

University Faculty Will Appear On Two Channel 13 TV Shows

University faculty will appear on two channel 13 television shows this week. Faculty members from the education department will appear Sunday on "Now You Know" in a program titled "Preparing Teachers for the Public Schools." Herman Cohen, assistant professor of speech, appears on "Freedom Agenda," a local program telecast on Sundays which discusses civil rights.

Monday

7:30 p.m. (13) "I Search for Adventure" features a film trip with adventurer Kenneth Herts, a young American living in Peru, to the high Andes on a Condor hunt.

9 p.m. (6) Lucille Ball is very disappointed when she thinks that she will not be included when Ricky and his band are presented to the Queen of England on "I Love Lucy."

9:30 p.m. (13) "Robert Montgomery Presents" features "Mr. Tuffs Baita a Hook," in another story about the fictional small-town lawyer.

Tuesday

8 p.m. (13) Milton Berle will have Betty Hutton as his guest.

9 p.m. (13) "Fireside Theatre"

features James Whitmore and Phyllis Thaxter in the "Velvet Trap," the story of a frightened ex-convict.

9:30 p.m. (13) Dr. Hudson changes practices with Dr. Perkins and becomes a country doctor on "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal."

Wednesday

7 p.m. (13) Herb Philbrick is ordered to launch an attack against churches and religion by his communist bosses on "I Led Three Lives."

7:30 p.m. (13) "Davy Crockett and the Keelboat Race" is again shown on "Disneyland."

9 p.m. (6) Michael Anthony travels to the South Sea island of Tamini to give a check to a doctor who is doomed to die in six months on "The Millionaire."

Thursday

7 p.m. (6) Rudy Vallee is a guest on the "Johnny Carson Show."

8:30 p.m. (13) Joe Friday has to find a pair of holdup men who operate out of bars and restaurants. Finally he gets a lead when one of the robberies results in murder on "Dragnet."

9 p.m. (13) "Headline" relates the story of Editor Steve Wilson. This week Wilson tracks down reports of flying saucers.

9:30 p.m. (13) Scott Brady, Phyllis Kirk and William Leslie star in "Tin Can Skipper" on "Ford Theatre." A young girl's life is being ruined by past experiences.

10 p.m. (13) "Lux Video Theatre" features "The Green Promise." Walter Brennan starred in the 1949 movie, which relates the story of a domineering father and his daughter.

Friday

7 p.m. (13) Bob Baker, Pittsburgh, fights Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, New York City, in a ten round heavyweight bout from Madison Square Garden. Baker is rated as two and Jackson, three.

8:30 p.m. (13) "Crossroads" stars George Brent in the true story of a medical missionary in China.

9:30 p.m. (13) Joanne Dru, John Hudson and John Miljan star on "Playhouse of Stars" in "The Gentle Stranger." Joanne Dru portrays a "mail-order wife" who wants to run away from her husband.

10:30 p.m. (13) "Premiere Theatre" features "The Fighter," a 1952 movie starring Richard Conte and Vanessa Brown.

Saturday

6:20 p.m. (13) "The Curious Camera" will show another unusual subject on the weekly show.

11 p.m. (13) "Request Playhouse" shows "Foreign Correspondent," which stars "Lorraine Day, Joel McCray, Herbert Marshall and George Sanders.

Sunday

2:30 p.m. (13) "Shell First-Run Theatre" will feature Nelson Eddy, Charles Colburn and Shelley Winters in "Knickerbocker Holiday."

10:30 p.m. "Sunday Showtime" will have a 1947 mystery movie, "And Then There Were None." Judith Anderson, Barry Fitzgerald, Walter Huston and Louis Hayward star.

Minister Looks At 'Our World'

Dr. Paul Tillich, of the Evangelical and Reformed church and professor at Harvard University who lectured at the University during Religious Evaluation week, will be the featured guest on two recorded broadcasts of "University Forum."

"A Theologian Looks at Our World" will be the subject of this week's discussion.

E. S. Wengert, head of the political science department, will act as moderator. He will be joined by Alburey Castell, head of the philosophy department.

The program will be broadcast over KWAX tonight at 8:30 and on KERG at 9:30.

Virgil H. Dykstra, assistant professor of philosophy, will lead a panel discussion of "Existentialist Theology."

Dr. Tillich, Quirinus Breen, professor of history, and L. R. Sorenson, associate professor of history, will be the other participants.

'Disneyland' Shows Davy Crockett Race

By Pepper Allen
Radio and TV Editor

"Davy Crockett and the Keelboat Race" will appear on "Disneyland" again Wednesday at 7:30 on channel 13 but campus fans of the program might be heartened with a preview of next week's show. "A Day With Donald Duck" ought to be one of the best shows of the season. Oregon webfoots may enjoy this coverage of their animated mascot.

"Look" Features Jackie Gleason
"Look" magazine has "The Life of Jackie Gleason" featured in the current issue. According to the advance publicity, this article would be a good case study for some graduate student in abnormal psychology. Example: "The brooding man has no affection for Gleason the clown."

Any lucky owners of TV sets that pick up channel 27 can watch "Festival of Music" tonight at 5 p.m. This program, a 90 minute "Producer's Showcase," will feature Marian Anderson, Jan Peerce, Roberta Peters, Arthur Rubinstein, Isaac Stern, Rise Stevens and other stars.

Exploiting human weaknesses is a hard way to gain television audiences, but as Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" and more recently "Do You Trust Your Wife" with Edgar Bergen as MC, seem to base their programs on this practice. Perhaps if Bergen and his wife were in a similar position, he might have more sympathy for the contestants.

"Movies Are Better Than Ever" or at least those movies on channel 13 are of excellent quality. "Knickerbocker Holiday" next Sunday ought to be one of the best selections this year. More films have been sold from studio libraries, and the demand for good pictures is increasing.

Promotion managers of the various radio and television stations evidently are convinced that college students have strange listening and viewing tastes. Literature put out by the stations recommend the following programs for the coming week.

Cherry Pie Baking Contest Featured

The state winner of the cherry pie baking contest is to be featured on one of the afternoon programs. Perhaps the cooks for the dormitories might be interested in this.

Part three of the "Flying Carpet" will be shown this week on "Howdy Doody." Frosh boys might find some hints on this show if they don't wish to climb fire escapes during spring term.

It has been rumored that some hopefuls for spring athletic teams have been watching channel 13's "It's Fun to Reduce."

"Wide Wide World" will travel to the Smithsonian Institution for the Feb. 19 show.
