

FOR MOST MAJORS

Speakers, Panelists Named for Assemblies

A number of University schools and departments will sponsor assemblies designed to aid students in their chosen majors at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

A Reed College professor, Lloyd Reynolds, will address the school of architecture and allied art's assembly in the school's conference room. He will discuss hand lettering.

Executive to Talk

Arthur M. Cannon, vice-president and treasurer of Standard Insurance Co. of Portland, will talk at the School of business administration assembly. His topic will be "The Investment Outlook."

"Why are there Criticisms of Education" is the topic to be discussed by a panel at the school of education assembly in Education 315.

Dean Will Speak

Speaker at the school of health and physical education assembly will be A.A. Esslinger, dean of the school.

Pre-law students will hear Circuit Judge A. T. Goodwin of Eugene at the law school assembly in Fenton 3. His topic will be "The Lawyer's Opportunities."

Tom Wright, administrative assistant to the Governor and former UO student, will talk on "Front Row Seat at the State House" at the journalism school assembly. Room number is Allen 221.

Faculty to Review

Music majors will hear Theodore Kratt, dean of the school of music. Faculty members of the foreign languages (Friendly 214) and philosophy (Chapman 203) will review job opportunities in their areas.

A film, "Modern Alchemy—the Story of Uranium Elements" will be shown in the chemistry department.

Richard Davis, Raymond Mikesell and P. B. Simpson, faculty members, will discuss "What Economists are Interested in—the 1957 Program of the American Economists Association." The meeting will be at Comm. 137.

A panel will discuss "The Role of History in the Liberal Education" in Comm. 134 at the history department's assembly.

The mathematics department will hold two meetings, one for lower division students (Deady 106) and upper division (Deady 102). Similar programs have been planned by the English department (Friendly 105) and the sociology department (Comm. 243) and the speech department (Villard 102).

Members of the Sociology Club will present a program for lower division students. Room is Comm. 243.

A faculty member from each of the four areas of speech department (theater, radio and television, speech and hearing therapy, and public speaking), will be in the department's assembly.

Activity Points

Lynn Yarnell, co-chairman of Dad's Weekend, is calling for theme suggestions for the event. A prize will be given for the winning theme. Miss Yarnell may be reached at the Chi Omega house. Deadline for submitting entries is Wednesday.

YMCA is calling for petitions due Wednesday for elective offices of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

Petitions are being called for for general secretary of the AWS Auction, according to general co-chairmen Diane Duncan and Judy Eggen.

They will be due Monday on the third floor of the Student Union. Petitioners must have at least sophomore standing.

FIVE THOUSAND GALLONS of fuel are transported by this new carrier—a chain of 10-five-foot-high, 500 gallon capacity rubber tire bags. Advantage is rough terrain doesn't limit transportation. System was developed for Army's Transportation Research and Engineering Command by Four-Wheel Drive Auto Co., at Clintonville, Wis., and Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.
