

Luncheon Planned Today For Magazine Executive

Prudence Stephenson, West Coast editor of Mademoiselle magazine, will address an informal luncheon meeting of Gamma Alpha Chi and Theta Sigma Pi today in the Student Union.

The two sponsoring groups are University chapters of national professional fraternities for women in advertising and journalism.

Miss Stephenson is in Eugene as commentator for the "Hearts of Fashion" show tonight at Eugene High school. It will feature fashions from Russell's which are pictured in the February issue of Mademoiselle. Fashion show tickets are available at the Emerald news desk.

Majoring in textile and textile design while in college, Miss Stephenson's fashion background is extensive and varied.

She started her career at Sak's in Beverly Hills and later joined Bullock's as a buyer. Wanting to learn also about the cutting and making of apparel she spent some time in the manufacturing end of the business.

Before joining Mademoiselle's staff in 1955 she had been West Coast sportswear buyer for the Allied Purchasing Corporation.

Tonight's fashion show is sponsored by Alpha Zeta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, a national non-academic sorority for the purpose of intellectual and social advancement of working girls.

Proceeds are to go to the Children's Hospital School in Eugene, which is a state project of the sorority.

which couples had their pictures taken. Dick Dorr's band played for the event, which followed a dinner at the Driftwood.

At Kappa Kappa Gamma

A southern plantation theme, "Terra Bella," was used by the Kappas at their winter term formal. One room, decorated in pink, resembled a grand ballroom, complete with drapes and chandeliers. Another room was filled with gardenias, pink trees and stars against a black background.

A dinner preceding the dance, was held at the Eugene Hotel. The Baker's Half Dozen played for the affair, which was held in honor of the pledges.

At Pi Beta Phi

Marilyn Mount is wearing the Sigma Phi Epsilon pin of Bob Zwald, and Pat White is pinned to Bob Lutsen, a graduate of the University of Washington and a member of Sigma Nu.

Sue Ramsby is wearing the pin of Bob Ede, a Beta, and Kathy Dahl is pinned to Squire Bozarth, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Senior Julie Miller recently told of her engagement to Mike Nosler, a Phi Delta Theta.

At Sigma Kappa

"Gotta Be This or That" was the theme of the Sigma Kappa semi-formal house dance last Saturday night. The decorations were divided in three parts, representing paradise, the Garden of Eden, and Hades.

Paradise featured stars, clouds and angel hair. A golden tree with a golden apple and a large black snake guarded the entrance to the Garden of Eden, which was done in gold, and featured a wishing well. Hades was decorated in red flames, with a red devil at the entrance.

Separate class dinners were held before the dance. The Vondis Miller trio played for the event, which was in honor of the pledges.

Warning Given 18-Year-Olds

Earl H. Hill, chairman of local Selective Service Board No. 13, states: "The currently reduced monthly calls for induction in Oregon has resulted in an increased letdown of prompt registration by young men upon reaching the age of eighteen years."

"Young men are coming in to register anywhere from two weeks to several months after their eighteenth birthday." He further says, "This is not a willful disregard of the Law in most instances, but is considered to be an oversight. It is a condition, however, that should be promptly corrected."

He concluded with a warning, "Even though inductions may continue to be very light, and to a large extent may be filled by those volunteering for induction, the Universal Military Training and Service Act still requires every young man to register with Selective Service at the local board office or with an appointed registrar within five days after he attains the age of eighteen."

Delta Queen Contest Begins

Delta Queen contest begins this evening with the selection of 12 semi-finalists from 26 contestants. All candidates will be guests of Delta Tau Delta at a coffee hour after dinner.

The 12 semi-finalists will be notified of their selection on Thursday.
