

MGM Prestige Gets Boost from Picture

BY JOHN LENGEL

Emerald Entertainment Editor

"Don't Go Near the Water," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, provides a much needed boost to MGM's sagging prestige. With "Water" the one time titan of the cinema industry proves that it can still turn out a good film on occasion.

The script deals with a public relations detachment stationed in the Pacific during World War II. The mission of said detachment is to "sell" the Navy to the natives in the area, or anyone else concerned.

Slate of Problems

The detachment runs through the script's slate of problems with a full sail, giving the audience the best laughs since "Mr. Roberts."

The executives around the studio put together an all-star cast for the production. Glen Ford, Earl Holliman, Mickey Shaughnessy, Anne Francis, Gloria Scalia, Eva Gabor, and Keenan Wynn keep the whole thing moving in fine fashion.

Of special merit is the work of Holliman in the role of the unit's commander. You may have seen Holliman in many a character role before, and the plaudits are still the same—good job.

One of Best Scenes

Mickey Shaughnessy, the prizefighter in "Designing Woman," gives movie goers one of the best scenes in a long time. Shaughnessy (Arrgonout Jones), is a riot when he and MGM slip by the censor's pencil.

If your not doing anything else this weekend, go on in, the waters fine.

"Torero", isn't a bad effort either, it's the spirit that counts.

Open House Set By Emerald Staff

Students interested in working on the Emerald winter term are invited to an open house and general staff meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. Workers are needed for photography, reporting, copy desk, advertising, office staff, and general assignment posts.

Record Auction Set For Friday At Four

Sixty records from the Jazz and Recorded Classics listening room will be auctioned off this afternoon at the first 1958 performance of Friday at Four. Auctioneer and master-of-ceremonies will be Dick Bond.

Other performers on today's show will include Pete Apo, vocalist; Jim Krowl, comedy act; and Pat Taylor, vocalist.

Advertising Week Planned

"America is a Better America, Thanks to Advertising" is the theme for Advertising Week Feb. 9-15 sponsored by the Advertising Association of the West and the Advertising Federation of America.

According to Norm Steen and Dorothy West, presidents respectively of Alpha Delta Sigma and of Gamma Alpha Chi, sponsors of the event here, the observances at national and local levels will dramatize how advertising serves all segments of our population.

Jon Masterson, of Alpha Delta Sigma, and chairman of the Advertising Week will be aided by committee members Larry Kott, Glen Graves, John Hutchinson, Henry Martin, and several GAX representatives.

SU CURRENTS

"Pete Kélley's Blues," the feature movie of the week, will be shown at 2:30 and 5 p.m. Sunday in the SU Ballroom.

The Student Union Coffee Hour committee will meet Monday at 4 p.m. in the SU, according to Lynn Yarnell, chairman.

Former UO Prof Dies in New York

Dr. Arthur Lachman, 83, a former University of Oregon professor, died recently at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City.

During his teaching career, which began in 1895, Dr. Lachman held posts at several universities.

Program Designed

Highlight of the chemistry department program will be a film, "Modern Alchemy—the Story of Trans-uranium Elements."

Three faculty members, Richard Davis, Raymond Mikesell, and P. B. Simpson, will discuss "What Economists are Interested in—the 1957 program of the American Economists Association. The economics department sponsors this meeting in Comm. 137.

Role of History

"The Role of History in the Liberal Education" is the subject of a panel discussion in Comm. 134 by the department of history.

The mathematics department will hold two meetings, one for lower division mathematics students (Deady 106), and the other for upper division majors (Deady 102). Similar programs have been planned by the English department (Friendly 105), the sociology department (Comm. 243), and the speech department (Villard 102).

Sociology Program

The Sociology Club in cooperation with the department will put on a program for lower division students. Members of the staff will comment briefly and a short talk will be given by club president, Ray Logan. Room is Comm. 243.

A faculty member from each of the four areas of the speech department (theater, radio and television, speech and hearing therapy, and public-speaking) will be in the department's assembly.

Mrs. Wickham . . .

(Continued from page 1) lected as chairmen for the pledge class auction. The legislature also voted that no pledge class could spend more than $10.00 on expenses although costumes could be borrowed and not counted in the expense account. No pledge with below a 2.0 GPA may participate, Miss Walcott said.

Women's Week

The last thing discussed was Women's Week to be held from February 10-14 with women's elections slated for Feb. 12 and the Apple Polishing Party for Feb. 10.

The next legislature meeting will be Jan. 23 at 4 p.m. in the Student Union.
