in a fine defensive game. Center Norm Chapman also stood out.
