Gang: stopped

PORTLAND (P)—Police headed off a gang fight in Portland streets Monday night, seizing a shotgun, hatchet and a long iron bar.

Patrolman Douglas Hickman said he and his partner found 35 youths clustered at the intersection of North Killingsworth and Williams Avenue late at night.

Hickman said that when he tried to break up the group, one boy seized a shotgun from another and pointed it at Hickman. The policeman managed to wrest it away from the youth.

Sawyer: praised

BEND (P)—A memorial program for the late Robert W. Sawyer was held here Monday at the Deschutes County courthouse.

Sawyer, a nationally known conservationist and former publisher of the Bend Bulletin, was praised as a man who helped Oregon preserve its natural resources for both recreation and use.

Former Oregon Gov. Charles A. Sprague, publisher of the Salem Statesman, was the main speaker.

Morse: attacks

PORTLAND (P)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), who earlier attacked Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass), turned today on another Democratic presidential hopeful—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn).

All three senators are possible entrants in Oregon's presidential preference primary election next May.

Project: views aired

KLAMATH FALLS (P)—Oregon should have no right to veto a federal hydroelectric project on any stream in or bordering the state, the Oregon Reclamation Congress was told here Monday.

State engineer Lewis Stanley said, however, that he drew a distinction between dams built by federal agencies and those authorized by the Federal Power Commission.

Ike: offers to meet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower reportedly has offered to fly to Paris for a meeting with French President Charles De Gaulle in an effort to remove De Gaulle's objections to an early summit meeting.

The President's offer was reported by diplomatic sources after Paris dispatches said the President had proposed to De Gaulle an allied meeting next month in preparation for summit talks.

President: travels

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower, still suffering from slight traces of a lingering cold, plans to leave for a vacation in Augusta, Georgia today. However, the White House says "no major health reasons" are responsible for the President's decision.

Hearing: recessed

PITTSBURG (UPI)—A Federal judge in Pittsburgh has recessed a hearing on a petition for a Taft-Hartley injunction to temporarily halt the steel strike.

Federal Judge Herbert Sorg did not rule on the petition, nor did he indicate whether a decision would come today. The justice department, under orders from President Eisenhower, asked for the injunction, but the steel union is opposing the request.

Officials: indicted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal grand jury has indicted two officials of the carpenters and the teamsters union.

Carpenters' President Maurice Hutcheson is charged with not telling senators if he used union funds to fix an alleged conspiracy case involving property scandals in Indiana. The indictment also accuses Ohio teamster William Presser of not producing certain union records.

Professors awarded research grants

University science professors Howard S. Mason, Edward Novitski, Donald E. Pickering, and F. J. Reithel have been awarded Public Health Service grants for research training in basic medical sciences.

The grants, made through the Division of General Medical Sciences, are part of a total of $16,578,474 expended by the division since the program was organized in July, 1958.

Mason's grant is for a $29,106 training program in biochemistry; Novitski will direct a $36,312 training program in genetics; Pickering's $25,000 grant is for a training program in pediatric biochemistry; a $17,886 training program in biochemistry will be directed by Reithel.

Training grant applications are reviewed by committees made up of non-federal experts from the various fields involved. Grants are approved by the Surgeon General on the basis of recommendations made by the National Advisory Health Council.

The awards were made to 53 institutions and universities in 29 states to provide support for the training of graduate students and postdoctoral trainees in eleven basic medical and health-related sciences.
