Webfoot Wrestlers Seek Third Win

By JIM WILLIAMS
Emerald Sports Writer

It'll be mat action galore Friday night when Coach Mike Reuter sends his Duck grapplers into action against the Washington State Cougars in Mac Court at 8 p.m.

Saturday night the Ducks travel to Reedsport where they will face the undefeated Brigham Young wrestlers.

In preliminary action, Coach Cec Eaves puts his Frosh grapplers on the mats against the Oregon State Rooks. In their last outing the Frosh picked up a 19-6 win over Clark JC, a school the Oregon Freshmen have never before beaten.

Dave White at 130 pounds and Doug Muck at 157 have 7-0 and 3-0 records respectively. Heavyweight Rick Burns has suffered but one loss this season, that a 5-4 decision to Rich Bell, Pacific Coast Champion from Washington.

Burns suffered an ankle injury in the bout with Bell last week and is a doubtful starter this weekend.

Should Burns be ready for action by Saturday night, he will go in the 191-pound spot with Terry O'Sullivan taking over the heavyweight position.

In previous action this year the Ducks have tied for first in the University of Washington Invitational Tournament, whipped Central Washington 15-13, lost to the Washington Huskies by a 15-9 count and last Saturday beat Western Washington 23-8 at Bellingham.

After tonight's contest with the Cougars, the Ducks have but two home meets left on the schedule. The next home affair is on Jan. 26 when they meet Southern Oregon College and the home finale comes nearly a month later when Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland invades Mac Court.

The meet with the Multnomah Athletic Club also winds up the dual meet season for the Ducks as they enter the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Championships the next weekend.

Friday night's starting lineup consists of 123-pounder Dennis Radford; Dave White at 130 pounds; Monrad Bjorge at 137; Charlie Warren in the 147-pound slot; Doug Muck at 157 pounds; either Glenn Brisbine or John Polo at 167 pounds; Bob Keeney at 177 pounds; and either Terry O'Sullivan or Rick Burns at the heavyweight position.

Ducks Hope to Improve Record In Cougar Clash

By BOB HERNDON
Emerald Sports Writer

Oregon's Webfoots go on the road this weekend for a pair with Washington State in Pullman. The contests will put two of the worst Northwest records on the line.

The series marks the half way point in the current Webfoot basketball campaign. Thus far in the win-loss column the Ducks have posted a dismal 4-7 record. The Cougar squad is in the midst of one of their worst seasons in many years. The WSU five has managed only one win in ten starts.

In one previous encounter this year, the Webfoots managed their only win of the Far West Classic at the expense of the Cougars. The Ducks downed the Washington Staters 67-57 in the quarter-finals before absorbing losses to California and Iowa.

On the new year, the Ducks are 1-2, the last time the Webfoots saw the light of victory was against the hapless Pilots from the University of Portland. In their last two games, the Ducks were both hot and cold. Last Friday they played Idaho to a stand off in regulation time, but blew several golden opportunities in both regulation play and overtime and came out on the short end of the score.

The following night fans poured into Mac Court expecting a repeat of Friday night's performance. Instead the crowd watched in horror as the Duck cagers couldn't seem to do anything right. The Vandals tied the Ducks in knots and romped to an easy 81-58 win. The Webfoots threw the ball away, played no defense and were spasmodic in their shooting. The entire team seemed to be anemic; they showed no fire or hustle whatsoever.

The Webfoots are still looking for a backcourt combination that will make the Duck offense click. Probable starter at guard for Oregon will be 6-2 sophomore Elliott Gleason. Either Bob Yates, John Mack or Pat Loy are possible choices for the other backcourt spot.

On the other hand, the Cougars boast two fine backcourt men in Byron Vadset and Jim Walton. Both are dangerous outside shooters and lead the Washington State team in scoring. Vadset came through with a 31 point production in the sole Cougar victory against Montana State.

The Ducks will be set to go with their veterans under the boards. The trio of Glenn Moore, Steve Jones, and Jim Johnson have carried the load for the Webfoots so far this season. The three have all accounted for over a hundred points, with Jones leading the scoring parade. Jones has hit on 46 per cent of his field goals and is averaging 15.5 points a game.

The Cougars were tough on their home court last year as they drubbed the Ducks twice in home-town stands. In two Mac Court encounters with the Cougars the Webfoots turned the tables on the WSU cagers as the Ducks took a pair.
