RE Week Begins With Reception

By KAY JOSSELYN
Religious Notes Editor

Religious Emphasis Week will begin this Sunday, with the many excellent speakers to be heard throughout the week appearing at a reception and dinner.

The reception and dinner to introduce the speakers will be Sunday 5:30 p.m. at Wesley Foundation. Tickets for the dinner may be purchased at the Student Union. Many of the religious houses on the campus are attending this event en masse rather than having planned programs at their own places.

Love and Marriage Theme

The theme for this year's RE Week is "What does your faith say about love and marriage and why does it say it?" This theme is carried out in the speakers' topics, coffee hours, and personal conferences. More information on this series will be carried by the Emerald today and all of next week.

The Religious Emphasis Week offers students and faculty a time to meet and talk with outstanding people in the area of "Love and Marriage." You are encouraged to attend the meetings, and to arrange for personal conferences with the speakers.

At Westminster House, Sunday morning, students will meet at 9:30 for coffee and a discussion hour before going to church. The topic for this Sunday's discussion is in keeping with the general theme for RE Week, and will be "What Is This Thing Called Love?"

Moscow Speaker Set

Rev. Harry Johns, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Moscow, Idaho, and guest speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, will be the speaker at the Wesley Foundation church service Sunday morning, at 11 a.m. The service will be followed by an informal coffee hour.

Also at Wesley are two week-day classes. Tuesday's is "American Protestant Christianity," which is led by Rev. Bob Burton. "Paul's Letters to Local Churches," is the Wednesday class and will be taught by Rev. Ken Peterson, Methodist University Pastor.

The Wesley Inquirers' Group will be meeting Thursday at noon. This group discusses problems of faith and religious practices.

Stauffer to Speak

The Roger Williams Fellowship will meet at the Emerald Baptist Church on Sunday evenings this term. Dr. Wayne Stauffer will be the guest speaker; the topic of his talk will be in keeping with the theme for Religious Emphasis Week. The group will gather at 6:15 in the Fellowship Lounge for light refreshments before the meeting.

Christian House members will be cake-baking tonight, with a work party scheduled for the following morning.

Ex-Prof to Lead Class

Sunday morning discussion classes at Christian House begin at 9:30. Mr. Walter Myers, former pastor and professor will lead the class on "The Nature and Beliefs of the Disciples of Christ," and Dr. Paul Means of the Department of Religion, at the University will guide a study group on the book of Romans.

Again let us remind you of the many activities of an interesting Religious Emphasis Week program this week, Sunday through Thursday.

Dorm Pairings Set for Monday

Dormitory pairings for Religious Emphasis Week have been announced by Del Fields, RE Week fireside chairman. The firesides will be held Monday from 6 to 7:15 p.m.

Skit Themes Due By Pledge Class

Pledge class skit themes are due today at 5 p.m. They may be reported by phone to chairmen Diane Duncan and Judy Eggen at DI 5-4641 or DI 5-6711, or by petition to the ASUO petition box on the third floor of the Student Union.

Tryouts for the Auction, scheduled for Jan. 24 at 4 p.m. in the SU Ballroom, will be held Monday evening in the SU. A time schedule for the tryouts will appear in Monday's Emerald.

Pledge classes are reminded that no one who got less than a 2.0 GPA last term may be in a skit, and that a $10.00 limit has been placed on expenses, the chairmen said. If either of these rules are violated a pledge class will be automatically disqualified, they emphasized.

Five skits will be chosen on the basis of the tryouts for the auction. Last year's winner was Kappa Kappa Gamma which was sold to Alpha Hall for $131.

TV to Feature Student Acts

The public relations committee of the Student Union has announced the program for "Campus Capers," the Saturday television production planned for KVAL-TV, Ch. 13, at 1:15 p.m. This is the third in a series of half hour shows.

Master of ceremonies is Chuck Hale. The program includes talent, current events, and personalities. In the show are: Diana Scott, Sharon Rafferty, vocalist Sue Hall, dancers Kathy Knowlton, Sue Lathrop, Sharon Petrik, and a flying speech for the Frosh Snoball.
