

Carol Williams 'Little Captain'

Carol Williams, freshman in education, was named Little Captain of the University's Pershing Rifles detachment at the annual Little Captain's Ball last Friday at the Eugene Hotel.

Miss Williams was chosen from a field of five candidates, and will serve as official hostess and sweetheart for the organization during the 1962-63 school year. She was sponsored by Schaffer Hall.

The other contestants received the honorary rank of Little First Lieutenant. They are Barbara Baer, Delta Delta; Gretchen Andersen, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Louise Bellissimo, Tingle Hall, and Linda Weber, Pi Beta Phi.

Candidate Withdraws; Petitions Called For

Rick Riede, who filed for the position of Fraternity representative to the ASUO Senate has withdrawn from the race, ASUO President Jim Cloutier said Thursday.

Cloutier also said that petitions will be accepted through Wednesday for the position of Foreign Students Representative, to fill the post vacated by Bhagwati Poddar. Petitions may be picked up in room 311, SU.

Movie fans will be pleased to know that Sophia Loren, winner of the Best Actress Academy Award, is featured at Eugene's McDonald Theater in "Two Women," the picture that copped her the honor. Double-billed with "Two Women" is "The Hustler," starring Paul Newman and Jackie Gleason.

Another double-bill of interest features Leslie Caron and Maurice Chevalier in "Fanny," a widely celebrated picture. Playing with it at the Fox Theater is "Splendor in the Grass," which features two young Hollywood idols, Natalie Wood and Warren Beatty.

TONY CURTIS, another Hollywood big name, is featured at the Heilig in his newest film, "The Outsider." This movie manifests a war theme, using the scenes at Iwo Jima as a backdrop.

The McKenzie White Water Boat Parade, an annual event sponsored by the McKenzie River Guides Association, will take place this Sunday. This well-known event features Oregon boatmen shooting rapids of the McKenzie River. It starts above Blue River and ends at the Leaburg Dam. As a rule, 150 boats of all kinds participate.

SPRING is here. And spring turns a young man's fancy to thoughts of fishing. April 21 is highly celebrated this year — as the opening day of fishing season. Possibly extra hours should be spent in preparation. And to prime yourself for Oregon's famous trout streams, the Boat Parade seems a likely activity.

Baseball runs a close competition with fishing in a young man's spring-time thoughts. Saturday morning at 11 Eugene's Channel 13 will present Major League Baseball. The Pittsburgh Pirates will tackle the newly founded New York Mets.

THE UNIVERSITY will provide live baseball in Howe field today when they play the University of Portland.

For track at its best, the Ducks will take on the Stanford Indians in Hayward Field Saturday afternoon. Also featured at the same place are the Hayward Relays, an annual high school track event.

LIVE drama will be at its best here on campus when the University Theater presents "Ring Round the Moon," by Jean Anouilh. This French play, which opens tonight, has been described by its translator, Christopher Fry, as a "handful of moonshine."

With Easter approaching, television Channel 13 will present "Give Us Barabbas," an Easter drama by Henry Denker. James Daly, Kim Hunter, and Dennis King will star in the performance which will be telecast in color from 6 to 7:30 p.m.
