for the bicycle riders and eliminate this muddy mess.

The ski club has a good idea with its "Ride Book." Why can't this idea be used by all the students of the University? Every weekend people go to Salem, Portland, etc., some riding in cars and others in busses. I know there are many girls without cars who would much rather pay a buck for gas and ride with a Beta (or some lower form) than pay three bucks and ride alone on the bus. Everyone would save money and a better time would be had by all. A book with appropriate columns in which to write when and where would be all that is needed.

The Emerald classified ad page serves a fine purpose but something more is needed. I suggest a large bulletin board in the library, S.U., or some other central location, where students could post, free of charge, any ad offering services or products for sale or trade. The only limitation would be that it have a date and not be larger than a specific size. To eliminate overcrowding some one could periodically remove all dated over two weeks.

The Search . . .

for security evident in the most emphasized areas of campus life.

There is a search for security on the campus. Some students have listened to the old song so much that they have marched into the classroom singing it; you must have a college education to achieve your place in the world. And so they seek the security of the college diploma.

Right along with them, however, are the people—some of the same who are in activities—who are only in college because "it's the thing to do." The oft-told tales of the old man's big blasts down at the U back in 1926 and the wild stories of the country club promoters help this motivation if there is no family tradition to attend Oregon.

Some of these people are getting an education in spite of themselves. Fortunately for others the army or the local telephone will take them up when the pink slip arrives in the mail. And fortunately for the remaining students, admis-

Cosmo Club Sets Swedish Program

Swedish students will present the Cosmopolitan Club program Friday at 8 p.m. at the Congregational Church, 23rd and Potter Street.

The program will include several short talks about Swedish life, samples of folk dancing and singing and two films. A discussion period will follow the program.

Participating in the program will be Hemming Hakansson, Eva Nisser, Tarmo Tikka, Katarina Widell, Ake Dahllof, and Lena Graslund. They are all on campus as part of foreign student exchange programs.

Refreshments will be served, and music with an international flavor will be furnished for dancing. All students are invited.

sions are tightening and flunks are given with less fear.

But for now any analysis of the students must include both types: those who are looking for security and those who are just looking.

UT To Present 'Tiger at Gates'

University Theater performers will present "Tiger at the Gates," a comedy by Jean Giraudoux, in a reader's theatre version Friday and Saturday nights.

The play takes place on the eve of the famous Trojan war and is drawn from Greek history and mythology. It deals with the complications introduced when Paris, son of the King of Troy, returns home with the Greek Helen, known to moderns as "the face that launched a thousand ships."

The play will be presented in a reading style, such as the "No Exit" and "An Orphan in China" productions on the University Theatre stage. The Paul Gregory touring productions of "John Brown's Body" and "The Riv- alry" by the Civic Music Association were also presented in this style.

The cast has been selected by Director Horace W. Robinson from both the campus and Eugene areas.

Among those appearing in the play are Gerda Brown, Daniel Krempel, Lee Young and Mary and Marvin Krenk. Mrs. Brown was seen last summer in the UT presentation of "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Young of Seoul, Korea, appeared as Sakini in this fall's presentation of "Teahouse of the August Moon."

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels — a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No" answers mean you better get on to Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco makes the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!
