80-day injunction expires.
USW President David J. McDonald testified at the opening of hearings under the Taft-Hartley Act that the 500,000 steelworkers will end their 90-day strike "if they are required by law to do so."

"But the union will not be beaten," McDonald added in a prepared statement.

"The basic issue will remain. There may be a truce enforced by law but there will be no permanent peace."

Airmen: no clues
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia has told the United States that a new investigation of the fate of 11 US airmen lost on a flight over Soviet Armenia has revealed no new clues to their fate.

The bodies of 6 out of 17 crewmen on the plane, alleged by the US to have been shot down, were returned to American authorities earlier.

Reds: train spacemen
MOSCOW (AP)—Training of Soviet spacemen has been described for the first time in some detail by the magazine Ogonek.

The training appears designed primarily to stimulate conditions of rocket flights up to 300 miles. The Russians say some of their experimental dogs have returned safely to earth as many as four times from such high altitude flights.

It has been expected here for some time that the next step in Soviet space exploration will be to send a man into the outer reaches of the earth's atmosphere with the hope of bringing him back alive.

London: cabinet meets
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold MacMillan's Cabinet met yesterday for the first time since the election and presumably discussed arrangements for a summit conference. The meeting lasted 45 minutes.

Poland: relaxes
TOKYO (AP)—Poland and North Viet Nam have agreed "the international situation is tending toward relaxation" and that Poland's western border with Germany should be declared a "border of peace."

The two Communist nations also agreed to fully support what they called Red China's "legiti-mate right to recover Formosa and to win a seat in the United Nations."

The declarations were made in a joint communique Sunday.

University officials receive appointments

Herman Kehrli, director of the University's bureau of municipal research and service, and Miles C. Romney, UO professor of education, have been appointed to a special research and advisory committee created by the Legislative Interim Committee on Education.

The interim committee, of which Senator Ward H. Cook is chairman, was established by the 1959 legislature to study education and educational finance, and to work out a long-range policy for financing elementary and secondary education in Oregon. The special research and advisory committee will assist in developing the research program and compile information on school finance.

I am a creator. I create. I build dancers out of wire mesh. I sculptured a 76 pound nostril. I wear shower shoes to class. I'm arty. I need great quantities of energy for my work. I smoke Dairy Queens. You can't beat 'em. And ... they are mild.

Biology professor to speak Saturday

Dr. Aaron Novick, Professor of Biology at the University and Director of the Institute of Molecular Biology will speak on the work of the Institute at the first meeting of Chi Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, men's education honorary.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday in room 123 of the University's Science Building.

Dr. Novick came to the University in 1959 to direct the Institute. Members of the staff working with him hold joint appointments in chemistry, biology and physics. The Institute sponsors seminars, special lectures, visiting professorships and instruction in research.

This program is one in a series scheduled on the theme, "Know Your University."

University Trio performs Thursday

The first concert of the University's chamber music series will be presented by the University Trio, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the SU ballroom.

Trio members William Woods, piano; Lawrence Maves, violin; and Jerome Jelinek, cello, will play three selections. They are: Trio in D Major, Opus 70, by Beethoven; Trio Number Two, by Ross Lee Finney; and Trio in B Flat Major, Opus 99, by Schubert.

The University Trio was founded in 1958 by the faculty of the School of Music.
