

Applications Invited For Study in Europe

EAST LANSING, Mich. — College students interested in study in Europe during the winter, spring and summer terms are invited to apply now for Michigan State University programs beginning in 1966.

Offered by the American Language and Education Center (AMLEC) of MSU's Continuing Education Service, programs are scheduled for Paris, France; Lausanne and Neuchatel, Switzerland; Florence, Italy; Cologne, Germany; and Barcelona and Madrid, Spain.

Winter programs start Jan. 10, and the spring programs, April 18, with the exception of the Madrid course which begins April 11. The deadline for winter term applications is Dec. 10, and for spring term, March 18. Details for the summer credit and informal courses will be available soon.

The programs will feature classes in conversation, composition, grammar and reading. Participants will also visit points of historic and geographic interest, which become the topics of lectures and seminar-type discussions covering cultural, political, social and economic institutions of the country in which they are residing.

To promote the use of the foreign language and to provide themselves with opportunities to better understand their European contemporaries, American participants will attend classes and share living accommodation with students from many countries, including Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Denmark, Sweden, Switzerland and Great Britain.

A descriptive brochure and application forms can be obtained by contacting AMLEC, 58-A Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich.

Sidewalks Marred By Vandals

Several of the new sidewalks on the campus have been marred by vandals.

Wilbur Weed, physical plant superintendent, observes, "It's disgusting to think that students care so little about their campus."

Initials and other distracting marks can be seen on many of the new walks. Footprints run the length of the newly constructed driveway to Carson Hall.

Viet Nam Christmas

Gifts Can Be Sent to Servicemen Through Red Cross Airlift Plan

Cookies and candy packed in popcorn and sealed inside a coffee can or plastic container can provide a "forgotten" American serviceman in Viet Nam with a lot of Christmas cheer, says Mrs. M. C. Warren of 310 E. 14th Ave.

Mrs. Warren came up with the idea of sending Christmas gifts and greetings to American boys stationed in Viet Nam after reading about similar programs in other communities. She talked to the Lane County Chapter of the American Red Cross which suggested various gift ideas and gave her a list of 16 military addresses where things could be sent.

Packages and cards sent to the addresses will be distributed by the Red Cross field director there to servicemen who don't receive things from their family or friends.

According to the Red Cross, military authorities advise against sending perishables, except candy and cookies. Suggested gift items include books, toilet articles, razor blades, presweetened powder drinks, popcorn which can be popped in its container, small metal mirrors, and towels and wash cloths.

Also recommended as gifts are ballpoint pens, stationery kits (with self-sealing envelopes because of humidity), small pocket sets of checkers, chess, or cribbage, harmonicas, and adult jigsaw puzzles.

Packages can weigh up to five pounds under the Christmas airlift program set up by military authorities. To insure Christmas delivery, packages should go by surface mail rate to San Francisco by December 10. From there they will go by airlift. The word "airlift" should be written on the outside of the package.
