Student Productions Scheduled

Is it a fact that authors are gods and gods draw characters and characters are immortal, but gods are mortal? Do college men believe in moral responsibility? These are questions considered at the Arena Theatre this weekend where "3rd Stream Theatre"—an evening of one-act plays will be presented under the auspices of the Speech and Drama departments.

The plays are produced by a student, W. Lovell, who also authored one of the productions, Morte d'Author. Lovell has set out in his play to examine the intricate relationship between characters and their author, and before the lights subside, some very strange happenings occur. In the realm of the Theatre of the Absurd, Morte d'Author is directed by Art Little and Janet Rothwell and stars Frank Lemons, Chuck Kerr, B. W. DeVault, Art Little, and Jodi Edmundson.

Running with Morte is an Avant Garde blast by Ronald Baderman, No Basis For Sure. Concerning college men in trouble, No Basis For Sure was presented at the "Fine Arts Festival" in Portland in April where it was warmly received. The play takes a brutal look at the morals of modern college men. The play is not recommended for minors. No Basis is directed by Brett Mariott and stars Walt Shubin, Peter Owen Brown, and Doug Mathews.

Also on the program is Patio Party by Lucile Payne.

The one-acts are being presented May 21, 22, 23 at 8:00 p.m. in the Arena Theatre of Villard Hall. Advance tickets can be purchased at the ticket office for 50c from 12:00 to 5:00 daily, or purchased at the door.

Stations Airing Music Recitals

Music recitals by the University Trio will be presented over stations KOAC-TV and KOAP-TV at 9 p.m. today and May 28.

The well-known University musical group is composed of Lawrence Maves, assistant professor of violin, playing the violin; Robert Hladky, associate professor of music, playing the cello; and William Woods, pianist and assistant professor of piano.

Industry . . .

(Continued from page 1) broad categories: the technique skills and knowledge found in a particular business. Operational skills, he called, "the how to do it skills," i.e., writing, speaking, and math. And, the conceptual skills, "the how to see skills," with which managers can see relationships between themselves, their industry, the economy and where they are all going.

Business In Crises
"Today is a crucial time for American business," Pennington said. Government control and over-production are two immediate national problems facing the management of business. He believes these will be solved by the persistent efficiency, honesty, and imagination of the modern manager of industry.
