

Weekend Church Schedules Set

By MARY ANN WAKASUGI
Emerald Religious Editor
Baha'i

Harold Bauman, visiting lecturer in history at the University, will speak on "The Cynicism of History." This will be at a special Sunday afternoon meeting at 3 p.m. in the Baha'i Center, 1458 Alder St. All interested students are invited to attend.

Friday evening at the Baha'i Center at 8 p.m. Firuz Labib will lead an informal discussion and introduction to the Baha'i World Faith. For further information students may call 344-2997.

Canterbury

"The Late Liz," starring Lyn Bari, will be shown at St. Mary's Parish Hall, 13th and Pearl, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. It is the story of a woman whose life was one controlled by alcohol, drugs, and marital strife; then changed to usefulness. An invitation is extended to all.

At the Episcopal Campus Center, Canterbury will meet for 5:30 supper Sunday. A short program, "Canterbury — an Evaluation" will follow.

Channing Club

Dr. Hyman of the psychology department will speak on extra-sensory perception at 9 p.m. Sunday in 109 SU. All who are interested are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Christian House

Christian House weekend activities begin with the annual hayride and square dance Saturday evening. The hayride will start from Christian House at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday morning study group follows a 9 o'clock coffee hour. Call Christian House, 345-3491, for rides. At 1 p.m. there will be a dinner for students who will be contacting new students on campus. Leaders are Donald Clark, Jerry Savin, and Stan Berndt.

The 5 p.m. snack supper and program will feature Francis Nickerson, associate dean of students, who will speak on "Conformity—Another Campus Idol?" There will be a sing at 9 p.m.

Tickets are now available for the annual Thanksgiving dinner for international students, sponsored jointly by Christian House and Roger Williams Fellowship. It will be held Sunday, Nov. 22, at 5 p.m. Each ticket purchased by an American student entitles him to bring an international student guest. Reservations are necessary. Call 345-3491.

Temple Beth Israel

The first in a series of programs titled "Festival of Jewish Arts and Culture" will be presented at Eugene's Temple Beth Israel, 2550 Portland St., Sunday at 8 p.m.

Robert M. Trotter, dean of the School of Music, will give a lecture-demonstration on Jewish music. The dean, a pianist, will join George Boughton, violinist, in presenting Ernest Bloch's "Ball Shem Suite." Gabriel Chodos, pianist, will perform Bloch's "Prophetic Vision."

Two additional programs will be included in the series. On Feb. 23, Sylvan N. Karchmer, professor of English, will speak on "The Jew in American Literature." On April 7 there will be an illustrated slide lecture on Jewish ceremonial objects. The speaker will be Rabbi William M. Kramer of Los Angeles. Tickets for the series are available at Gallery East in Kaufman Bros. on campus.

First Baptist Church

The COS class meets at 9:45 Sunday morning. Dunc Ferguson will speak on "Personal Relationships" in the series on the book of John.

The international reception will be at 4 p.m. Sunday. The international students, accompanied by their friendship families, will attend. All students are invited.

Andre Kimboko, COS foreign student representative, and Ken Kalina, COS president, have planned a program of music and short talks. A buffet supper will conclude the evening.

College hour will not be held this week. Next week, a guest speaker, Dr. Rodmacher of Western Theological Seminary in Portland, will speak.

Emerald Baptist

Roger Williams Fellowship will meet at 5:30 p.m. at Emerald Baptist Church, 19th and Patterson. They will present a Sunday afternoon program at a local nursing home.

There will be no supper served Sunday evening.

The class will meet at 9:45 a.m. in the Sunday church lounge.

Wesley Foundation

Students willing to participate in Work-and-Serve-Day should call Wesley Foundation, 344-1043. Rick Wood is co-ordinator.

William Cadbury of the English Department will speak on "Literary Thought in Religion" at Wesley Forum, 6 p.m. Sunday.

Westminster House

Rabbi Louis Neimand will speak at the Sunday meeting on "The Changing Jewish Community."

Devotions will be held at 7:30 Wednesday morning.
