

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE? Dick Moody (left), Gary Miyashiro (center), and Fred McGinnis form the Totter Trio whose act can best be described by anyone who gives to the Dolphins' "Sawdust and Seaweed" this evening and Saturday, at Leighton Pool. (Emerald Staff Photo by Al Charkow.)

Betty Co-ed, Joe College judges make first eliminations Saturday

Five finalists each for Betty Co-ed and Joe College will be selected following interviews to be held Saturday morning at 9 a.m. in the SU. Winners of the titles will be announced following a vote at the Sophomore Swing at Mac Court Oct. 29.

CANDIDATES for Betty Co-ed and living organizations who nominated them are: Pene Fromong, Beta Theta Pi; Gretchen Rinehart, Kappa Sigma; Sandy Stewart, Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu; Jansy Brewer, Phi Gamma Delta; Mary Donnelly, Phi Sigma Kappa and Sally Christenson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Carol Lewis, Theta Chi; Carol Taylor, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Sharon Douglas, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Upsilon; Jodie Raymond, Delta Tau Delta; Patricia Carr, University House; Esther Andrus, Kappa Sigma; Cheryl Schleicher, Campbell Club; Linda Glaholt, Phi Sigma Kappa; and Carol Shelton, Sigma Chi.

Those nominated for Joe College are Steve Hintz, Alpha Chi Omega; Jeff Ward, Alpha Delta Pi; Ollie Cray, Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta; Tom Atkinson, Chi Omega; and Mike Hastings, Alpha Omicron Pi.

DOUG GREEL, Delta Delta Delta; Brian Eslick, Gamma Phi Beta; Lloyd Robinson, Pi Beta Phi; George Straub, Sigma Kappa; Robert Banke, Rebec House; Rodger Jones, Sweetser Hall; John Cavanaugh, Alpha Phi; Ron Smith, Smith Hall; and Doug Collins, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Candidates will be interviewed twice on Saturday, once by students, and once by faculty members. During the five-minute interviews, students will be graded 35 per cent on appearance; 15 per cent on poise; 15 per cent on personality; 10 per cent on answers to questions; and 10 per cent on activities.

FACULTY judges are Roy Paul Nelson, assistant professor of journalism; John Hulteng, associate professor of journalism; Miss Bierman, assistant director of dormitories; Walter Freauff, assistant director of dorms; Bud Mangles, assistant dean of men, Don Gottesman, Lee Mahoney, Ken Wieg, administrator of Luther House and Ned Kittoe, assistant professor of English.

Judges from the student body are John Richardson, Eric Larson, Jim Cloutier, Terry Rinehold, Betsy Woods, Judy Martin, Babs Horn and Lorcy Hoyt.

Deadline nearing for Wilson Fellow nominee selection

The deadline for submission of nominees for Woodrow Wilson Foundations Fellowships is Oct. 31, according to Dr. Roland Bartel, assistant dean of the college of liberal arts.

Each student trying for the fellowship must be nominated by a professor. Therefore, any student interested in being nominated should see his advisor.

Recipient of a Woodrow Wilson fellowship will receive $1500, plus allowance for dependents and fees. He may use the grant at any university in the United States.

Men's dorm rep petitions due soon

Petitions for Upperclassmen's Dorm Representative for the ASUO Senate are due Wednesday, Oct. 26, 3rd floor SU. If there are more than four people who petition, they will be screened by the ASUO Screening Committee. Interviews will be held at the Oct. 27 Senate meeting.

Dolphins to give show tonight in men's pool

"Sawdust and Seaweed" is the theme for this year's water show presented by the Dolphin Swim Club at Leighton Pool tonight and Saturday. The members of the swimming and diving team will display racing and diving techniques along with many novelty and comedy acts.

The fourteen acts will include a man shot from a cannon, trampoline routines, tumbling and acrobatic tricks, animal acts, and a special challenge race between Bob Watts, Oregon diver, and Arthur Thompson, third-ranked Australian free-styler. The University Amphibians will perform a water ballet.

Three special acts are the Balancing Benovettis, the Great Zambodi, and the Flying Fitzgeralds. A special surprise act will also be on the program.

Al Lephart, the new Oregon diving coach formerly of the University of Illinois, is this year's water show director. The carnival will begin at 8 p.m. and admission prices are students and children, 50 cents and adults $1.

Board to require $10 election bond

The ASUO Election Board has tentatively decided to require that each candidate for an ASUO office deposit a $10 bond at the time he files his petition.

