A FINAL text on the program will be presented at a future meeting.

Taus, Hale Kane gain IM wins in softball

Alph Tau Omega became the first team to advance to the softball semifinals by edging Campbell Club 3-2 Thursday. Hale Kane kept its championship hopes alive with a 9-2 win over Gamma and earned the right to play Clark Hall for the quarter-final spot.

The ATO's jumped to an early 2-0 lead in the first inning on the strength of a triple by Kimpton and an error by Campbell first baseman White. However, Campbell came up with a pair of runs in the third to tie it up.

Then, with two outs in the sixth inning, Simmons hit a double and another error in the Campbell infield allowed him to score. The ATO's took Campbell in three straight outs in the 7th to sew up the contest. ATO pitcher Warren was again a big factor in the win as he collected a total of ten strikeouts for his team.

Hale Kane trailed Gamma 2-1 after the first inning but a home run by Kerwin in the fifth put Hale Kane ahead 3-2. Gamma pitcher Peterson ran into trouble again in the final two innings as he walked four batters who eventually scored after outs deep in the outfield. Kahanu went the distance on the mound for Hale Kane.

Seminar group studies local University impact

The impact of the University on local land use and economic development is being studied by a seminar group in the school of business administration.

The study is taking into consideration the specific problems of parking, pattern of property values, zoning restrictions, the extent of the University's zone of influence, and the cultural contributions.

Also under consideration is the possible future influence of the University in the light of the projected 12,000 enrollment by 1970.

First phase of the study concerned the problems and prospects of the area immediately surrounding the University. The second phase concerns the part the University plays in the Eugene economy.

Clyde E. Browning, assistant professor of real estate, is conducting the seminar.

Finds of the study will be incorporated in a term-end report.

Oregon-OSC doubleheader scheduled at Howe Field

By LARRY KURTZ
Emerald Sports Editor

Oregon and Oregon State will wind up the 1960 Northern Division baseball season with a 1:30 p.m. doubleheader at Howe Field this afternoon, weather permitting.

FRIDAY'S SCHEDULED game at OSC was rained out.

Webfoot coach Don Kirsch said, however, that Howe Field was in "terrible" shape Friday afternoon and indicated that the chance of getting the twin bill in were slim.

IF THE GAMES are called off today, they cannot be made up under Northern Division rules, and Oregon State will be declared the official second-place finisher with a 7-5 won-lost record, while Oregon's 6-6 mark will place the Ducks in third—the same position they finished in 1959.

Kirsch plans to start a pair of lefthanders this afternoon, leading off with Fred Ballard in the nine-inning opener, and coming back with Jack Loy in the seven-inning second game.

BALLARD WILL be opposed by Oregon State's top pitcher, Bill Oerding, who has a flashy 7-0 mark for the year (including non-conference games) and an impressive 1.07 earned run average.

Kirsch said that the Beavers were "a little stronger" offensively, and rated the teams equal in pitching and defensive ability. He added, however, that it is very hard to evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of teams when they "play one day and have to wait four days before practicing again."

OREGON'S PITCHING has been "erratic" all season, Kirsch said, and named this and the fact that "some of the hitters haven't been up to their capabilities," as reasons for Oregon's failure to do better than .500 in ND games so far.

Kirsch rated ND champion Washington State as "definitely" the strongest team in the league, and said that the final records will speak for themselves as far as Oregon and OSC are concerned.

...CURRENTLY, sophomore Dave

and Ducks will play in a non-conference exhibition game at Roseburg. The game is being added as a benefit for the youth baseball program in Roseburg, according to Kirsch.

The other day our vice president in charge of good news announced that someone, somewhere, enjoys Coke 58 million times a day. You can look at this 2 ways:

Either we've got an incredibly thirsty individual on our hands. Or Coca-Cola is the best-loved sparkling drink in the world.

We lean to the latter interpretation.
