

Millrace Olympics Set Tomorrow

Major Millrace activities for fall term will begin Saturday at 1:30 p.m. with the Millrace Olympics, sponsored by the Student Union recreation committee.

Participants in the games have been announced by Dick Blue, committee chairman. The games will be held at the 'Race lagoon, in front of the physical plant by the bridge.

Men's war canoe race teams will include Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, French Hall and Cherney Hall. Eight men will be on each team. The race will start at 1:30 p.m.

Eight person teams will compete in the women's war canoe competition. Presently signed up are Omega and Hendricks Halls.

A mixed race, with four women and four men in each canoe, will begin at 2:15. Paired for this event are Sigma Phi Epsilon and Chi Omega, Omega and Cherney Halls, Hendricks and French Halls and Delta Upsilon and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

CANOE RACING ON THE MILLRACE will be a feature event of the Millrace Olympics, which is scheduled for Saturday at 1:30 p.m. on the lagoon near the University Physical Plant. Many events have been planned for the afternoon of entertainment by the Student Union Recreation committee. Already five teams have signed up for the male War Canoe race. Other events scheduled for the Millrace Olympics are a girls War Canoe Race, mixed canoe race, and a jousting contest. There are two openings in the Women's War Canoe event. Interested dorms contact Dick Blue.

Jousting contests, similar to those presented as an exhibition at the Duckling picnic during Orientation Week, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Two man teams have entered by Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta and Delta Upsilon.

Trophies will be presented to the first place winners. This is the first in a series of Millrace game activities, with a major series scheduled for spring term.

Increased Millrace activity is part of the long-range restoration project for the historic Oregon landmark. Students are currently being asked to donate the remainder of their breakage fund deposits to the restoration fund.

Long range plans for the landmark include recreational facilities resembling the traditional Anchorage. First in the restoration program was the construction of the Millrace boathouse which was dedicated last spring. Canoes are rented during fair weather to students and towns-

Convo, Scheduled at Mac Court To Highlight Third Charter Day

The University's 80th birthday will be celebrated next week at the third annual Charter Day observance.

Highlight of the observance will be the convocation Wednesday afternoon at McArthur Court. Featured speaker will be Lee DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology. "Science, The Servant of Mankind" will be his subject.

Concert Tickets Free

The Eger Players, a group of four musicians, will open Charter Day activities on Tuesday evening in the Student Union Ballroom. The ensemble, headed by Joseph Eger, combines piano, violin, cello and French horn in solos, sonatas, trios and quartets.

Free tickets for the concert may be picked up at the Student Union main desk.

Redfield to Lecture

Concluding the 80th birthday observance will be a lecture Wednesday night by Robert Redfield. Redfield is one of the nation's most prominent anthropologists and social scientists and is a professor at Chicago University.

Taking part in the convocation, for which 2 and 3 p.m. Wednesday classes will be dismissed, will be the University Singers and the University band.

Charter Day has been planned by a student-faculty committee headed by William C. Jones, dean of administration.

Skull and Dagger Petitions Now Due

Interested sophomore men should submit their petitions for Skull and Dagger membership by Friday at 4:30 p.m. according to Walt Shreck, president. There are two vacancies to be filled by the petitioners who must have a 2.0 GPA and a 2.0 last term.

A picture of the petitioner is required.

State High School Press Conclave To Open Today

Approximately 800 yearbook and newspaper staff members from state press institutions are arriving on the University campus this morning for the opening of the 30th annual Oregon High School Press Conference.

The two-day conclave officially gets underway at 2 p.m. this afternoon with addresses by Willard L. Thompson, director of public services at the University, and Paul Jacobson, dean of the school of education. An hour and a half registration period from 12 to 1:30 p.m. will precede the initial session.

Various seminars in reporting, editorial, sports and feature writing, makeup and photography will be included in the newspaper program. At the same time there are scheduled sessions for those interested in yearbook activities, namely copy writing and editing, photography, art and layout.

