Swimmers Lose Meets

By GORDON ROSENBERG
Sports Writer

Oregon's swimming team lost dual meets to two of the nation's strongest teams last weekend in Los Angeles.

The Ducks were dumped by NCAA champion Southern California Friday, 65-30, and fell to tough UCLA, 64-30, Saturday. The losses dropped Oregon's season record to two wins and three losses.

"USC is as strong as always," stated Oregon head coach Don Van Rossen before the meet.

The Trojans proved this fact by rolling to an easy victory before their home fans. Taking nearly all of the first places, USC opened up a quick lead and left no doubt of the outcome of the meet.

Meanwhile, UCLA put together a balanced attack to overwhelm the game Ducks. Fifteen Bruins figured in the scoring, led by freestylers Jim Keller and Jim Bailey.

Keller swam to first place in the 50-yard freestyle (22.9) and anchored the Bruins crack 400-yard freestyle relay team, which took first in a good 3:23.6.

Bailey won the 100-yard freestyle (50.8), finished second to Keller in the 50-yard freestyle, and swam the opening leg for the freestyle relay team.

UCLA picked off eight of eleven firsts, without any one swimmer taking more than one.

"They are much stronger than last year," stated Van Rossen.

Holding Wins Again

Oregon's firsts went to consistent butterfly specialist Monty Holding, NCAA champion diver Larry Folinsbee, and sophomore backstroke Jud Shutts.

Holding breezed to another easy victory in the 200-yard butterfly (2:06.2), while Shutts defeated two Bruin opponents to win the 200-yard backstroke in a time of 2:15.8.

Folinsbee took an easy victory in the nine-meter diving with 227.25 points. Webfoot Don Merkt finished second with 201.05 points.

Other Bruin stand-outs were Charlie Clark—first in the 500-yard freestyle in 5:18, and Win Condict, who took third in the 200-yard backstroke and swam for both winning relay teams.

Newcomers Matty Kasvio, Dan Cove, and Paul Henne completed UCLA's first place nabbing

Water Hinders

Kasvio swept the 200-yard freestyle in 1:52, Cove took the 200-yard medley (2:10.6), and Henne won the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:24.3.

Because the Bruins' water heater in their new pool wasn't yet functioning, the water temperature was below normal. The cold water may have hurt Oregon's performance.

"The cold water affected our boys a little," commented Van Rossen. "Their team was used to it, but we weren't."

Oregon now has a week off from league competition. The Ducks host Washington Jan. 29. Meanwhile, the varsity and freshman teams take part in the Dick Strite Memorial Swimming and Diving Championships next weekend in Eugene.

Frosh Find Weekend Wins

By DAVE BARONTI
Sports Writer

The frosh basketball, wrestling and gymnastics teams — all at home last week—had at least one important thing in common:

Namely, they all went undefeated, compiling five wins (composite) against no defeats.

The hoopsters, led by the shooting and rebounding of 6-6 center Glen Campbell and 6-5 forward Jim Hannon, contributed two of the victories, trimming Lower Columbia junior college, 78-69, Friday night and then upsetting the Oregon Medical-Dental School, 88-20, 24 hours later.

Slightly less auspicious was the performance of the wrestlers against Clark junior college of Vancouver, Washington, Saturday. Three forfeits by the losers proved Clark's undoing, despite the fact that the visitors won four of the six matches run off.

Two local high schools—Sheldon and Cottage Grove—dropped meets to the gymnasts in a tri-dual affair that same day—Sheldon 55-50, and Cottage Grove 63.5-40.5. The win over Sheldon came with Wayne Noecker's defeat of Sheldon's Dave Olson in the final event on the program, the all-around.

The basketballers were ahead by only two (38-36) at halftime in their game Saturday night. The Ducklings quickly remedied that situation early in the second half by running off a string of baskets and stretching their lead to 10.

The Medical-Dental School fought back to a deadlock with six minutes left; but the lead never changed hands. . . . Campbell putting the Ducklings ahead for good at that point with a short jumper.

Hannon and Campbell paced the three-pronged Duckling scoring attack with 24—five more than teammate Rick Abramson who hit for 19. High man for the game, however, was Steve Pauly, former Oregon State standout, who played for the losers, and had 26.

Wrestlers Need Conditioning

When assistant wrestling coach Don Hoiness was preparing his freshmen for competition last week, he suspected that his group might not be in very good shape. But he didn't expect them to be as far out of condition as they were. "Everyone of them was whipped after the first round," Hoiness observed. Then he added, "we're going to do some running next week."

The biggest problem the frosh had, however, was in countering the grapevine—an important factor in each of Clark's individual wins.

The only two frosh winners—Dick Bellock, who won a 6-4 decision in 177, and Nick Shur, who registered a pin in unlimited—each nabbed an early lead, forcing their opponents to drop the grapevine and go for the pin.

Noecker Leads Frosh

Without Wayne Noecker, Dick Smith's gymnastic team probably would currently sport an 0-2 record instead of 2-0. But Wayne was there, and—to his opponents—he made that painfully evident.

Against Cottage Grove, he took firsts in the floor exercise, side horse, long horse, parallel bars and all-around. That's first in five out of the seven events. Only
