

Renfro, Berry Doubtful Starters

Ducks Face Tough Test

By BOB HERNDON

How good are the Webfoots—minus Mel Renfro and Bob Berry?

With both Berry and Renfro listed as doubtful starters for Saturday's San Jose State game, this is the question Oregon fans are asking.

Renfro, sidelined by a bruising tackle on a kickoff return against Washington, is ailing with a cracked rib, and sophomore halfback Dennis Keller is slated to step in for Renfro against the Spartans.

Berry, the man who has made the Webfoots click this season, suffered a strained ligament in his right knee and may find himself on the sidelines too. Berry will give the knee a test Wednesday, but if the knee still gives him trouble, Jack Sovereign will take over at the quarterback spot.

Webfoot Offense Suffers

The loss of Berry and Renfro could put a serious crimp in the Lemon and Green offensive machine. Berry and Renfro have accounted for over half the Webfoot's total yardage and have a joint points production of 94 points.

Besides the loss of Renfro at his offensive left halfback slot, he will be sorely missed at his defensive safety position.

Pair May See Action

There is still a possible chance for Renfro and Berry to see action Saturday, but if they fail to respond to treatment, they will remain on the sidelines. "We would like them to play, but if they are not one hundred per cent, we don't want them in there," said Oregon Athletic News Director Hal Childs.

Commenting on the Webfoots' chances Saturday, Childs said, "We would like them to play, but if we can't win without them, then we are not a very good football team."

However, Keller and Sovereign are not without their own credentials.

Keller is the Webfoots third leading ground gainer. The 168 pound sophomore has picked up 149 yards in 29 carries for a 5.1 yard average.

Post, Sovereign has completed three passes on eight attempts and leads the Ducks in the punting department with a mighty 42.3 yard average in seven attempts.

Kanehe Out

Besides the loss of Renfro and Berry, the Webfoots lost the services of senior tackle Milt Kanehe. The 250 pound tackle from Honolulu suffered a broken ankle in the Ducks' 26-19 loss to Washington.

Stepping in for Kanehe will be Ray Johnson. A defensive standout last weekend against Washington, Johnson has been battling Kanehe for the starting tackle slot all season.

Another defensive standout, Mark Richards, is slated for plenty of action against the Spartans.

Richards turned in a fine defensive effort against Washington, throwing Husky quarterback Bill Douglas for several big losses.

The starting quarterback for San Jose will be especially familiar to at least one Webfoot, but he may not get a chance to play against him. Bob Berry's younger brother Ken has taken over as the Spartan quarterback.

Backing up Berry in the Spartan backfield is Walt Roberts, a 9.7 sprinter, and hard driving fullback Herb Engel.

Oregon Joins New Soccer Association

The Oregon Intercollegiate Soccer Assn. was formed last Saturday in Portland. Those schools already in the association are: University of Oregon, OSU, University of Portland, and Lewis and Clark. Linfield College, Portland State College, and Reed College also have shown interest in the association.

Oregon's first soccer game will take place Nov. 16 on the IM soccer field against Lewis and Clark. The state champion will receive the Walter Kyllmann Memorial trophy. Kyllmann was the captain of the OSU soccer team. He was killed in an automobile accident three weeks ago.

The University soccer team will meet at 7 tonight in the Student Union. The room number will be posted. All those interested in joining the team are urged to attend the meeting.

Al Negratti, Portland U. athletic director, was elected president of the association.