'Car-Avan' to be Split Into Two Groups

Because many cars are leaving early for the Oregon-Washington game, it has been decided by the Rally Board that the "Car-avan" will be broken into two groups—one to leave at 2 p.m. and one to leave at 4 p.m. The rally in Portland, police escorts and the street dance in Seattle have been scheduled for the 4 p.m. group, however.

Early arrivees in Seattle are asked to check with the student body office to find out where the rally dance for both Washington and Oregon students will be held. If no arrangements have been made, the Oregon contingent will meet in front of the Washington chapter of the SAE house on the arrival of the second "car-avan" about 10 p.m. to make further plans.

The 4 p.m. caravan should take sack lunches or line up pizza-to-go for on-the-road eating to cut rest stop time to a minimum. A gas stop will be made at Portland and a change of drivers should be made at that time.

Everyone making the trip should remember to take beanies, ribbons, pom-poms, and noise-makers.

All men will meet Saturday noon in front of the SAE house, Washington chapter, for a pre-game special rally, lasting till about 1 p.m.

'Lemon Punch' Foundation Set

Groundwork was laid Thursday afternoon for the independent literary-humor magazine, Lemon Punch, as Dave Rankin and Darrel Daniels met with interested personnel at the College Side inn.

Approximately 30 students attended the organizational meeting. Although no definite staff positions were appointed, preferences were indicated and permanent assignments will be made later. Particular emphasis was stressed for art and photography personnel as illustrations and ads are needed.

The off-campus magazine is scheduled for publication Dec. 1 and will be a monthly publication thereafter. The first edition calls for a 1500 circulation of about 30 pages, selling for 25 cents.

"We want them fighting in the streets for it," says Darrel Daniels, and adds, "We think it'll really go over great and develop into something big." He further emphasized it is strictly an independent project, the office even located off-campus in the old Prouty's bookstore shop.

Students interested in working on the magazine may still contact Daniels or Rankin at DI 5-9428.

Frosh Yell Dukes Still Can Petition

Deadline for frosh yell duke petitions has been postponed to 5 p.m. Monday. All active freshman men are encouraged to petition.

Petitions may be obtained in the SU office.

SU to Close For Charter Day

The University of Oregon library and the soda bar and recreation areas of the Erb Memorial Student Union will be closed 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday.

This will provide staff members the opportunity to attend the Charter Day activities in McArthur Court.

12 Finalists Chosen in UO Joe, Betty Competition

Six men and six women were named as finalists by a panel of local judges in the annual Betty Co-ed and Joe College contest held in conjunction with the Sophomore Whiskerino.

Winners will be announced at the dance Oct. 20.

Betty Co-ed finalists are Sue Sandoz, nominated by Susan Campbell hall; Karen Moke, Carson 4; Sharon Meyer, Delta Gamma; Mary Schulze, Alpha Phi, Larrilyn Carr, Kappa Alpha Theta and Sherry Ross Hall; and Judy Ecklund, Barrister Hall.

Competing in the Joe College contest are Pete Lamoureux, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Harvey McKelvey, Beta Theta Pi; George Brandt, Phi Psi; Terry Williams,

Students will vote for the candidate of their choice at the Whiskerino.

Crowning of the winners will be the highlight of the Sophomore Whiskerino intermission. The dance will feature the music of Baker's Half Dozen. Tickets will be on sale next week for $1.65 a couple.

"Hillbilly" Theme

Students of all classes may attend the dance, but beard-growing for the event will be required only of sophomore men. The dance has a "hillbilly" theme. Cottons and flats for women and jeans and shirts for the men will be the recommended dress.

In addition to the naming of the sophomore royalty, a special feature will be presented by the committee chairmen.

Men to Grow Beards

Beard-growing contest winners will be presented. Winners in the two classifications, the best beard and the best novelty beard, will receive free shaves by Charlie Elliot, local barber.

Last year's winners in the various contests included Joan Rainville and Gordon Summers, Betty Co-ed and Joe College; Ron Creps, champion beard-grower; and Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Phi Epsilon, the houses with the highest percentage of men with beards.
