

Puget Sound Senior Kidnapped by Pledges

A University of Puget Sound senior got a ride to San Diego last weekend and is still trying to get back.

It seems that the Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledge class at UPS chose senior Dave Garner as the recipient of their expense paid, one-way trip to San Diego State.

Garner was shuffled from pledge class to pledge class over the 1,500-mile route from Tacoma to San Diego.

UO Helps With Transportation
Oregon SAE's provided transportation from Eugene to Reno. According to Richard Clark, an Oregon pledge, several students from another campus (he was not sure which) arrived at the SAE house last weekend with Garner in tow. Several local pledges then provided a car and drove the business administration senior to Reno.

Garner Clad in Pajamas
The Associated Press report said that Garner was clad in his pajamas. Hollis Cotton, Oregon SAE president, said Garner had an overcoat when he reached Eugene.

From Reno, he was driven to Davis, Cal. and from there to Berkeley, Palo Alto, San Jose, Fresno and Santa Barbara.

Los Angeles and UCLA pledges provided the final leg of his trip and Garner arrived in San Diego Saturday night, after about 40 hours of being shuffled about.

His girl friend, Jan O'Farrell, sent him a tooth brush by special delivery Sunday.

Garner sent word back to his fraternity brothers that he has not figured out how to earn his way back yet.

Classics Series To Present Movie

"Symphonie Pastorale," based on the Nobel Prize winning novel by Andre Gide, will be shown in 150 Science today at 7 and 9 p.m.

This Film Classics Series movie is a story of faith and people told through the experiences of a pastor who befriends a blind girl.

Motivated by the purest feelings of compassion, the pastor takes the girl into his home. As the foundling grows into an attractive, intelligent woman, the pastor's blind devotion turns to selfish love.

"Symphonie Pastorale" lays bare the fallibility of man. Its prevailing theme is the conflict between the pastor's devotion to his faith and family and his unconquerable love for the girl.

Admission is 50 cents.

SU Schedules DeGaulle Movie

"The Trials of Charles DeGaulle" is being shown by the SU People-to-People Committee today at 7 p.m. in the SU.

The movie traces DeGaulle's rise to power through filmed sequences showing the coup that established the Fifth Republic in May 1958, the riots at the Barricades in January 1960, DeGaulle's violence-marked tour of Algeria a year later, and the short-lived military rebellion.

All interested students are invited to attend. Coffee will be served following the film.
