An event the night of February 21 at the Delta Gamma house was senior Sue Walcott's engagement announcement to Dave Kjome, Phi Delt now attending Portland State.

Decorations and refreshments at the after-hours party carried out the theme, "Floating On a Cloud." The room was decorated in blue and white with the couple's names printed on the mirror. A big white cloud with a Phi Delt shield and a DG anchor served as the centerpiece. Ice cream was served.

Guests at the party were Mrs. J. R. Walcott, Mrs. Leo Kleiman, Mrs. John Kjome and Kathy Kjome. The wedding will be in Portland, August 9.

Junior Named Best-Dressed

Joan Alforno was selected as the best-dressed girl on the Oregon campus Monday from a group of 14 nominees. She was named by a non-student committee.

Runner-ups for the honor were Kaye Tomlinson and Kathy Cook, second and third place, respectively.

Joan, a transfer this year from a California junior college, is a junior majoring in sociology. She is an Alpha Chi Omega and comes from Albany, California.

Appearing before selections committee members Miss Margaret Mueller, assistant professor of home economics; Mrs. Bessie Campbell, fashion co-ordinator of The Bon Marche; and Douglas Brinkman, promotions head of Russell's, Joan wore a black and white salt and pepper skirt and a black three-quarter length sleeve cardigan.

She topped her costume with a camel's hair boy coat. Black flats completed her ensemble.

Joan will be entered in Glamour magazine's contest to select the 10 best-dressed girls in America. She will be photographed in a campus outfit, an afternoon costume and in party wear. Glamour will select its ten finalists on the basis of pictures submitted and will fly the winners to New York in June.

While in New York, the nationwide winners will stay at the Waldorf-Astoria and will appear in the magazine's back-to-school fashion show.

Five feet, 8½ inches tall, Joan has sandy-brown hair, green eyes and suntanned skin. She was chosen on the basis of personal grooming, posture, figure and face, and clothing selection.

Others nominated for best-dressed girl were Elizabeth Walton, Martha Tubbs, Janet Maier, Sherry Houfek, Mimi Kearney, Gail Grisch, Connie Hammond, Judy Williamson, Lynne Smith, Nancy Marston and Carol Eskola.
