

Betty Co-ed, Joe College Winners

SUE FORTE and Clark Stevens were selected as Betty Co-ed and Joe College at the Sophomore Spring Fling Friday evening. Miss Forte, a sophomore in architecture and allied arts, is affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority. Stevens is a sophomore in business administration and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

(Photos by Don McClure)

'In the Black'

Reports Indicate Profit On Junior Weekend

The Junior Class will probably show $500 profit on the activities of Junior Weekend, according to SU assistant director Jack Cross.

Junior Weekend activities included the Junior Prom, All-campus Sing, and the All-Campus Luncheon.

The Canoe Fete is considered an all-campus activity, and the Mother's Breakfast is a function of the Oregon Mothers Club.

● THE JUNIOR Prom grossed $3970.50, Cross said, and will probably lose $600. Main expenses of the Prom are entertainers' fees, which will run $2500 for Jimmy Rodgers and the Fairmonts, and $600 for the dance band.

● The All-Campus Sing will show a profit of about $2000 on a gross of $4194.11, Cross said. Main expenses will be for decorations, publicity, and University physical plant wages.

● A $400 loss is expected from the All-Campus Luncheon, which grossed $1795.05. Cross said

3132 meals were served, and that ticket sales for the event had ceased at 4 p.m. University time, Friday afternoon before the event.

● The Canoe Fete will probably show a profit on its gross of $6602, the assistant director said. More than 5556 people who paid admission, watched the event, as no admission was charged after 8:30 (DST) when the Fete's 4886 bleacher seats were filled. Program sales grossed $315, Cross said. Main expense item for the Canoe Fete is University Physical plans wages. Expenses "usually" run $5500, he said.

● The Mother's Breakfast will show a loss on a gross of $684, he reported.

Comparing this year's figures with 1961's, Cross said, the Canoe Fete gained $500 paid admissions and the Sing 200 for a total of about 5000. The Breakfast lost attendance while losing money. Cross said this was due to a

(Continued on page 7)

SU Addition Will Be Ready For Fall Use

The addition to the Student Union will probably be ready for use next fall, A. L. "Si" Ellingson, SU director, said Sunday. The project is currently running slightly behind schedule, but this should be made up during the summer.

A student-faculty planning group which was scheduled to plan the interior of the addition has not been able to meet because it has not received designs from the architects to work with.

Final decisions on the interior design will probably be made this summer by Ellingson and his staff. He added that he will probably have the help of a skeleton SU Board which will also be available during the summer.

350-seat dining room and nine other meeting rooms will be housed on the first floor of the new addition. A barber shop, eight bowling alleys, a combo practice room, and a sport shop are being constructed in the basement.

AWS Honors Assembly, Legislature Set Tuesday

AWS honors assembly and an open legislature meeting will be held tomorrow. The legislature will meet at 12 p.m. (DST) in the Student Union and the assembly will be held at 4 p.m. (DST) in the SU Ballroom.

The legislature will vote on rules suggested at the last open meeting. Suggestions made at that time have been taken to the reference board and will now be voted on.

THE RULINGS concerning women visiting mens' living areas, study hours, and freshmen walk-outs will be among the subjects discussed and voted on.

Margo Noall, AWS president, urged all women to attend the meeting. She explained that, to enter into the discussion, women should be able to present reasons for disagreeing with the policy being discussed and be able to offer alternate suggestions.

Approximately 32 awards and scholarships will be presented at the honors assembly. The newly tapped members of Alpha Lambda Delta, Kwama, Phi Theta Upsilon, Mortar Board, and Phi Beta Kappa will be presented.

WOMENS' Recreation Association awards will also be presented at the assembly. Leadership awards will be given to sophomore, junior, and senior women nominated by their living organizations.

Dormitories will make presentations to their outstanding members.

Watching with Concern

CLEVELAND (UPI)—A State Department official says the U.S. is watching with concern the flight of refugees from Red China to Hong Kong.

To Influence Solons

Senate Plans Lobby at Salem

By MERRIE WHITESIDE
Emerald News Editor

Phil Sherburne, chairman of the ASUO Senate committee on lobbying, said that plans are now underway for lobbying in the next session of the Oregon State Legislature.

Sherburne said that he has met several times with the chairman of the Higher Education Committee at Oregon State University to formulate lobbying plans.

Sherburne said, "We will work together the earlier part of this summer and then send letters to the other state colleges and universities."

He said that during the last session of Legislature, other colleges and universities gave their recommendations to the committees from Oregon State University and the University of Oregon. Sherburne said that he hopes the other schools will actively participate in this year's lobbying.

ASUO President Neil Goldschmidt said that it would be advantageous to have all the state schools working together, as it would be a more influential body and represent a greater number of students.

AT THE PRESENT time, the committee is gathering background information in all areas of education that might come before the next session of Legislature. With the background information available the committee will be able to proceed with lobbying plans on any subject that may come up.

University President Arthur S. Flemming has a committee which is now studying on the use of classrooms here at the University. The committee intends to show that the classrooms are used over the State Board requirements of 30 hours per week, so that the legislature will allot more money for classroom facilities.

ONE OF THE main objectives of the ASUO Senate committee will be lobbying for support of community colleges in Oregon.

If the community colleges are passed, the University and other state colleges and universities will be able to raise their admission requirements.

Students not admitted to schools with the higher admission requirements would be able to attend the community colleges. A community college for Clackamas County was voted down in the primary elections Friday.

THE TUITION fee for the eleven-week summer session beginning this summer is now $150. The State Board of Higher Education budget director, Richard L. Collins, told Sherburne that the board wants the tuition fee cut down to $90 in the future.

If the eleven-week summer session is continued, the University will be, in effect, on a regular system of four terms per year. The Senate committee will at-

(Continued on page 6)

Honors Comprehensive Signups Due Today

Students planning to take Honors College comprehensives must sign up for the tests today. Comprehensive examination in the six core areas have been scheduled for May 24 to June 1.

Other awards to be presented include the Panhellenic scholarship, the Co-op Alumni and Janet Smith scholarships, the Hazel Schwaring scholarship, and three cultural awards in the fields of speech, music, and art. Entertainment will be presented by freshmen women

MARY SUE WOOLFOLK, junior in speech and a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, was selected as Miss Eugene Friday night at the annual Miss Eugene Pageant. Miss Woolfolk, a former Rose Festival Queen, presented a talent selection of interpretations of selections from George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" and Maxwell Anderson's "Joan or Lorraine." She will compete for the Miss Oregon title in July.

(Photo by Karl Broom)

THE PERSHING Rifle Drill Team made up just a few of the 2,000 participants in Eugene's Armed Forces Day Parade last Saturday morning. The University was also represented by the Army and Air Force.

Co-op Receipts Due Today

Co-op receipts for patronage refunds are due at the Co-op today.