

So You Failed To Register . . .

Emerald Staff Writer
By LAVREN EVENSON

What should a student do to get his grade recorded if he has failed to register for the course?

Registrar C. L. Constance explained that, first of all, University rules allow the first two weeks of each term to officially add or change courses. Merely attending class does not constitute registration; the registrar's records are the official ones.

If a student discovers after the first two weeks that he has not registered for a course (usually because he has failed to complete the changing process when adding), he may petition the Academic Requirements Committee to have it added. The committee is composed of faculty members appointed by the University president and approved by the Advisory Council.

The committee's decision is based on an evaluation of facts from the student, his advisor, and the instructor. They particularly want to know why the student did not register in the specified time.

If the student has been misadvised by someone on the staff, the committee is much more likely to approve registration than if it is through the student's own negligence. However, they are always looking for evidence of good faith.

"The committee has to strike a balance between strict compliance with the rules and the belief that the records should show the exact facts of the courses attended and grades earned," Constance stated.

The feeling is if a student is in a course and has done the work, he should receive credit. However, the student has an obligation to register correctly.

"There's one faculty point of view that a student's registration is a contract with the University," Constance explained, "and of course no contract can cover something that is not written in it. Under this view, no changes would be permitted."

Although the committee does not usually take such a severe stand, they do deny a considerable proportion of the requests because the only explanation is carelessness. Not more than 50 petitions are filed a year.

When the registrar's office receives a grade but discovers that the student has not registered for the course, the student is called and requested to petition the committee.

Strict rules must be enforced to prevent students from attending classes and then registering for only the ones in which they earned good grades.

Job Opportunities

Feb. 21:

J. Walter Thompson Co. will interview students for advertising positions in New York city. Any major may apply.

Security First National Bank is interviewing business administration or liberal arts major for management training program. Job location is in Los Angeles, Calif.

Aero-jet - General Corporation will interview students for jobs located in California and Maryland. Students with a BS, MS, Ph.D. in math, physics or chemistry are needed. There will also be a group meeting at 4 p.m. for juniors, seniors, and graduate students interested in summer employment.

Grant UHS District, Sacramento, Calif., will interview secondary teachers. Concord, Calif., public schools, will interview elementary and secondary teachers qualified to teach in California.

High School IRL Leaguers Meet; 500 Expected for Model UN Opening

Approximately 500 high school International Relations League members are expected on the University of Oregon campus March 2-4, to take part in a IRL Model United Nations session.

Speaker for the opening meeting will be Oregon's senior Senator, Wayne L. Morse, former United States Congressional Delegate to the United Nations.

The IRL Model United Nations session is the 14th annual conference sponsored by the University's Institute of International Studies and Overseas Administration and the International Relations committee of the Oregon Education Association.

Principal topics for discussion during the three-day meeting will be the Berlin crisis, economic development, disarmament and human rights.

Associate professor of economics and assistant director of the Institute, Dr. Robert Loring Allen, is in charge of the conference.

Catholics to Honor Cardinal Newman

The University Newman Club will celebrate Cardinal Newman Week, Feb. 19 to 26. Theme for the week, which is being celebrated by Catholic Newman clubs at non-Catholic universities across the nation, is "Cardinal Newman in the 20th century."

Judge Edward Leavy will discuss Karl Adam's book, "Son of God," at 7 p. m. Thursday at the same time F. C. Gardiner of the University English department will discuss Cardinal Newman's book, "The Idea of a University."

Also during the week there will be discussion groups, coffee hours, daily mass at 6:45 a.m., and a communion breakfast.

Newman Clubs throughout the country are celebrating this week in honor of their patron, who conceived the plan of establishing Catholic Centers at secular universities for the spiritual needs of Catholic students there.

Campus Briefs

Amphibians will hold a meeting tonight at 7. All girls swimming in the water show must be there.

The commerce club will hold a meeting today at noon in the SU. Arnett Johnson, staff member of the Eugene branch of Foster and Marshall, will be guest speaker. Room number will be posted.

WRAella, an exercise clinic based on slenderella, is being sponsored by the WRA every Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 p.m. in Gerlinger gym. Girls may check out shorts and shirts from the cage or bring their own clothes.

Hawaiian Club, Hui O Kamaaina, will meet at 6:45 Wednesday night in the SU. All members must attend.

Petitions for chairman of the YWCA senior breakfast are due Friday, Feb. 24.

There will be a Greater Oregon Area chairman meeting today at 4 in the SU. Room will be posted.

Sophomores interested in being chairmen or committee members for the sophomore dance and picnic to be held spring term, may pick up petition on the third floor of the SU. Petitions are due Friday, Feb. 24.

I.V.C.F. will meet tonight at 7 in the SU. "Presenting C.B.S." will be the theme of the evening.

A Jazz concert, sponsored by the jazz committee, will be held in the SU Ballroom at 7:30 Wednesday night.

SU movie committee will not meet today.

LERD PASSWATER

Q. Who said, "Once you get that first cone in them, they're 'goners'" about the University of Oregon students?

A. Del Hoff.
(Get Addicted to DEL HOFF ice cream)

19th and Agate

ence. Egon P. Bodtker of Eugene, graduate student in political science, and Albert R. Gutowsky of Chicago, graduate student in economics, are assisting Dr. Allen.

