

P.S. Arizona UO's Dirtiest Foe

By PHIL SEMAS

We don't like to say this about any team but Arizona has to be the dirtiest team Oregon has played this year.

The Ducks have met big, tough teams like Penn State and Pitt but they didn't resort to roughness.

The Wildcats fought dirty. They deliberately interfered with pass receivers on several occasions and it looked at several points like a fight might break out.

The closest they came was when Webfoot defensive end Ollie McKinney and Arizona halfback Floyd Hudlow did some slapping at each other. "I guess he just didn't like me knocking him down," chuckled Ollie afterward.

But apparently the Wildcats were even worse last year.

A couple of Duck football players told us that. Maybe the Wildcats are improving. They have a long way to go.

Officiating contributed to the roughness of that game, too. Those two missed pass interference calls were the most flagrant examples of it.

The officiating wasn't unfair to either side — it was just generally bad.

An Arizona sports writer in the pressbox gave us a brief rundown on John Torok, the Arizona State quarterback who was 16 yards ahead of Bob Berry in national total offense last week.

Torok is mostly a passer and has a minus rushing total, said the writer. He's a scrambler and a good quarterback but the only time he runs is when he has no receivers open.

Oregon set a new school record of nine straight victories with that win over Arizona. Old record was eight in 1947-48.

Our prestigious prognosticator is getting downright good. We don't like to compliment him too much. Goes to his head. But he was right 12 of 17 picks this week for a 70% mark. That'll be tough to beat. His season record's good, too — 28 right, 13 wrong for a 68% mark. Maybe he should apply for a job with Sports Illustrated.

This weekend wasn't quite so balled up. No real upsets on the Coast and only a couple nationally.

Washington State Frosh 12, Oregon Frosh 6. The Cou-babes did to the Frosh what the Oregon varsity has done to its foes all season. They stopped the Ducklings inside the 10.

Oregon State 10, Idaho 7. Like we said, Idaho's a good football team. The Vandals' Ray McDonald ran up 118 yards against the Beavers' tough ground defense. OSU's Danny Espalin may have to work to keep up his great interception record when he tangles with Bob Berry and his demon receivers.

Notre Dame 24, UCLA 0. The Bruins, once Oregon's main contenders for the PAC title, are fading fast. USC and Oregon State now look like much better bets. Larry Zeno, who was supposed to be a challenger to Bob Berry and Craig Morton fumbled four times.

Washington 6, Stanford 0. The Huskies just haven't shown much on offense this year. How will they do against an Oregon defense that has stopped the likes of Penn State, Pitt and Idaho—as well as halting Arizona cold? Warning, though, the Huskies will be high for Oregon. They always are.

Washington State 16, San Jose State 14. Ken Berry's not quite the winner brother Bob is, apparently. But SJS has lost three close ones this year.

California 27, Navy 13. The Middies, with an injured Roger Staubach, are no match for the Bears with a healthy Craig Morton.

Ohio State 17, USC 0. That leaves Oregon the top team on the Coast for sure. All other teams, except Oregon State, have lost at least twice. Take note, S-I.

Nationally:
Arkansas 14, Texas 13. "Week after week upsets occur . . . Mississippi is upset, Illinois loses, Southern Cal, Auburn, all eventually meet the same fate. But not Texas." So wrote Paul Burka in the University of Texas Daily Texan. Uh-uh. It's tough to stay unbeaten. Even for Texas.

Others: Purdue 21, Michigan 20 (several games decided by one point this weekend, this one real upset) . . . Nebraska 47, Kansas State 0 (that's why Nebraska's ranked sixth) . . . Syracuse 21, Penn State 14 (that's no worse than Oregon took the Nittany Lions, a victory that looks better all the time) . . . Indiana 27, Michigan State 20 (despite their 1-3 records the Hoosiers are tough. Oregon had best take note. The duel between Berry and Rich Bdar should be good.)

In Total Offense

Berry Still Leads PAC

Oregon quarterback Bob Berry held his lead in PAC total offense as the Ducks moved up the ladder in team statistics.

Berry, with 74 yards rushing and 849 passing is 70 yards ahead of California's Craig Morton.

Oregon 14th

The Oregon Ducks, winners of five straight games this season, moved into 14th place in the UPI football poll this week. The Ducks were also listed in the "others receiving votes" category by AP. Ohio State was first in both polls, while former national leader Texas fell to sixth.

Morton has 958 yards passing but his running total is a minus 105 yards, leaving him second behind Berry.

UCLA's Larry Zeno is third with 795 yards and Oregon State's Paul Brothers fourth with 671.

Oregon is now fourth in team total offense with 1,473 yards or a 295 yards per game average. Washington State leads in total offense with 1,661 yards.

The Ducks are fifth in total defense with 1,368 yards, a 274 yards average. USC leads this category with 1,048.

The Ducks are only sixth in rushing offense with 561 yards, but stand fourth in rushing defense, giving up just 793 yards. The Ducks are second in passing, however with 67 completions in 130 throws for a .515 average, 912 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Individually, Berry is also second to Morton in passing with 64 of 120, .533 percent, and 849 yards. Morton is the leader at 81 for 134, a .604 mark and 958 yards. Berry leads in TD passes, however, 12-7.

Other Ducks in the top ten: Ray Palm, tied for fifth in scoring with 24 points and second in pass receptions with 20 for 303 yards.

Steve Bunker is fourth in scoring with 27 points and sixth in pass receptions with 15 for 180 yards.

Corky Sullivan is third in receiving with 18 catches and 228 yards.

Doug Post is seventh in punting with a 35.9 average.

324 in Mat Tourney

A record turnout of 324 intra-mural wrestlers were drawn into nine different weight brackets as the 1964 IM competition began Monday. During the '63 schedule, approximately 250 wrestlers were entered.

Heading the list of returnees are defending champions Gary Curry, Sigma Chi, at 157 lbs. and Terry Edwards, Philadelphia House, at 191.

Other competitors who placed in either last year's or the 1962 competition are Larry Pacou, Beta, second at 123 lbs. in 1963; Doug Halvorson, Phi Sigma Ep, runner-up at 147 lbs. in '63; Keith Iverson, Phi Sigma Ep, champion at 130 in 1962; and Terry Lening-er, ATO, second at 137 lbs. in '62.

The latter three are all entered in the 137 class while Pacouz is again wrestling at 123.

The 157 lb. class contains the largest number of entrants at 74 while 147 has 59 and 167 has 57.

All preliminary matches are being held in the wrestling room.
