

Week end religious activities

By JAN KAUTTO

Emerald Church Editor

Topics for discussions at the religious houses on campus this week will range from unity to vocational service, and speakers will include University professors and foreign students from the University.

Luther House

Lutheran students will meet Sunday, Oct. 21, for their usual supper meeting at 5 p.m. Following supper, at 5:45, a panel will discuss the topic, "Is Unity Essential, or is Working Together Enough?"

Panel members will include Quentin Breen, moderator of Westminster Foundation, Jerry Rempel, past president of Wesley Foundation and president of the University Religious Council, and Lou Myrvold, president of the Lutheran Students association.

Luther House is located at 1824 University.

Wesley Foundation

Wesley students will leave the campus this weekend for the Oregon MSM Retreat, held at Camp Magruder on the coast. The central theme of the retreat is "When Two or Three Are Gathered at a Brain Factory," and will deal with the students' religious obligations at a university.

The retreat will feature the Rev. Bob Peters of the Oregon State Wesley Foundation as main speaker.

Students will be back at the University Sunday night in time to attend the Wesley Forum at 6 p.m. The Forum speaker this week will be Dr. Arnulf Zweig of the philosophy department.

Westminster Foundation

The Congregational and Westminster student groups will meet Sunday, 5:30, at Westminster center. Dr. Lloyd Stamp of the First Congregational Church will speak at the 6 p.m. discussion on "Prophetic vs. Institutional Christianity."

Baha'i World Faith

United Nations Pattern for Peace is the theme of a public meeting to be held at Friendly House Sunday at 5:30 p.m. The meeting is sponsored by the Baha'is of the University campus, assisted by the local Baha'i Community.

Speaking for the United Nations Day observance on a panel discussion will be John Kisito of Uganda; Hiyoluke Iwasa of Japan; Hans Dammers of The Netherlands; Socoro Doria of the Philippines; and Farhand Monadjem of Iran. All are students at the University.

Christian House

A new series on "Service Through Lay Vocations," will begin at Christian House Sunday at 5:30. Featured speaker is Dr. Victor P. Morris, past dean of the school of business administration. Dr. Morris recently spent a year in Korea on a joint University and U. S. government mission.

Political issues will be discussed at the 8:45 fireside. Students will reflect on Congresswoman Edith Green's talk last Sunday.

Tuesday evening the Rev. Don Rogers will again lead the inquirer's discussion at Christian House from 7 to 8.

Canterbury Student Center

Canterbury will present the fourth in its "Last Lecture Series," Sunday at 6 p. m. at the Campus Center, 885 E. 13th.

Kester Svendsen, head of the English department, will deliver the lecture.

Stovall to deliver earthquake lecture

"The Yellowstone Earthquake Area," a lecture with colored slides by James C. Stovall, Professor of Geology, will be presented tonight at 8:00 p.m. in Room 123 Science, under the sponsorship of the Natural History Society.

Stovall's lecture is the first in a series of field trips and monthly programs planned in accord with the Society's purpose of pursuing collectively any of the various fields of natural science.

Other activities scheduled for this fall include: Nov. 6—A field trip to hunt for mushrooms, led by Frank P. Sipe, specialist in fungi and a member of the Biology staff; and Nov. 18, 8:00 p.m., Room 123 Science, "A Proposed Oregon Coast Trail," an illustrated lecture by Samuel N. Dickson, Geography Department head conducting research on changes in the Oregon coast line.

Although membership in the organization is encouraged (dues are 50 cents a year) all events are open to the public.

Kappas to celebrate founding with dessert

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will observe the 90th anniversary of their national founding at a dessert party, Thursday at 7 p.m.

Members will present a Founder's Day skit depicting the sorority's founding on Oct. 13, 1870, at Monmouth College.

Regular Fleer of Zurich, Zurich, Switzerland, Kappa exchange student, will play the piano.

Lynn Wheeler, chapter president, will report on the national Kappa convention held at Coronado, Calif. New upper class pledges will be introduced.

A traveling photo exhibit from the University is now on display at eight major western colleges and universities and will continue on tour until May 27, 1961.

The 35-photo exhibit, shown in Erb Memorial Union last spring, consists of photographs representative of work done in the University photo-journalism courses. Most of the photographs illustrate the use of light to capture mood and were done in the first term of the two-term sequence.

Included in the exhibit are several picture stories plus some photographic abstractions done by the more advanced group. Instructor for the photo-journalism course is Bernard L. Freemesser, director of the University photo bureau.

Arrangements for the tour were made by the creative arts committee, Erb Memorial Union.

Baritone to give faculty recital

George F. Cox, baritone, assistant professor of music at the University, will be featured in a faculty recital at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27, in the School of Music Auditorium.

Cox, who joined the University faculty this fall, is also director of the Opera Workshop in the School of Music.

He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and has had professional training in the American Theatre Wing, New York City. He has been a teacher of voice at New York State Teachers College, Potsdam, N. Y., and at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis.

William Woods, also of the School of Music, will accompany Cox. The program will include "Five American Folk Songs," arranged by Dougherty; "An Die Ferne Geliebte (Opus 87)," Beethoven; "Trois Ballades de Francois Villon," Debussy; "Nemico Della Patria" (from "Andrea Chenier"), Giordano; "Laus Deo," R. Milford; "The Isle of Portland," J. Edmunds; "The Inn," F. Toye; "Declaration of Independence," Dougherty, and "Luke Havergal," J. Duke.

Infirmary

Those confined to the infirmary yesterday were Melvin Bradley, Thomas Butler, Ann Byers, Thomas Codekas, Kay Kinard, Nancy Kurilo, Fon Leong, Jose Luna, Paula McCorkle, Nancy Nachtmann, Elizabeth Robertson, Bruce Samson, Argil Shrock and Grant Todd.
