representatives of national civic organizations. Chancellor Richards was originally appointed on the recommendation of the American Council on Education.

Milton Eisenhower, president elect of John Hopkins University, served as first chairman of the committee when it was established by Congress in 1946. Jennelle Moorhead, Eugene, of the extension division's campus office, is the only other Oregon member of the committee.

Employees Name Schumacher Head

Waldo Schumacher, professor of political science, was installed as president of the University of Oregon Chapter No. 77 of the Oregon State Employees Association at a meeting early this summer.

Charter for the group was presented by Clarence S. Eklof, district director of the OSEA.

Paul B. Simpson, professor of economics, will serve as vice-president of the organization.

Senior Cadets Given Awards

Four University seniors received honors recently at a result of their outstanding work in ROTC. The four cadets, all of whom spent six weeks of summer training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., are Phil McHugh, Ben Kahalekulu, Berge Borrevik and Michael Starling.

McHugh Honored

McHugh, who will be cadet colonel of the campus Army ROTC, received the Distinguished Cadet Trophy, given for outstanding leadership and the highest scholastic record on military subjects.

Kahalekulu received the second place Distinguished Cadet Trophy. He has been appointed cadet lt. colonel for the coming year. Kahalekulu was also selected to participate at Camp Perry, Ohio, on the Sixth Army ROTC rifle team as a result of outstanding marksmanship at summer camp.

Borrevik Named

Borrevik was awarded the Military Proficiency Medal as a result of receiving the highest grades on military subjects and as the outstanding cadet in his company. He will be a cadet major this year.

Starling was awarded the second-place Military Proficiency Medal. He will be first lieutenant.
