

Ducks Tied for Third In Cage Standings

Oregon's Webfoots will be on the road again next Friday for their only weekend game as they try to hang on to regional tournament chances, chances which now seem to hinge on a judgment that Seattle is playing a weak schedule.

The Webfoots are third in the standings of Northwest independent teams with a 12-9 record. Seattle University leads with an impressive 15-7 slate and Oregon State follows one-half a game ahead of Oregon with 13-9.

Now sulking over four straight losses, the Ducks will travel to Portland University to test the Pilot power which was degraded by Notre Dame 80-49 last weekend.

The Pilots are actually tied with the Webfoots in the standings as they share the 12-9 record. They will be out to show that they also have a chance for the regionals—especially if there is a decision to take two teams from the Northwest.

If Oregon, Oregon State, or Portland can finish with a clean sweep of four games, that team could very well even have a chance to draw first notice from the committee.

Seattle has been recognized as a team with a schedule which includes Idaho State and Montana State, as well as an overrated Gonzaga squad. Oregon State has proven something by beating the Chiefs twice, and the Webfoots split against the "free-lancing" sharp shooters.

Incidentally, Denny Strickland shot 14 for 16 at the free throw line to hold his percentage high enough for national recognition. His .891, which led the nation last week, dropped three points to .888.

Corvettes Enter Famous Sebring Endurance Race

The eleventh annual running of the "Sebring 12 Hour" will be staged in Sebring, Florida, March 25 to help decide the world champion in endurance road racing. Removal of the fuel brand restriction will allow all manufacturers to provide entries.

This is the only world famous road race held in the United States, and points for four places count toward the F.I.A. International Sports Car Manufacturer's Championship and F.I.A. International Grand Touring Car Manufacturers' Championship.

Entries in the big Sebring event show an interest comparable to the 24 hour race at Le Mans in France every June.

Other races besides Le Mans and Sebring which offer points toward the world championships include: the Targa Florio in Italy, April; the 1,000 kilometer in Germany, May; the Tourist Trophy in Great Britain, August; and the Grand Prix of Pescara in Italy, August.

Eight big-bore Corvettes have been entered by American owners in the Grand Touring Class of the classic. In the past few years the Corvette has been developed by optional factory equipment into the fastest racing car on United States road racing circuits.

The 12 hour race is held on a five-point two-mile circuit where the cars travel over 1,000 miles between 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Top drivers from Europe are headed by Stirling Moss of Great Britain and Hans Hermann of Germany. Moss holds the lap record at Sebring and Hermann was the winner last year

BUTCH KIMPTON, Oregon guard, is expected to see action when the Ducks take on the Portland University Pilots in Vancouver Friday. Kimpton played one of his best games of the season against Seattle last weekend.

Charnley Risks European Title

Dave Charnley—the European British and Empire lightweight champion—will risk a shot at a fourth title tomorrow night when he meets Fernand Mollet of France in a 10-round bout at London.

Charnley will be risking his European crown as well as a shot at world lightweight champion Joe Brown of Houston, Texas. The bout with Brown is already scheduled for April but will be cancelled in the event that Mollet springs an upset. Charnley is the heavy favorite to defeat his French opponent.

Charnley fought Brown for the title last year in Houston but lost to the champion on a TKO. Charnley suffered a badly cut eye in the fight.

Tennis Players

All varsity and freshman tennis players are requested to be present at a meeting tonight at 9 p.m. in the Student Union.

The purpose of the meeting is to fill out eligibility forms for competition this spring. The room number will be posted.

"I DON'T THINK THERE'S ANY END TO THE OPPORTUNITY IN THIS BUSINESS"

When Gene Segin got his B.S. in Business Administration at the University of Illinois, he was in touch with 8 prospective employers.

Gene joined Illinois Bell Telephone Company because: "The people I talked to here made it very clear that I would not be shuffled into some narrow specialized job. I thought this job offered the greatest opportunity for broad experience."

On his first assignment Gene was sent to Springfield where he conducted courses in human relations for management people.

His next move was to a traffic operations job in Rock Island. On this assignment he was in charge of all personnel who are directly responsible for handling telephone calls in this heavily populated area. Here Gene earned a reputation for sound judgment and skill in working with people. He was promoted to Traffic Supervisor.

Today, Gene's chief responsibilities are in management training and development, and company-union relations. The latter includes contract bargaining and helping settle labor disputes.

How does Gene feel about his job? "It's a real challenge. I'm in some of the most vital and interesting work in the country." And about the future—"Well there aren't any pushover jobs around here. It's tough. But if a man has what it takes, I don't think there's any end to the opportunity in this business."

If you're looking for a job with no ceiling on it—a job where you're limited only by how much responsibility you can take and how well you can handle it—then you'll want to visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information on the Bell Companies.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."
