

Folksinging Trio To Appear Here

Peter, Paul, and Mary, Warner Brothers recording artists, will appear in concert on Feb. 2 in McArthur Court.

Tickets, ranging from $1.25 to $3 are on sale at the SU main desk.

The group is composed of Paul Stookey, Peter Yarrow, and Mary Allin Travers.

Life-long interest in folk music led all three to Greenwich Village, where they became a trio.

After receiving his psychology degree at Cornell University, where he was an instructor in a folk ballad course, Peter Yarrow, tenor, joined the Aviv Theatre in his native New York.

He appeared on the television special, "Folk Sound, USA" in May, 1960, where he was "discovered" and signed for the Newport Folk Festival that year, followed by a cross-country personal appearance tour.

In addition to his baritone voice, Paul Stookey adds sound effects to the lighter side of Peter, Paul, and Mary.

As a stand-up comic, he was the highest paid entertainer in Greenwich Village when Peter asked him to join them in a folk group.

This was a long way from Birmingham, Mich., where Paul played guitar in a high school rock 'n roll group and emceed his way through Michigan State University.

From there he went to Greenwich Village where he found his present way of life.

He also discovered a more artistic basis for the "country" music he had been playing since high school when a friend took him to a classical guitar recital.

While he was working in the Village, Paul met Mary, who was trying to find work as a singer after appearing with Mort Sahl in a Broadway play.

After several meetings with Peter, Paul suggested that Mary join the group.

Born in Louisville, Ky., Mary came to New York with her parents. During high school, she sang with teen-age folk groups that performed in Carnegie Hall twice and cut three records.

Soon after the group's creation, they received a recording contract.

The group won nationwide recognition after the release of their recording, "Lemon Tree."

San Antonio Group Plays Here Thursday

The San Antonio Symphony under the direction of Victor Alessandros, will feature David Barel, young Israeli pianist, as guest artist at an E-UCMA concert at 8 p.m. Thursday in McArthur Court. All University students will be admitted free with student body cards.

The orchestra, proclaimed by Newsweek as "one of the nation's top orchestras," will perform as part of its extensive 6,000-mile tour of the western United States.

NOW IN ITS 24th year, the symphony was organized by Max Reiter. Victor Alessandros, a native Texan, took over the direction of the orchestra in 1950 after Reiter's death.

ALESSANDRO earned musical degrees at the Eastman School of Music, then studied conducting at the Mozarteum Academy in Salzburg, Austria and the Royal Santa Cecilia Academy in Rome.

The San Antonio Symphony was recognized in 1961 when the Ford Foundation program in the humanities and arts selected it as one of the ten major orchestras to participate in a program for advancement of new music and artists.

THE 14-INCH baton which Victor Alessandros will use to conduct the San Antonio Symphony is rather special. Hand-carved from lemonwood, these batons are made especially for Alessandros in Switzerland. Very thin and light, the batons have small knobs at one end which rest in the conductor's palm as he holds the baton between his thumb and first finger. The knob, which helps to keep his hand relaxed, is made from four tiny carved pieces glued together.

Fund Establishes Radio Scholarship

A $1000 scholarship in the field of broadcasting education has been established by the Trustees of the Jackson Foundation in Portland.

Details of the new scholarship were announced this week by G. M. Tretheway, a trustee of the Jackson Foundation and R. M. Brown, president of KPOJ, Portland.

The scholarship will be awarded for the 1963-64 academic year. Selection of the recipient will be made by the Scholarship Committee of the Oregon Association of Broadcasters. The recipient must be majoring in broadcasting in either the School of Journalism or the Speech Department.

Assistant Professor Karl J. Nestvold, manager of the Oregon Association of Broadcasters, indicated that applications for the scholarship would be considered during the early spring.

Grants Earmarked For Teachers

The University has received $137,600 worth of grants from the National Science Foundation earmarked for support of three summer institutes for high school and college teachers.

A grant of $65,300 will provide stipends for 50 high school mathematics teachers to attend an institute in mathematics. Dr. A. F. Moursund, professor of mathematics and head of the department at the University, will direct the institute.

An institute in marine biology for college teachers will offer 25 stipends from a grant of $35,200. The institute will be directed by Dr. Richard W. Castenholz, professor of biology.

Dr. Arnold L. Soderwall, professor of biology, will direct an institute for high school biology teachers. There are 25 stipends available from a grant of $37,100.

The summer institutes offer teachers specially designed courses in their field of study. Participants are selected by representatives of the institutes.

Dr. Livingston, I Presume,

would not like Dairy Queen because it is a product of civilization. Anyone in his right mind, however, would sooner watch his grandmother hang than go traipsing off to the jungle where there isn't any Dairy Queen. That's because Dairy Queen tastes good.

Layman Appointed To State Board

George Layman, a Newberg attorney and a graduate of the University Law School, was appointed to the board of Higher Education Saturday by Gov. Mark Hatfield.

Layman will fill the post which was vacated by Douglas McKean, who resigned.

He recently served as chairman of the Constitutional Revision Commission. He was a representative in the legislature from 1953 to 1961.

Layman was featured at a University assembly Oct. 31, 1962, when he discussed changing needs in the Oregon Constitution.

Hatfield said, "... I am sure George Layman's scholarship, integrity, and judgment will be of great benefit to the cause of education."

Following World War II he was with the Justice Department in Berlin and Munich.

Layman is the former mayor of Newberg.

Letters . . .

(Continued from page 2) sense upon viewing the photographs of Hiroshima pre and post bomb. This "instant shelter" program leads people eventually to the false conclusion that all we need do is leap into these structures and be saved come the day of reckoning. If we will thus be spared we need no longer concern ourselves with the likelihoods and effects of nuclear bombardment. Trust in our Washington Gods; therein lies our intellectual and emotional salvation.

Shelters, I suggest, are not the answer. Further, they lead us onto a false path. They lead to a state of resigned complacency that, although convenient and comfortable, leads eventually to the holocaust. What is required is a renewed and continued awareness of the possibilities of war and a healthy respect for the efficiency of The Bomb. The shelter program, especially that so close to home as now is existent in Eugene, calls for serious reconsideration of a phrase which has unfortunately become little more than a cliché: Peace is the Only Shelter.
