They have been signed to play from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m., with an intermission at 10:30 for the presentation of the Joe College and Betty Coed winners. The winners of the beard-growing contest will also be announced and shaven at this time.

The Betty and Joe candidates, after selection by the various living organizations, will be eliminated to twelve on Wednesday night, and to six on the following Thursday. Voting on the finalists will be at the door of the S.U. Ballroom between 9 and 10.

The six finalists in each group will be introduced at the Friday at Four on the day before the dance.

The beard growing will start Wednesday according to Mike Devore, general chairman of the event. Those people who have Oregon pictures to be taken may use their own discretion as to whether or not they wish to shave, but all sophomore men will be expected to be showing some stubble by Friday, the last day for Oregon pictures.

There will be three awards made in the beard growing contest this year, one each for the longest or bushiest beard, the more original beard (dying or cutting allowed), and the house with the largest percentage of bearded sophomore men. The winners in the first two contests will receive free shaves while on the stage.

This year, for the first time, a social committee, headed by Sue Sandoz and Dick Shaw, has been organized to fix up blind dates for any freshmen who are interested in attending the dance and do not have dates. A coke date with the prospective date is also included in the plan. Miss Sandoz and Shaw will visit freshman dormitories this week to talk with all interested students.

Neuberger Appears On Campus Tues.

United States Senator Richard Neuberger will open the University's assembly program Tuesday at 1 p.m. with a speech concerning the intellectual's role in politics.

Neuberger will probably emphasize his belief that the political picture needs more men from the academic world, according to Bert Swanson, the Senator's advance chairman.

Swanson said Neuberger will probably use Sen. Morse, former dean of the University Law School, as an illustration of his theme.

Opens Assembly Tuesday

He is also likely to discuss the Oregon gubernatorial race, including endorsement for Democratic candidate Robert Holmes. Swanson said he will possibly make a direct reference to the stand on higher education taken by the two candidates, Holmes and Gov. Elmo Smith, Republican.

After stops in Seattle, Portland, and Canby, Ore., Sen. and Mrs. Neuberger will arrive in Eugene Tuesday at about 10:30 a.m. The Senator will then be rushed to an assembly at Cottage Grove High School where he will speak on "The Need for Young People to Become Interested in Politics."

He will mention his own willingness to assist young people get a start in politics. Neuberger selects a Senate page each year, and he selects a special research assistant from some Oregon college each year. Larry Hobart, the 1952-53 Emerald editor, is now a member of the Senator's Washington staff.

Neuberger will then return to Eugene for his speech at 1 p.m. At 4 p.m. he will speak at an S.U. Coffee Hour Forum.

Call Sweetheart Nominees Today

Deadline for nominations for the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi contest has been set for today at 4, according to Burke Rice, fraternity president.

Candidates must be freshman women, he said. Every freshman dormitory, sorority and women's co-op is eligible to nominate a candidate.

The contest opens Tuesday evening, when the Sigma Chi's will entertain their candidates at a fireside.

The eventual winner will reign over the fraternity's annual Sweetheart Ball.

Mrs. Neuberger also takes part in the campaign schedule. Her schedule includes a visit to Waldo Schumaker's political science class at 11 a.m. She will be guest of honor at a luncheon sponsored by Phi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary.

While a student at the University, Neuberger was editor of the Emerald in 1932-33. He later attended the University's Law School, where Wayne Morse was then dean.

He worked as a sports writer for The Oregonian. He has written various books, the latest of which is his "Adventures In Politics." He has also had a number of articles published in such magazines as Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, New Republic, and has written for The New York Times.

Neuberger entered state politics in 1940 when he was elected a Representative from Multnomah county to the state legislature. His term was interrupted by a period of service in the Army. After his return to civilian life he was again elected to the legislature.

In 1954, 14 years after entering state politics, Neuberger defeated Republican Sen. Guy Cordon to become a member of the U.S. Senate. His victory gave him the honor of being the first Democrat to be elected to the Senate from Oregon in many years.

Upon leaving Eugene, the Senator and his wife will visit Oregon State College and Portland, where a rally is being planned for Adlai Stevenson.

Sen. Paul Douglas Leads Demo Rally

By BILL COOK
Emerald Staff Writer

Douglas McKay was "pitched out of the Department of the Interior and sent to the western front to be slaughtered," said Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois at a $5 a plate Democratic fundraising rally held Sunday night at Eugene High School.

Douglas, introduced by Senator Wayne Morse, characterized McKay as a "Robin Hood in reverse" in renewing Democratic charges of "giveaway" against McKay and other Eisenhower officials.

Douglas said that he is not charging McKay with personal dishonesty, but that his handling of the Al Sarena mining case in itself should be enough to defeat him.

GOP Corruption

Referring to McKay's speech earlier Sunday when he spoke of integrity in the Eisenhower administration, Douglas refuted these statements by citing cases of corruption in the Eisenhower administration and its handling of it.

He said after Democrats had shown former Secretary of Air Talbot suffered from a conflict of interests, he resigned and was given an air show, a letter of commendation from President Eisenhower, whom he said was a "decent, though somewhat weak man" and the highest medal that the Department of Defense can bestow. This, said Douglas, was after Talbot in 1917 had been in a scandal involving the purchase of deHaviland-four aircraft from the company of which Talbot was president.
