

ROTC Regiment Names Officers For 1956-57 Year

The Army ROTC department has announced the following promotions for the 1956-57 school year according to Col. Leonard E. Wellendorf, professor of military science and tactics.

Philip McHugh, regimental commander, will be cadet colonel.

Newly promoted cadet lieutenant colonels are Jerry Jones, regimental executive officer, and battalion commanders James Greene, Gilbert Jones, and Ben Kahalekulu.

On the regimental staff and now cadet majors are Jerry Pool, Bill Mainwaring, Røger Martin, Berge Borrevik. Battalion executive officers Michael Nosler, Ronald Clark, and Keith Barker and commanding officer Gene Lowrance are cadet majors also.

Vondis Miller, Charles Huggins, Dennis Ryan, Jean Bowles, Richard Reneberg, Howard Potts, company commanders, and Nelson Tandoc, commanding officer of the band, were named cadet captains.

Lieutenants Picked

Promoted to cadet first lieutenants are Gordon French, James Woodyard, Peter Plumridge, Michael Starling, Richard Costi, and Oliver Huff. They will have the title of company executive officers.

Platoon leaders this year with the rank of cadet first lieutenant will be Quincy Powers, Douglas Gill, Steve Danchock, Cliff Halvorson, Richard Bates, Garry Cannon, John Kitzmiller, Bill Larsgaard, John Moore, Arden Christensen, Gerald Chase, Daniel Frank, Thomas Dent, David Roberts, James Mathieson, Robert Norquist, Dudley Makahanalo, and Ronald Juniper.

All men named were previously cadet second lieutenants.

Nearly all of these cadets attended the Army's six-week summer camp at Ft. Lewis, Wash., this summer.

Turnabout Players Slate Appearance

Puppet and live actors, both of which are featured in shows by San Francisco's Turnabout Theatre, will appear in the Erb Memorial ballroom Oct. 8.

Turnabout Theatre features puppets in musical comedy and other productions. Following the intermission, the audience finds their seats reversed in order to watch the living actors on another stage at the back of the theatre.

The group has been established since the late 1920's. Since that date, they have played at permanent locations in various parts of the country. For some years they have played in San Francisco.

Reserved seat tickets will go on sale in the UT box office and at the main desk of the SU Sept. 24.

Prices are Section A, adults, $2.00, students and children, $1.50; Section B, adults, $1.50, students and children, $1.00; and general admission, adults, $1.00, students and children, $.75. UT season ticket holders will be given a special discount of 50 cents less than the above prices, regardless of section.

Cosmo Club Sets Meeting Tonight

Cosmopolitan club will hold its first meeting of the term Friday at 8 p.m. in the Gerlinger annex.

Dancing, a program, and refreshments will be featured at the meeting.
