

Oregon Campaign Started by Nixon

By EVELYN OLSEN
Emerald Staff Writer
Vice-President Richard M. Nixon kicked off the general election campaign in Oregon Wednesday night at McArthur Court by telling the estimated audience of 7,000 persons that Oregon senatorial candidate Douglas McKay was "one of the greatest Secretaries of the Interior we have ever had."

Nixon and his wife flew on to Spokane Thursday.

McKay Credited

Nixon credited McKay as the "man with Eisenhower who developed the triple-barrelled Eisenhower partnership program" or natural resource development.

"The Morse-McKay contest clearly and dramatically points up the basic difference between the Eisenhower philosophy of government and that of the well-intentioned but mistaken men who would nationalize and federalize basic American institutions."

Praises Ike

Praising the Eisenhower administration, Nixon told the audience that before voting they should consider, "Is Eisenhower's leadership the best this country can produce?"

He said that Eisenhower got us out of war and gives us the best chance to keep peace in the years ahead. He denied the Democratic charge that American prestige is at an all-time low, and said "No man is more revered and respected by the people of the world than the President of the United States."

Nixon also refuted the Democratic charge that the Republican party offers working people "prosperity for a few but not prosperity for you."

He said this has been the "best year economically in the history of the country," and that wage-earners wanting good jobs with high wages, take-home pay and security for the future "are doing better today under Eisenhower . . . than they have ever done before."

The purchasing power of the wage-earner's paycheck declined $2 during the seven year period of the Truman Fair Deal, he continued.

Claims Sound Dollar

"During the four years of the Eisenhower administration the wage-earner received an increase of $8 a week in real buying power because this administration has again given the American people a sound dollar that will buy a dollar's worth of goods next year as well as today."

Nixon said that the "test of an administration is whether you clean up or cover up" the dishonest elements of the administration. "This administration cleans up," he declared.

The Democrats are offering a "dressed-up version of what they offered in 1952," Nixon said. He told the audience to consider "have this administration's policies been good for you? We offer friendship . . . courage . . . and victory."

Appearing on the platform Wednesday night with Nixon were McKay, Gov. Elmo Smith, President O. Meredith Wilson of the University, and Representative Harris Ellsworth of the Fourth Congressional district.

Conference Held

In a short press conference held at the Eugene airport Wednesday Vice-President Richard Nixon told reporters that he had never at anytime questioned Democratic loyalty, but he had questioned their judgement.

Speaking of the Korean war he said that "nobody should be so callous" as to say administrative (continued on page five)

Road Group Urges 13th Ave. Closure

The closure of 13th Ave. through the campus from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. every weekday has been recommended by the Oregon State Highway Department.

Automatic gates on the corners of 13th Ave. and Kincaid and University Streets would prevent traffic from entering the campus if the proposal is adopted.

The recommendation came as a result of a survey conducted spring term by the state agency. It was jointly financed by the University, city and state.

Last fall the Eugene City Council's public service committee suggested that the city cease stopping traffic on 13th Ave. 10 minutes every hour. This had been done while classes changed as a safety measure.

University President O. Meredith Wilson then asked that the street be closed permanently, because he said the University needs the area for future expansion.

Men's, Women's Rush To Start on Weekend

500 Men Expected Visits to Sororities For Sunday Tours To Begin Friday

Men's fall term rushing will open Sunday afternoon. The program will begin with a guided tour of the University's 21 fraternities and conclude with "preference night" next Friday.

A rough estimate from Dean of Men Ray Hawk indicated that about 500 men will participate this fall. The number is approximately the same as last year, Hawk said.

Opening Tour Set

Sunday's opening tour will be conducted by Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary. It will include three-minute stops at each fraternity house, where chapter presidents will talk briefly to the rushees.

Chapters will not be allowed to present entertainment or set-up displays. Any unscheduled rushing must stop by 1 p.m. Sunday, the Inter-Fraternity Council ruled at a meeting last Tuesday night.

Sunday night at 7:30 an IFC assembly will be held in the SU ballroom. President Don McClaine has urged that rushees, including upperclassmen, be sure to attend.

Registration Monday

Rushing registration opens Monday in the Dads' Lounge of the SU, from 2-5 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. At this time the rushees will compile their date cards, arranging for either a lunch, dinner or evening date with fraternities of their choice.

Noon lunch dates last from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., dinner dates from 5 to 7 p.m. and evening dates from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

A $5 rush fee must be paid during registration Monday. Checks will be accepted.

Freshman women's rushing began with an open house today. A total of 382 women had signed up to participate by Thursday afternoon. Rushing will continue through Tuesday.

Members of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, will lead rushees on a tour of all the sororities from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. today. Women will visit each house for ten minutes.

Four periods of rushing begin Saturday. Women may visit any house only once on any one day.

Eight visits are scheduled for the first day. Morning rush dates Saturday are 9:15 to 9:45; 10 to 10:30; 10:45 to 11:15; and 11:30 to noon. Afternoon times are 1 to 1:30; 1:45 to 2:15; 2:30 to 3; and 3:15 to 3:45.

Women may visit six sororities Sunday. Scheduled times are 1:15 to 1:45; 2 to 2:30; 2:45 to 3:15; 3:30 to 4; 4:15 to 4:45; and 5 to 5:30.

Three evening dates show preference over the one afternoon date Monday. Times are 4:30 to 5:15 p.m.; 6:15 to 7 p.m.; 7:15 to 8 p.m.; and 8:15 to 8:45 p.m.

Two visits are planned for Tuesday. Rushees may visit their second preference from 6:15 to 7 p.m. and their first preference from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m.

A breakfast for the new pledges in the sororities will be held Wednesday at 7:15 a.m.
