

Famous Chinese Artist Exhibits in Art Museum

An exhibition of watercolor and gouache paintings by one of the foremost of modern Chinese artists will open at the Museum of Art at the University Tuesday.

The artist is Wong Lui-Sang, a leading painter of Hong Kong who is now living in San Francisco. Wong's paintings of landscapes, birds, flowers, animals and insects, with their poetic realism and unorthodox style hold a high place in modern Chinese art.

He has held exhibitions in Hong Kong, Singapore, Tokyo and Taiwan. At the Asian Youth Art Exhibition in 1957, he won special commendation. He received first prize in Chinese Painting from Fairfield Foundation in New York, and in 1962 he received an award at the Los Angeles Municipal Art Festival.

Wong Lui-Sang was born in tists also has lectured at the University of Southern California and Occidental College.

Library Awards Announced Soon

Student libraries will be judged this weekend in the annual student library contest sponsored by the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University Library and over $700 in prizes will be awarded at a tea Saturday in the University Library.

Prizes will be awarded to students having the best personal libraries in several categories. Money for the prizes was donated by Eugene individuals and businesses.

Several other prizes will be awarded Saturday. The annual Peter Pauper Press essay contest will give two awards, a ten-volume first prize and a five-volume second prize, both from the Peter Pauper Press.

Two other awards will be made Saturday at the All-campus Sing. The Amy Loveman Award will be given to a senior who wrote the best essay describing the building of his private library. The winner will be eligible for national competition and a $1,000 prize.

The Josephine Evans Harpham Silver Award will be given to the living organization having the best recreational reading program.

The association sponsoring the library contest also sponsors the Browsing Room lecture series at the University and has brought many exhibits of books and historical records to the University library.

The association will have a dinner meeting next Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Robert Vosper, librarian of the UCLA library, will speak. Anyone interested may attend the meeting, but must make reservations in advance at ext. 1801.

A contribution of at least $1 per year will provide membership in the association.

Ersted Award Nominations Due

Nominations for the Ersted award must be turned in to Dean of Students Donald DuShane's office by 5 p.m. today.

Nominations may be made by any student and the winner will be announced at the June commencement after judging by a faculty committee headed by DuShane.

Students may make either one or two nominations. Letters of nomination must be included.

In October, 1961, Wong exhibited his works in Washington, D.C. There, in a ceremony held at the State Department, he presented President John F. Kennedy with one of his paintings entitled "Attempting to land on the Moon."

The "Paintings by Lui-Sang-Wong" exhibition will be up in Kwangtung, China, in 1928 and began to paint before he reached the age of 20. In 1953, he was graduated from Kingnam Art College, Hong Kong, one of the foremost art institutions in Southern China.

He came to the United States in 1960 and has given one-man shows in New York, Chicago, Boston and other cities. The art Museum of Art through June 13.

Museum hours are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. The Museum is closed on Monday.

Graduate Grant Selection Opens

Competition for 1966-67 U.S. government graduate grants for academic study or research abroad, and for professional training in creative and performing arts, opened officially Saturday, May 1, according to the Institute of International Education.

The scholarships, provided by the Fulbright-Hays Act as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the department of state, will enable more than 800 American graduate students to study in any one of 55 countries.

The purpose of the scholarships is to increase mutual understanding between the U.S. and other countries through the exchange of persons, knowledge and skills.

Candidates for the scholarships must be U.S. citizens at the time of application and have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning date of the grant and be proficient in the language of the host country. Applicants will be chosen on the basis of academic or professional record, feasibility of applicant's proposed study plan and personal qualifications. Candidates without prior opportunity for extended study or residence abroad and who are under the age of 35 will be given preference.

Three types of grants will be available: U.S. government full grants, joint U.S.—other government grants, and U.S. government travel-only grants.

Grants will be available to a number of Latin American republics in several fields of study. Applicants should have an interest in and knowledge of the Latin American area or country for which they are applying. Preference will be given to single applicants who are well informed on the American political and social scene. Latin American grant candidates may be called for a personal interview.

Application forms and information may be obtained in the Office of the Graduate school, 103 Johnson Hall.

Anti-War Group Meets Tonight

At a Faculty-Student Committee to Stop the War in Viet Nam meeting at 8 p.m. tonight in room 138 Commonwealth, plans will be made to support and broadcast a national teach-in in Washington, D.C., May 15.

The teach-in will be similar to a number of protests held at individual universities across the country including the University. It will include a policy confrontation session which may include Sec. of State Dean Rusk, Sec. of Defense Robert McNamara, and chief national security adviser McGeorge Bundy.

In planning to broadcast the session, the committee will use a telephone hook-up. The meeting is open to the public.

Extra Chromosome Mongolism Cause

An extra 47th chromosome in a cell supposedly containing 46 led science to find that that the extra chromosome was a major cause of Mongolism.

Dr. Paul Rasmussen of the University medical school spoke on scientific study in mental retardation before a convention of the Oregon Assn. of Retarded Children, Inc. at the Student Union Saturday.

Rasmussen credited science probes and research with allowing specialists to view mental retardation as individual cases with individual causes.

He pointed out that studying human development in one series allows better insight, rather than fragmenting research.

The convention ended Saturday night with a talk by State Sen. Edward Fadeley, D-Eugene.

Mothers' Weekend Registration

Registration for Mothers' Weekend will be open Friday and Saturday in the SU and Carson Hall. A fee of $1 will be charged. The living organization with the highest percentage of Moms present will receive a trophy at the All-Campus Sing Saturday night.
