Election Invalid

Vote Again Today For Five Finalists

The election for Homecoming Court was declared invalid Thursday by the ASUO Elections Committee, according to Bruce McKeel, ASUO vice president and chairman of the committee.

McKeel said the election was invalidated because of procedures of the Homecoming Committee. A special election will be held today.

One candidate's name was omitted from the ballot and was stamped on some. However, ASUO elections rules state that all candidate's names must be printed in exactly the same manner and size and must appear on the ballot in alphabetical order.

Three polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today. They will be located at Hawthorne Hall, Chapman Hall, and the Student Union.

Candidates are Nancy Van Houten, Rae Ann Engdahl, Joan Wizner, Susan Nelson, Linda Nelson, Barbi Jones, Suzanne Seeborg, Peggy Darr, Margie Long, and Joanne Janzik.

The queen will be selected in another election later in the month.

Dolphins Choose Part of Court

Three of the nine finalists on the Dolphin Club Queen Court were selected at the annual Dolphin Club water show Thursday.

The three finalists are Linda Jo Cooley from Whittier, Calif.; Kiana Kientz, Pleasant Hill, Calif.; and Cherie Braddock, San Leandro, Calif.

Three more finalists will be selected Saturday night, and three Friday, Nov. 8.

The final selection of the queen will be announced Nov. 9.

Honors Colloquium Studies Art Forms

The colloquia series at the University Honors College this year deals with the arts, beginning with "Early 20th Century Art" fall term.

Designed for students who otherwise may not come in contact with the world of art, the program is presented in a seminar setting.

Directing the fall term sections are Paul H. Earls, School of Music; Lucile M. Golson, School of Architecture and Allied Arts; and M. Frances Dougherty, School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

This term, instead of bringing a guest lecturer to the campus, participants in the colloquium will attend the Bolshoi Ballet performance in Portland on Nov. 7. "Avant Garde Art" will be the subject for the winter term colloquium, and "Baroque Art" will be studied spring term.

Special guest lecturer will be announced at a later date.

Governor Quits

The governor on B. Fast's car quit working yesterday. Mr. Fast was hurrying to the DQ for an esoteric pleasure when the governor on his model A broke.

To prevent your cars' governor from quitting, give yourself plenty of time to get the DQ... you will enjoy your treat even more.
