

BEGINS FRIDAY

600 Expected to Attend High School Press Meeting

More than 600 high school students and advisers are expected on the campus for the Oregon Scholastic Press and Oregon Association of Journalism Advisers' 29th Annual Oregon High School Press Conference Oct. 7 and 8.

The conference is sponsored by the school of journalism.

Meetings and opening sessions will begin on Friday at noon, and will be introductory section meetings open to all advisers, newspaper and yearbook staffs.

Introductory meetings will continue until coffee hours, during which time delegates may look at two special exhibits in the Allen hall reading room.

The exhibits are representative Oregon high school yearbooks and prints from a national photo contest. Fifty of the top photographs taken by high school students throughout the country are included in this display.

Pictures for the exhibit were selected from those submitted to the 1955 National High School Photographic Awards contest, sponsored by Eastman Kodak company. Sixteen major prize winners and a number of honorable mention photos are included.

Friday evening the annual conference banquet will be held in the Student Union ballroom. Toastmaster will be Charles T. Duncan, acting dean of the school of Journalism and director of the Oregon Scholastic Press.

Greetings will be delivered by William C. Jones, University dean of administration. Principal speaker will be William E. Drips, "retired" journalist, and a veteran of 35 years in radio and television work.

"Big Picture"

Speech topic for Drips, who is agricultural consultant for Portland's KOIN-TV, will be "You're in the Big Picture."

Entertainment will be provided by the "Club Intime" performers and David Carlson of Grant high school, Portland, at the piano.

Saturday's schedule includes a series of roundtable discussions on newspaper and yearbook planning and policies. The discussions will be led by staff members of the Emerald and the Oregana, with conference delegates acting as panel members.

Adviser Meeting

During this time a general meeting will be held for advisers. Subject of this meeting will be the exchanging of ideas, and the general topic is "Ideas That Have Worked For Us."

Concluding meeting will be the annual awards luncheon in the ballroom of the SU, with Duncan as speaker. Presentations of plaques to 1955 OSP editorial page contest winners will follow.

After the adjournment, delegates and advisers will attend the Oregon vs. Colorado football game. Free tickets are being provided through the courtesy of the University of Colorado and the University of Oregon athletic departments.

Barnett to Show New Guinea Slides

"Modern Dutch New Guinea" will be the subject of a lecture tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the browsing room of the Student Union.

Homer Barnett, professor of anthropology, will illustrate his lecture with colored slides. E. S. Wengert, head of the political science department, will lead the discussion.

Barnett worked last summer in Dutch New Guinea for the Dutch government. He inspected the government welfare programs for the native population.

Preliminary Plans Approved For Architecture Building

Plans for a new art and architecture building were announced yesterday by Sidney W. Little, dean of the allied art and architecture school.

Preliminary plans are being approved by the faculty now, but the detailed plans have not yet been completed. During the sum-

Cheer Petitions Ready for Frosh

The rally board is now calling for petitions for the freshman rally squad which will be due Thursday in the Student Union at 5 p.m.

The frosh squad, which will be composed of rally girls and yell dukes, is new this year on the Oregon campus. All former high school rally girls and yell leaders are urged to petition.

ASUO petition forms will be used, and it is important that all applicants give suggestions which might improve school spirit.

Petitioners will be interviewed by the rally board at noon Tuesday. Semi-finalists will be chosen and tryouts will be held later in the week to determine the squad numbers.

Rally hats will be sold tonight and tomorrow night in the mens' living organizations by members of the senior rally squad. These hats, as well as white shirts, will be the requirement for men to sit in the 50 yard line special rooting section.

Chairmen Open For Whiskerino

Petitions for the Sophomore Whiskerino chairmanships and committees are due noon Friday, Oct. 7. They may be turned in at the petition box on the third floor of the Student Union.

In addition to the general secretary, sophomore men and women are needed as co-chairmen for the following committees: beard, Joe College and Betty Coed contests; social; chaperones; entertainment; programs; and decorations. All petitioners will be called and interviewed by the sophomore class officers Friday afternoon in the SU, room 313.

The Sophomore Whiskerino, an all campus dance sponsored by the sophomore class, will be held Saturday, Oct. 22.

Sophomore Men Start Beards This Saturday

Sophomore men who contend they're no longer boys will have a chance to prove their status beginning Saturday night.

According to rules set up this year in conformity with an old tradition, Sunday night will be the last time second-year men may shave until the night of the Sophomore Whiskerino, Oct. 22.

Progress of the beards will be checked by freshman women. Punishment will be meted out to all beardless men after Monday. Beards can come off the day of the dance unless the wearer is going to compete in the "most bewhiskered soph" contest, to be held during intermission of the Whiskerino.

Senate to Fill Three Positions

Three student positions will be filled at the first senate meeting of the year Thursday night.

Junior class vice-president, junior class representative, and a homecoming chairman or chairmen will be chosen from students who have turned in petitions by 5 p.m. Thursday. The senate meets at 6:30 and first on the agenda is election of the two junior class officers.

Petitions are available in the ASUO office on the third floor of the Student Union. They are due there at 5 p.m. Thursday. Those who wish to submit petitions for co-chairmen of homecoming should staple their petitions together.

All petitioners must attend the senate meeting for they will be interviewed at that time. The time for selecting the homecoming chairman will be announced Thursday.

Derby Chairmen Announce Rules

A record number of living organizations are participating in the Bunion Derby this year, according to Joan Kraus and Joan Rainville, chairman of the derby. Thirty-four men's living organizations and 23 women's organizations will take parts.

Pairing lists have gone out to all living organizations, according to Nancy Shaw and Anita Allen, chairmen of the house coordination committee. If any houses have not received their lists by tonight, they are asked to contact these chairmen.

It has been reported that some men's living organizations did not attend all of the women's organizations last year, but chose a few that they wanted to attend. This year a men's living organization will not be eligible for a trophy unless it attends every women's living organization.

A trophy will be awarded to the men's organization with the largest attendance and the women's organization with the most money collected, per member, during the halftime of the football game Saturday.

The periods for dancing at each women's organization will be limited to seven minutes, with three minutes of traveling time, instead of the fifteen minute periods that were previously planned.

KUGN will broadcast the music for the Bunion Derby on FM receivers, according to Jane Meador and George Simpson, chairmen of the promotion committee. Interviews will be made with some of the participants by KUGN, to be broadcast Saturday night.

UO Enrollment Tops 4900; Exceeds 1954 Mark by 12%

Total enrollment of students at the university has passed the 4900 mark, according to C. L. Constance, registrar. The exact enrollment figure at the end of the first week of classes was 4,863, a 12 percent increase over last year's figure of 4341.

Officials have enrolled 3177 men, a 15 percent increase over last year, and 1,686 women are enrolled, a 6 percent gain. The largest class enrolled is the freshman, with 1,485 students, compared with last year's figure of 1,344. The sophomore class is next with 1,268 students; juniors, 676; seniors, 596; and 627 graduate students are registered.

According to Constance, the school of liberal arts has the most students, with 3659 enrolled. All freshman and sophomores except those majoring in health and physical education are considered liberal arts majors.

The following are totals, as of last week, enrolled in each of the schools: architecture and allied arts, 197; business administration, 324; education, 257; health and physical education, 182; journalism, 52; law, 93; music, 67; and general studies, (graduate course), 32.
