

Year in Holland Offered Men In IFC Program

Applications are now being accepted by the Inter-fraternity Council for the Exchange Student program with the Netherlands.

Any male student, preferably a sophomore or freshman, is eligible to apply. Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Jean Phelps in the Office of Student Affairs. They should be returned there by Wednesday according to Don McClain, IFC president.

Each year a University student is sent by IFC to attend the College of Netherlands Foreign Institute Training at the capital Breuaelin, Holland. The winner will attend the school from September, 1957, to July, 1958.

Ralph Swenson, freshman in liberal arts here last year is now attending the school under the IFC program.

The winner's board and room and tuition will be paid at the liberal arts school, and books will be loaned to him. The winner will be responsible for his travel and incidental expenses, but a Fulbright travel grant may be obtained if application is made soon.

Each year the IFC brings a Dutch student here to study for a year, and he is housed in some fraternity.

W. Gerritsen, a business administration major, is the Dutch exchange student here this year.

The twelfth annual International Collegiate Photography Competition will take place April 19 at the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. Those interested in entering the contest may obtain the complete set of rules and entry blanks from Student Union program director, Adell McMillan, Ext. 235.

Kappa Alpha Mu, the National Press Photographers Association, and the Encyclopedia Britannica are sponsoring the contest with the cooperation of the Association of College Unions.

The pictures will be judged in six categories: news, feature, sports, pictorial, portraits and/or character, picture series and/or sequence.

The fifty best entries will be shown for the first time at the KAM convention May 5-7 at the University of Miami. The photographs will afterwards be sent to colleges and universities throughout the nation.

A set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica will be awarded the first place winners. In addition to this award, the photographer with the prize-winning portfolio will spend an expense-paid week in New York as the guest of Life Magazine.

THREE MEMBERS of the Japanese-American troupe show off costumes which will be worn in the Music, Dance and Dress of Japan, a Festival of Arts Program which will be presented Sunday at 8 p.m. in the School of Music auditorium.

Festival Program To Feature Japan

The music, dance, and dress of Japan will be the subject of Sunday's "East Meets West" Festival of Arts program at 8 p.m. in the School of Music auditorium.

The program will be presented by a Japanese-American troupe from Portland, consisting of dancers, musicians, and models.

A selection by the dancers will begin the program. Then, several instrumental selections on Japanese instruments will be followed by modeling and explanations of Japanese dress. During this section of the program, the models will demonstrate the various methods of Obi tying. The obi, a part of Japanese dress, is tied according to the age of the wearer.

Another dance, this time a solo with commentary, will close the program.

Eight to Compete For Little Colonel

Eight finalists have been selected to compete for Little Colonel of the Military Ball to be held March 2. Four of the finalists are Army Little Majors and four are Air Force Little Majors. The group selling the most tickets to the ball will pick one of its Little Majors to be Little Colonel.

Army finalists are: Christie Schoellenbach, Kappa Alpha Theta; Donna Davenport, Carson 3; Jane Zeller, Carson 4; and Betty Bullock, Pi Beta Phi. Air Force candidates are: Jan McMurphey, Alpha Phi; Laurie Fischer, Alpha Chi Omega; Beverly Landon, Chi Omega; and Nancy Warren, Delta Gamma.

In addition to reigning over the Military Ball, the Little Colonel will be guest of honor at many military functions during the year. Last year's Little Colonel was Shirley McLean, Kappa Kappa Gamma, who represented the Army cadet regiment.

LIKE TO HELP WITH THE NEXT ONE?

The North American airplanes of the future will come from the creative potential of today's young men. Possibly you—or members of your graduating class—will help to engineer them. One thing is certain. They will have to be the best to merit the space reserved alongside the famous North American planes pictured in this ad.

Designing the best airplanes to meet the demands of the future is the challenging work North American offers to graduate engineers and to specialists in other sciences. If you want to work on advanced projects right from the start... enjoy recognition and personal rewards... live and work in Southern California... then join North American's outstanding engineering team.
