Disapproval of drinking at football games was voiced Thursday night by the ASUO Senate.

A formal statement was issued after the Senate discussed the matter for more than an hour. The suggestion that the senate state its views was made at the body's meeting two weeks ago.

The Senate defeated a proposal by the committee ASUO President Darrel Brittsan appointed two weeks ago. Then it amended a new proposal by a committee which left the meeting to draft another statement.

IFC Resolves Athletic Switch

The Inter-fraternity council voted Thursday night to make one recommendation on intramural athletic rule changes to the intramural committee.

At the present time, they can compete spring term only.

Other possible resolutions for rule changes were discussed, but no action was taken.

Petitions Due For Canoe Fete Chairmanship

Junior Weekend Canoe Fete general chairmanship petitions will be due Monday at 5 p.m. in the Student Union. Interviews will be held on Tuesday and petitioners will be called concerning appointments.

Petitioners are not required to be juniors but should have some previous Canoe Fete experience in the last year or two so that they will be familiar with the problems concerned.

Each petition should suggest a theme for the combined campus sing, prom, lunch, canoe fete, and floats. Two previous themes have been "As I Sit and Dream at Evening" and "Disneyland."

Junior Weekend is May 17-18.

YW Commissions Positions Open

Upperclass women interested in participating in the YWCA Public Affairs commission should contact Connie Hopkins at DI 5-0214. They will be studying integrated schools, politics, and other matters affecting the public welfare.

Those interested in the Service commission, which offers its services to the Pearl Buck School and other charitable organizations, should contact the YWCA office in Gerlinger Hall.

The statement which was accepted is a combination of the report of the second committee and of Jim Lynch, who offered the final amendment.

The Senate statement on drinking at football games is as follows:

"To act as an enforcing arm of the Oregon Liquor Control Commission is not the job of the ASUO Senate. However, the fact that drinking at football games has become a serious problem on many campuses has led the Senate to evaluate the situation at Oregon. In order to avoid more serious consequences, the Senate goes on record as disapproving drinking at football games, and requests the cooperation of the student body in helping to achieve this goal."

The only Senators voting against this statement were Phil Hill, Brian Booth and Quincy Powers. Absent when the vote was taken were Doug Basham, Bob Snyder, Gordon Summers, Don Smith and faculty member Leo Harris and Donald DuShane, Senate advisers.

Carnival Approved

In other Senate action, another activity was added to the winter calendar of events. The Senate approved University participation in an Oregon Intercollegiate Winter Carnival, which will be held Jan. 26 and 27 at Timberline Lodge at Mt. Hood.

Two representatives will be selected to help with plans and details of the carnival. Expense money, estimated at $50 for the representatives, will come from ASUO insurance profit.

Frosh Election Set

Doug Basham, ASUO vice-president, announced that freshman and graduate student elections will be held Nov. 14. Petition deadline will be Nov. 7. Freshman class officers—president, vice-president, and two representatives—and one graduate student representative, will be elected at this time.

A general election will also be held during the term to vote on a constitutional amendment to separate presidential and representative candidates on election ballots. The amendment failed to pass in last spring's election due to an insufficient number of votes.

Chairmen Report

A Homecoming report was given by Bev Landon and Ken Kirkpatrick, Homecoming co-chairmen. Planning is well underway for all activities, they told the Senate.

Floats have been scheduled for the float parade, and arrangements have been cleared with the city. Trophies will be presented to all first place float winners, and arrangements have been completed to give the winners special seating at the USC game in Portland Nov. 17.

Sign Topic Given

"Personalities From Oregon Throughout the Years" will be the theme of this year's sign contest. This year there will be double judging, both on Friday evening and Saturday morning. A $50 limit has been placed on signs this year, and the limit will be enforced, Kirkpatrick said.

Theme for the Homecoming Dance will be the "Roaring Twenties." Negotiations are now underway to obtain a band for the dance.

The appointments of Mal Scott and Nan Hagedorn to the ASUO Constitutional Committee were approved by the Senate.

Perry Reports Added Rumors

More false rumors concerning Oregon pictures and pairings for the Rally dance were reported Thursday by Jim Perry, Oregon editor. Any future rumors should be checked with the Oregon, Perry emphasized.

Latest in the series of telephone calls by a person representing himself as an Oregon staff member, not from Kennell-Ellis, as previously reported, was to at least three independent women's living organizations. The hoaxer claimed that pictures of independent students wouldn't appear in this year's Oregon.

This rumor, and the subsequent rumor concerning changing of pairings for the rally dance, are entirely unfounded, Perry declared.

Wednesday night, a series of telephone calls to women's groups reported falsely that picture proofs taken earlier this week had been accidentally destroyed.

Phone Hoaxer Snarls Rally

The latest campus hoax almost resulted in members of Kappa Kappa Gamma being fought over by several of the University's larger fraternities.

The unknown man called the fraternity Thursday and told them the pairings for last night's rally had been changed. "You're supposed to pick up the Kappas instead," he informed them.

When one other sorority heard they were to be jilted a call to a member of the Rally Board was made. Meanwhile, another board member, Bob Prall, had heard from members of several fraternities about the call.

He quickly called the fraternities and straightened them out. As a result the Kappas had to be content with only one fraternity, Sigma Chi, as an escort.
