Coach Mike Reuter's Duck wrestlers split a pair of weekend matches whipping Washington State 23-8 on Friday in Mac Court, then losing to a touring Brigham Young team 15-9 at Reedsport on Saturday night.

In preliminary action Friday night, Coach Cec Eaves' Frosh squad scored a 17-8 upset victory over the Oregon State Rooks. For the Frosh, Ancer Haggerty wrestling in the heavyweight position, defeated the man who beat him in the high school state championship last year, by a score of 6-5.

In Friday's affair the Ducks gave up two decisions and a draw in winning their third meet of the season. In the process, the Ducks saw one of their number fall from the unbeaten ranks as Dave White suffered his first loss of the season. He was beaten by WSU's Francis Allbritton 7-4. Oregon's other unbeaten grappler, Doug Muck did not see any action Friday night. White also lost to BYU's Mike Young, 9-1.

Saturday night was a different story however, as the Ducks suffered their second dual meet loss of the season to Brigham Young.

THE VISITING Cougars, sporting a national AAU champ on their squad in freshman Mac Motokawa, very nearly came out on the short end of the score.

John Polo had his man in a pinning hold in the first minute of action, but the man escaped and went on to decision Polo. According to Reuter, "Had we won that one fall, we would have won the match 17-9, as it turned out we lost 15-9. We were so close to winning."

Motokawa was a member of the touring Japanese squad that came to the U.S. last winter and was a national champion in his weight division. He is able to wrestle on the varsity squad because the league in which BYU participates allows freshmen to take part in varsity athletics.

The Frosh allowed the visiting Rooks a fall and one decision in posting their second straight dual meet win. The lone fall, administered to Ralph Lacer, came with but three seconds left in the bout.

Results with Oregon wrestler named first.

Oregon Ruggers Post 9-5 Victory

The Oregon rugby team successfully opened its second season of action Saturday at Corvallis, when it racked up a 9-5 victory over OSU in the first of three games for the Devine trophy.

The Ducks took a 3-0 lead midway in the first half on Ben Brown's tally from 15 yards out. Alan Morton's 25-yard run in the second half added another three points to the score. Oregon's try for the kick (worth two points in rugby) again failed.

Oregon State closed the gap to 6-5 minutes later on a 15-yard sprint by Roger Lucas plus the conversion.

The winners added three insurance points when Morton booted a 35-yard penalty kick. In rugby, such a kick is awarded to a team if its opponent is penalized.

Oregon's next match will be played on February 9, when it hosts West Vancouver, B. C.

Ducklings Split Weekend Series

The Oregon Frosh basketball squad posted its fifth consecutive victory Friday but met defeat the following night, when Claudia's of Portland, an independent team made up of ex-Oregon cagers, handed the Ducklings their first loss of the season.

A second half rally saved Friday's game for the Frosh, as they downed OSU's independent squad, Truax Oil, 61-53.

OREGON'S leading scorer, Jim Barnett racked up 20 points to pace his mates, while guard Dave Kafoury sparked the second half attack with 15.

Experience was an important factor in the Saturday night tilt, when Claudia's who has played 18 games this season, edged past the Ducklings, 81-72.

Ex-Oregon guard Chuck Rask provided a 26-point shooting performance to lead the independents. John Franz and Jim Barnett tallied 14 apiece for the Frosh. "WE WERE not in as good a shape or as well organized as Claudia's," stated Frosh coach Don Kirsch following the team's loss. He felt that the Portland team had "a fine group of ex-college ball players."

Kirsch commended Kafoury, along with Franz, for their playing ability in Friday's contest.

This weekend's action for the Frosh includes a game with Gideon Stolz AAU here and one with University of Portland Frosh there.
