

Weekend Religious Activities

Baha'i
June Nichols is the leader of the Friday night fireside discussion at 8 p.m. at the Baha'i Center, 1458 Alder St.

Saturday night at 8 p.m., in commemoration of Declaration of the Bab, May 23, 1844, there will be a special meeting. The holy day is observed as the coming of the forerunner to the founder of Baha'i World Faith. "A World Faith for Modern Man" is the title of the talk to be given in Alumnae Hall on second floor, Gerlinger.

Christian House
"The Role of Communication in Marriage" is the topic of discussion at the married students' potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Charles Pyron of Continuing Education is the speaker. All married students are welcome. Each couple brings a hot dish and salad or dessert. Baby sitters will be at the Cliff Maxfield home at 768 E. 13th from 6:15 p.m.

Saturday evening the C.H. students will join Wesley Foundation at the play, "Luther." They will go to Wesley for discussion afterward. Sunday evening they will attend the concert at the School of Music. Royce Saltzman will be guest leader at the discussion to follow.

First Baptist
The Memorial Day coast trip a week from Monday begins at 8 a.m. at First Baptist Church. The class officers invite surfing fans and water babies to plan study schedules accordingly. Bring a sack lunch and fifty cents.

Sunday, May 23, at 9:45 a.m., Dunc Ferguson will be speaking on "Light and Love." The COS class meets in Harlow chapel of First Baptist Church. The 6 o'clock College Hour will be time spent in concert this week as they listen to the Prairie Bible Institute choir.

Tuesday at 9 p.m. in the Student Union Oregon Christian Fellowship presents a panel to examine dating problems and patterns on the college level, with a Christian perspective.

Students Leave For Berkeley

A group of students left by car Thursday for a "giant community meeting" to be held Friday and Saturday at the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Speakers at the mass rally dealing with the Viet Nam war, which is expected to draw a crowd of between 30,000 and 50,000 persons, will include Sen. Ernest Gruening (D-Alaska), journalist I. F. Stone, and Dr. Benjamin Spock, nationally known authority on child rearing.

The rally is being sponsored by the Federation of Teachers, local 1474.

Entertainment is being provided by The Committee, a satirical review group, and by the San Francisco Mime Troupe, among others.

Honors College Talk Features OSU Prof

J. Brookes Spencer, from the department of general sciences at Oregon State University, will present a lecture entitled "The Zeeman Effect and Early Bohr Theory" at the Honors College center at 8 p.m. Monday.