Paul R. Ward of Eugene, graduate student in political science who is in charge of the intercollegiate MUN conference scheduled at the University in April, will serve as president of the general assembly of the high school Model United Nations.

Forum to Feature Careers in Health

Opportunities in health science fields offered by the Portland Professional Schools of the Oregon State System of Higher Education will be discussed at the second annual Health Careers Forum on the University campus, Thursday.

A team of speakers from the University of Oregon Medical School, Dental School, and School of Nursing will present the forum at 3 p.m. in the Science auditorium, followed by counseling in the specific areas of medicine, dentistry, basic sciences, X-ray, nursing, dietetics, dental hygiene, medical technology, and medical psychology.

Team members are Dr. Joseph B. Trainer, associate professor of medicine and physiology; Dr. Ernest Hurley, assistant to the dean and registrar, Dental School; Mrs. Hilda Drum, instructor and chief X-ray technician; Bernice Orwig and Guhli Olson, associate professors, School of Nursing; Ruth Mercer, director of dietetics; Mrs. Shirley Silke, instructor in dental hygiene; Mary Baptist, instructor in medical technology; Dr. Jeanne Phillips, assistant professor of medical psychology; and Mrs. Caroline Pommarane, registrar for the Medical School and School of Nursing.

Kenneth Porter Publishes Articles

Kenneth Porter, University history professor, has recently published two articles describing education in Kansas around 1900. The two articles were entitled "College Days at Cooper Memorial, 1895-1898," and "Country School Teacher, 1898-1902."

He has also published an article about the first territorial governor of Colorado, "William Gilpin: Sinophine and Eccentric."

"Agrarista," a verse written by Porter, appeared in the October, 1960, issue of "Caravel" magazine. In this poem, Porter relates an experience based on a conversation with a Mexican peasant who was living on a communal farm.

a Swingline Stapler no bigger than a pack of gum!

98¢
(Including 1000 staples)

SWINGLINE "TOT"

Millions now in use. Unconditionally guaranteed. Makes book covers, fastens papers, arts and crafts, mends, tacks, etc. Available at your college bookstore.

SWINGLINE "Cub" Stapler $1.29

Swingline INC.
LONG ISLAND CITY, NEW YORK, N. Y.

'Marx, Critics' Topic of Castell

Alburey Castell, head of the philosophy department at the University, will speak on "Marx and His Critics" at 7:30 p.m. in the Browsing Room.

Castell, who has been at the University since 1949, received his B.A. degree from the University of Toronto in 1928, and his M.A. from that school in 1929. In 1931 he received his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago. He has taught at eight colleges and universities throughout the United States before coming to Oregon.

In addition to having written articles and book reviews for scholarly journals, Castell is the author of several books on philosophy, including "College Logic," "Introduction to Modern Philosophy," "Science as a Goal to Philosophy," and "Elementary Ethics." He also has edited many books on philosophy.

For several years Castell has been active in educational broadcasting. From 1947 to 1953 he conducted such programs as "Invitation to Read" for the National Association of Educational Broadcasters and for several colleges and universities. He is a member of various professional groups and has served as president of the Pacific Coast Conference on Teaching Philosophy and the Fifth Annual Northwest Conference on Philosophy.

Discussion leader will be H. E. Dean, associate professor of Political Science.

KWAX Program

TUESDAY FEB. 21

- 5:00 Famous Swedes
- 5:15 The London Bridge
- 5:20 KWAX Musical Omnibus
- 6:00 Campus and Regional News
- 6:15 KWAX Musical Omnibus
- 7:00 Baton (three hours of concert music)
- 10:00 Georgetown University Forum
- 10:30 Starlight (late evening music)

Alpert Announces Review Sheet

Dr. Harry Alpert, dean of the University's graduate school, recently announced that the first issue of the American Sociological Review published at the University, is off the press.

For the next two years Dr. Alpert will serve as editor of the Review, the Journal of the American Sociological Association.

Both the associate editor and book review editor are Oregon faculty members. They are Robert A. Ellis and Robert Dubin. Dubin recently returned here after spending a year as visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin.

Other editorial staff members include Dr. Walter T. Martin, head of the sociology department; Joel V. Berreman, Herbert Bisno, John M. Foskett, Ted T. Jitodai, Theodore E. Johannis, G. Benton Johnson, Miriam M. Johnson, Kenneth Polk, and James C. Price.

The cover of the publication was designed by Roy Paul Nelson, assistant professor of journalism.

Duncan to Address All-Coast Press Clinic

Dean Charles T. Duncan, president of the Association for Education in Journalism, and dean of the University's School of Journalism, will address the All-Coast Press Clinic at the University of Washington Friday and Saturday.

Duncan will be a featured speaker at the conference of Western high school students and teachers and will speak on "Education for Journalism."

Infirmary

Students confined to the infirmary Monday were Susan Wayenberg, Frances P. Whitsett, Jo Katherine Potter, Karon L. Gregg, Barbara Vertrees, Sharon L. Pardee, Georgia A. West, Judy M. Pigg, Dwight L. Herr, Bruce J. Nicholson, William H. Russell, and Vincent Haworth.

COPYRIGHT © 1961, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY. COCA-COLA AND COKE ARE REGISTERED TRADEMARKS

In over 100 countries people get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Eugene