

Gordon Rice Re-appointed Editor

Oregon

57th year of Publication

VOL. LVII. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1956 NO. 62

IFC to Take Action on 'Hell Week' Jan. 26

Inter-fraternity council will consider disciplinary actions against houses involved in recent destruction of property at its next meeting, according to IFC President Kent Dorwin.

No special meeting will be called before the one already scheduled for Jan. 26.

Dorwin's announcement fol-

J School Majors To Hear Oregonian Editor and Writer

Malcom Bauer, associate editor and editorial writer of the Portland Oregonian, will be guest speaker at the second of the journalism school assemblies which will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. in Allen 221.

Bauer will address journalism majors, pre-majors, and members of the journalism faculty, according to Charles T. Duncan, acting dean.

These assemblies will be continued every other Thursday throughout the term. The first address to journalism students was given Jan. 5 by Dr. O. Meredith Wilson.

The Feb. 2 speaker will be Carroll O'Rourke, account executive of Cole and Weber, a Portland advertising agency. On Feb. 16, the president of the Wall Street Journal, Bernard Kilgore, will be here. He will give the annual Eric W. Allen Memorial address. The March 1 journalism guest will be Paul Walden of The Dalles. Walden is manager of radio station KODL and is president of the Oregon State Broadcasters Assn.

Davis to Review Harper's Articles In Browsing Room

"America's Next Twenty Years," a series of articles that recently appeared in Harper's magazine, will be the subject of R. M. Davis, associate professor of economics, at the Browsing room lecture tonight at 7:30.

The series was written by Peter Drucker, professor of management at New York university. In the series Drucker seeks to evaluate the importance of the economic problems Americans will be facing in the future.

The problems Drucker discussed are derived from our expanding population, automation or a rationalization of the industrial process, and the change in the pattern of ownership.

One of the chief problems will be chronic inflation, Drucker believes. He feels that unemployment will not be serious.

Davis will summarize the articles, the development in Drucker's reasoning from that of earlier works to the present, and possible make some independent predictions of his own.

Frederick M. Hunter, honorary chancellor of the state system of higher education, will be discussion leader.

The 1956 Religious Evaluation

week has been scheduled for Jan. 22 through 26. Speakers from the major groups will speak to students throughout the week.

Devotionals are scheduled every weekday morning in Gerlinger hall; dinners and firesides will be held in the living organizations, and each evening there will be an address in the SU ballroom by one of the speakers.

Speakers representing the different faiths are The Rev. Hogen Fujimoto, Buddhist church of Fresno, Calif., Buddhism; The Rev. Leonidas Contos, St. Sophia Cathedral of Los Angeles, Eastern Orthodox Christianity; Swami Asehananda, Vendanta Society of Portland, Hinduism.

A. R. Sahu Khan, Moslem society of the U. S. A., will represent Islam; Rabbi Saul E. White, Temple Beth Shalom of San Francisco, will speak on Judaism; Dr. Paul Tillich, Harvard university is the Protestant Christianity representative, and Rev. Archibald M. McDowell, Portland university, is the Roman Catholic representative.

Panel members will be Nushaba Husain, Stephen Chemysch, Anders Ehnmark and Pier ytsch, Anders Ehnmark and Pierre DuPayrat.

All University students are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Dad's Hostess Finalists Named

Ten semi-finalists were chosen Tuesday night in the contest for Dads' Day hostess. Interviews to select the four finalists will be held tonight in Student Union.

Semi-finalists and their interview times are: Frances Heitkemper Beckman, 7; Sonja Edwards Bell, 7:06; Sylvia Wingard Bemis, 7:12; Donna Brewer Christianson, 7:18; Nancy Adams Draper, 7:24; Alice Kihn England, 7:36; Patty Morud Keller, 7:42; Donna Becker McNabb, 7:48; Donna Hart Russell, 7:54; and Gayle Seidel Wilhoit, 8:00.