This deposit is to guarantee that all campaign material is cleaned up after the election in accordance with the election rules.

The bond will serve to reimburse the Physical Plant for the time needed to gather the campaign material after the election if necessary. Last year the Associated Students were charged for this expense.

The bond is not a campaign expense and will be refunded provided that the candidate complies with the clean-up rule. The bond should be paid to the SU accountant.

Annual junior picnic planned for tomorrow

Fern Ridge Lake will be the location of the annual junior class picnic tomorrow. A bicycle race from the SU will begin the event at 1 p.m. At 2 p.m. trucks will transport students to Fern Ridge.

Activities planned for the afternoon include sack races, a talent show featuring members of the class, and the Oregon-California game broadcast.

The trucks will return in time for students to attend the "Sawdust and Seaweed" water show. A dance at the SU Ballroom from 8-12 p.m. will end the day's activities.

The cost for the full day is 50 cents. Tom Herman, class president, is in charge of all the arrangements.

Foreign students welcomed at tea

Over 300 foreign students were formally introduced to faculty members, community friendship families and the University students last night at a reception in the SU Ballroom sponsored by the Foreign Students' Friendship Foundation.

Acting-President William C. Jones brought greetings from the University to the new students. Steve Schell, ASUO president, explained the functions of branches of student government. Larry Woo, president of Cosmopolitan Club, welcomed the group on behalf of his organization.

Edmund Cykler, chairman of the steering committee of the Foreign Students' Friendship Foundation invited interested Community members to become members of the organization. The foundation introduces foreign students to American families and provide an annual spring tour of Oregon and a banquet.

Dr. Kenneth S. Ghent, foreign student advisor, introduced the new foreign students.

AWS picks chairmen

Merrie Whiteside was appointed AWS woman's week chairman recently. Philanthropy chairman is Doree Taylor and assistant Philanthropy chairman is Mary Smith.

All three will be ex-officio members on the AWS legislature.

Annual staff requires organization contracts

The Oregon staff asks that all living organizations, clubs and honoraries who have not returned their space contracts do so at once. Today is the final deadline, without exception, according to Gretchen Rinehart, organizations manager.

The pink duplicate copy of the contract should be taken to the Oregon business office.

World News In Brief

Debate tonight

NEW YORK CITY (UPI) — The fourth of the radio-television debates between the presidential candidates tonight will be limited to one hour.

This was agreed upon yesterday by representatives of the networks and the candidates.

Nixon's camp had proposed that the debate be extended one hour to permit listeners and viewers to telephone questions to the candidates.

US respected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of a presidential committee studying cold war activities says the US is the most respected nation in the world.

In a statement issued by the White House, industrialist Mansfield Sprague said the prestige of the US is pre-eminent.

Earlier today a Washington newspaper said it had learned the Sprague committee report would show US prestige has declined.

Blood donations needed for girl, 10

Blood donations are needed for Connie Coombs, a ten year old Eugene girl who must undergo open heart surgery in Portland's Doernbecher hospital for correction of a serious heart defect.

Twenty-one pints of type A positive blood are necessary before Connie will be able to have the operation.

Anyone who wishes to contribute blood is asked to do so at the Lane county blood bank by November 2. The bank is located in room 703 of the Eugene Medical Center and may be reached at DI 5-1536.

Council proposed

NEW YORK CITY (UPI) — Vice President Nixon has called for creation of a National Economic Council to coordinate government efforts to increase the nation's rate of economic growth.

Speaking in New York City, Nixon outlined a broad economic program that touched on taxes for the first time in his campaign.

He called for a revision of personal and corporate tax rates, including a broader base for excises at a lower rate.

Urges seizure

NEW YORK CITY (UPI) — Senator Kennedy has urged the US consider seizing all Cuban assets in the US.

The Democratic presidential candidate said the move would be as payment for some of the money Cuba owes the US.

Kennedy claims banning exports to Cuba would have virtually no effect in removing the Communists from power in Cuba.

Lodge poses program

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Henry Cabot Lodge has proposed an eight-point United Nations program aimed at easing international tension.

The program also would eliminate economic and social shortcomings of the so-called less-developed regions.

Ambassador recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The US has taken a second drastic step against Cuba in 24 hours by recalling Ambassador Philip Bonsal.

The State Department said Bonsal was called home for consultations but it plans to send an ambassador back to Cuba in the future.