Freshman Picnic Scheduled Sunday

The Frosh Picnic will be held this Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at Fern Ridge Lake on the Perkins peninsula, according to Diana Scott, general chairman of the event. The picnic will be for "all freshmen and only freshmen," she said.

Servings of the free picnic lunch prepared by the dormitories, will be served from 1 to 1:45 p.m., and freshmen will not be served in the dormitories for this meal, she said.

All those without transportation are to meet in front of Carson hall at 12:45 p.m. Anyone with transportation who is planning to attend is requested to pick up passengers at Carson, Miss Scott added.

Swimming, softball, volleyball, and relays are planned for the afternoon activity.

John Packham is recreation chairman for the event, Karen Hogren and Brian Dutton are in charge of food and serving, and Chuck Hale is in charge of transportation.

Schwering Scholarship Offered Jr. Women

Junior women may now petition for the Hazel Schwering scholarship, according to Dean of Women Golda Wickham. The scholarship is offered every year, and money for the grant is raised by exchange dinners between women's living organizations.

YMCA Committee Petitions Sought

Petitions for publicity, worship class and activity chairmanships and committee memberships in the YMCA have been called for by Gerry Brown, president of the Y.

Requirements for the posts include a 2.0 GPA. More information about the petitions may be obtained at the YMCA office.

Until these restrictions are lifted there will be no incentive for any living organization to produce a skit that will be high in quality. The trend will continue to be a playing "down" to the high school seniors.

Castell appeared in connection with a Danforth Foundation project in teacher education and religion.

'Elijah' Set for Thursday Concert

"Elijah," an oratorio by Felix Mendelssohn, will be presented Thursday at 8 p.m. in McArthur Court by a group of more than 400 singers and musicians.

The concert will be the last in the current series of University-Eugene Symphony presentations. Featured in the concert will be the University Choral Union and four soloists. Theodore Kratt will conduct the group.

Soloists for the presentation include Exine Anderson Bailey, University assistant professor of voice; Arthur Bailey, Eugene voice instructor; Dorothy French, Winchester Bay, and Bernard Hyorth, Portland professional singer.

All University students will be admitted free to the concert upon presentation of their student body tickets.

"Elijah" was last performed at the University in 1940, with Dean Pratt as conductor.

YMCA Seeks Heads For Three Committees

Gary Brown, president of the YMCA, is calling for petitions for chairmanships of the publicity committee, worship committee and for co-chairmen of activity committee. Committee members are also needed on these committees, Brown said.

A 2.0 accumulative grade point average is required, Brown said. Petitions should be turned in at the "Y" office, he added.

Petitions Asked For SU Groups

Thursday at 4 is the deadline for the return of all petitions for membership on the Student Union skeleton committees.

SU personnel chairman Betty Bullock is asking all of this year's active committee members to petition for one of the skeleton groups. The petition blanks

VIDEOT'S DELIGHT

The academic world has made its first tentative steps into television. A few lectures, a few seminars, but may I respectfully suggest that the academic world has not yet learned the full potential of television?

Why don't the colleges use television's vast capacity to dramatize, to amuse, to unshackle the imagination? Like, for example, this:

ANNOUNCER: Howdy, folks. Well, it's time again for that lovable, laughable pair, Emmett Twonkey Magruder, Ph.D., and Felicia May Crimscott, M.A., in that rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101. . . And here they are, the team that took the "hiss" out of "history"—Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott!

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, folks. A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate. A mendicant approached me and said, "Excuse me, sir, will you give me 25 cents for a sandwich?" I replied, "Perhaps I will, my good man. Let me see the sandwich."

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh, how droll, Dr. Magruder! How piquant! How je ne sais quoi! . . . But enough of badinage. Let us get on with our rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101.

DR. MAGRUDER: Today we will dramatize the taut and tingling story of John Smith and Pocahontas. I will play Captain Smith and Miss Crimscott will play Pocahontas.

ANNOUNCER: But first a message from our sponsor. . . Folks, have you tried a Philip Morris lately? Have you treated yourself to that good natural tobacco—zestful yet mild, hearty yet gentle, rich yet dulcet? Hmmm? Have you? . . . If not, light a Philip Morris soon. Light either end. . . And now to our grim and gripping story. Picture, if you will, a still summer night. An Indian maid stands by a moonlit brook. Suddenly she hears a footstep behind her. She turns. . .

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh! John Smith! You-um startle-um me-um!

DR. MAGRUDER: Hello, Pocahontas. What are you doing down by the brook?

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Just washing out a few scalps. But what-um you-um want-um?

DR. MAGRUDER: I came to see the Chief.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: You-um can't-um. Chief is leaving for Chicago.

DR. MAGRUDER: On what track?

ANNOUNCER: And speaking of tracks, stay on the right track with Philip Morris—the track that heads straight for smoking pleasure, for fun, for frolic, for sweet content. . . And now back to those two cool cats, Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott.

DR. MAGRUDER: Well, folks, that's all for today. See you next week, same time, same station.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Stay tuned now for "William Cullen Bryant: Girl Intern."

ANNOUNCER: And remember, folks, each end of Philip Morris is ignitable. It's just good, rich, natural tobacco, any way you light it!

Any way you light it, it's great. Any way you like it—long size or regular—we've got it. Natural Philip Morris! Made by the people who bring you this column.