Candidates are to wear short silks and heels to tonight's interviews. The room number for the interviews will be posted on the bulletin board.

Judges for the contest are Bass Dyer, alumni secretary; Henry Fehly, Eugene photographer; and Bud Hinkson, ASUO president.

Campus elections for the Dads' Day hostess will be held Jan. 31, Feb. 1, and Feb. 2, at the Student Union and the Co-op.

Koenig to Lecture Here on Thursday

Frederick O. Koenig, professor of chemistry at Stanford University, will speak on "Benjamin Franklin and Science," Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Dad's lounge.

Koenig will make this speech in commemoration of the 250th birthday of Benjamin Franklin which was Jan. 17.

Koenig has been at Stanford since 1931 and is presently engaged in writing a book on electro-chemical thermodynamics.

He received his bachelor's degree from Harvard in 1920, and his doctor's degree in physical chemistry from the University of Munich, on a National Research fellowship from the University of California in 1930.

His main fields of study have been thermodynamics, the history of science and science and humanities.

RE Week Starts Sunday; Seven Faiths Represented

The list of seven speakers for Religious Evaluation week is now complete. Each of the theologians will be introduced at the opening assembly Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Each speaker, who will be introduced by President Wilson, will give a short statement of the values he sees in a Parliament of World Religions, and what he hopes this one will attain. Each speaker represents a different faith.

The 1956 Religious Evaluation

Joan Rainville Is Business Manager

Gordon Rice, senior in journalism, Tuesday night was re-appointed Emerald editor by the student publication's board, to serve for the remainder of the academic year.

Joan Rainville, sophomore in journalism, was named business manager to succeed Donna Runberg, journalism senior, who has held the post since last January.

First Time in 4 Years

Rice, only petitioner for the editorship, thus becomes the first editor to serve for an entire school year since 1950-51, when Lorna Larson was editor.

Miss Rainville rises to management from the position of co-

JOAN RAINVILLE Elected Business Manager

advertising manager, which she has held since the beginning of January. During fall term she was assistant advertising manager.

Other Petitioner

Other petitioner for the business manager post was Birger Brandt, junior in political science.

Rice was news editor during the second half of last year, and

Frosh Variety Petitions Due

Petitions for the freshman variety show, "Carousel," will be due Thursday. Auditions will be held that evening in Gerlinger annex from 7:30 to 9:30.

Talented members of the class may obtain petitions in the program director's office, Student Union 301. The variety show will be held Feb. 10 before the fishbowl mixer, according to Judy Dwyer, general chairman.

before that was sports editor, assistant news editor and filled several reporting spots.

Won Hunter Award

During his first one and one-half years at the University Rice,

GORDON RICE Re-elected Emerald Editor

who was chosen for the Maurice Harold Hunter award during last Junior Weekend, served as campus correspondent to the Portland Oregonian for the campus news bureau.

He is currently a member of Friars, men's senior lifetime honorary, and last year was in Druids, junior men's honorary. He was also junior class vice-president last year and prior to that sophomore class representative.

Also Was Salesman

Miss Rainville, who has been an advertising salesman in addition to her office experience for the Emerald, was both art editor and editor of her high school yearbook.

She was selected as Betty Co-ed at the fall term Sophomore Whiskerino dance, and is a member of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary.

U.S. Politics Is Student Topic

"As I See American Politics" will be the topic of the bi-weekly world issues roundtable, to be held Thursday at 4 p.m. in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall.

Lester Seligman, assistant professor of political science, is moderator for this week's program, which is sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA.

Panel members will be Nushaba Husain, Stephen Chemysch, Anders Ehnmark and Pier ytsch, Anders Ehnmark and Pierre DuPayrat.

All University students are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Wickham to Meet With UO Women

All women who failed to make a 2.0 GPA fall term, or who are on pegged grades, and all women's organization scholarship chairmen will meet in the Student Union Thursday at 4 p.m., according to Mrs. Golda Wickham, associate director of student affairs.

All women included should attend, she said.